EAST LIVERPOOL. O.. THURSDAY, JUNE 16, 1898.

TWO CENTS

DONS ROUTED.

Attack Made on Their Camp at Guantanamo Harbor.

A NUMBER WERE KILLED.

MARINES AND CUBANS COMBINED.

One Marine Reported Wounded, Two Cubans Killed and Four Wounded—A Detachment of Insurgents Aided Some of the Marines on Picket Duty, Giving the Tired Men an Opportunity to Get a Muchneeded Sleep—An Attack of Spaniards Made After the Pickets Came In For Relief, Repulsed—Some of the Cubans Were With Difficulty Forced Out of the Picket Line—Guerrilla Tactics of the Spaniards.

CAMP OF THE UNITED STATES MARINES, OUTER HARBOR OF GUANTANAMO, Tuesday, June 14, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 16.—The United States marines and Cubans today attacked the Spanish camp, situated five miles from the American entrenchments. They completely routed a force of 400 Spaniards, breaking up their camp and destroying the well which supplied them with water.

One American was slightly wounded, two Cubans were killed and four Cubans were wounded.

The Spanish loss is believed to be 40 men killed. Fifteen bodies have already been discovered.

Off Santiago de Cuba, on Monday night, the dynamite guns of the Vesuvius were tested with great success. Three shots were fired at the Spanish fortifications, and it is believed great damage was done.

On Tuesday morning the New Orleans shelled and partially destroyed the new emplacements east of Morro castle.

The Spaniards fired some shots at the Vesuvius and one at the New Orleans, which was struck.

The scouting party of marines, which were sent out yesterday, returned here at 10 o'clock last night with 18 Spanish prisoners, one of them an officer. The party also captured 100 Mauser rifles and 10,000 rounds of ammunition.

They report having had a series of engagements with the Spaniards, in which 100 Spanish soldiers were killed and 200 wounded.

They also destroyed a Spanish blockhouse and telegraph station, through which the Spaniards had been keeping Guantanamo and Santiago informed of the movements of American troops.

ON BOARD THE DISPATCH BOAT DAUNTLESS, OFF GUANTANAMO BAY, Tuesday, June 14, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 16.—There was no renewal of the attack on the marines last night. They slept in the trenches with their rifles beside them, protected by a heavy picket line of insurgents and marines, under the command of Lieutenants Lenore and Smith. The pickets had strict orders not to fire unless commanded to do so. There were several alarms, but no firing during the night. In consequence the men awoke much refreshed after four days and nights of continuous work and fighting.

When the pickets came in for relief the Spanish guerrillas crept along behind them and got within 100 yards when the accidental discharge of a rifle in the trenches led them to believe they were discovered, and they opened fire with a volley which whistled harmlessly overhead. They had shot too high, as usual. The marines then scrambled from their steaming coffee and hard tack back to the trenches and met the guerrillas with a ragged but well directed rifle fire. In addition, five field pieces, mounted at angles in the trenches, and the machine guns poured a hail of bullets into the chapparel, scattering the main body of the Spaniards in all directions. Shells were dropped into their midst as they ran.

A few of the enemy stood their ground desperately on the left flank and the crack of the Mauser rifles and the "pings" of their bullets were heard rather than seen for an hour, as the smokeless powder used by the Spaniards made their location in the dense underbrush almost impossible to detect.

The Panther fired six pounders into the Spaniards while the marines were engaged in beating off the attack.

Only one man was wounded and he sustained only a slight injury on his hand. The Cubans, who acted well last night, were with difficulty forced out of the skirmish line this morning. Some of them refused to be driven even when struck by their officers with the flat of their machetes, but they were not censured. They try to work out their knowledge of the methods of the Spanish guerrillas in warfare and in and service, as guides, they are invaluable. Our men are at a great disadvantage with the guerrillas, who are past grand masters of this peculiar plan of campaign of savage rather than civilized warfare.

The men sink through the tropical undergrowth as noiselessly as shadows, some with their naked bodies concealed with palm leaves so that they are neither seen nor heard. Our men are not familiar with these tactics and awkwardly crash through the brush. The marines are seasoning rapidly. The hospital ship Solace is in Guantanamo bay with the wounded on board.

GERMANY WON'T MEDDLE.

A Positive Denial Made to the State Department by the German Officials.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The constant reports that Germany is on the eve of making a serious issue in the Philippines are unaccountable to officials here who have the most direct positive information that Germany has never contemplated such a step, and is not now moving toward its execution, either alone or with other powers. This direct information overcomes many substantial reports coming from Europe, some asserting that Germany is exchanging secret notes with other powers, others that Admiral Prince Henry and Admiral Diederichs are about to intervene at Manila, others that the German embassy here has made a protest to the state department and others that Emperor William himself is taking a personal interest in resenting the American occupation of the Philippines.

There is the highest official authority for saying that each one of these reports is groundless and they are attributed to a malicious purpose to embitter the feeling between Germany and the United States. In the main, these reports have originated outside of Germany, although one army and navy paper in Germany took them up and urged the advantage of an active German policy in the Philippines. It is held by persons who claim to be familiar with the matter that this journal is without official recognition and in no way reflects the attitude of the German government. It is more the organ of the navy, and as such shares the usual sentiment among naval classes for an aggressive use of the navy. But this policy, it is said, has never recommended itself to the German government in the present war.

The German authorities have made it clear to the state department that none of the reports attributing to Germany a purpose to make an issue in the Philippines were warranted. It has been pointed out that Germany, like all other nations, protects her citizens and interests residing abroad. But this natural and necessary protection of German citizens and German property, it is pointed out officially, is quite different from a purpose of territorial acquisition or of forcible intervention between the belligerents. As to this latter move, it is declared with the greatest positiveness that Germany has never contemplated, either alone or in conjunction with other powers.

SUCCESS ASSURED.

Another Offer Made by Bankers to Cover the New War Loan.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—If there was ever any question about the success of the new 3 per cent war loan, it has been set at rest by the way in which subscriptions are already beginning to come in at the treasury department. The assurance of the success of the loan, however, has been made absolutely certain by two propositions, each covering the entire present issue of $200,000,000.

The subscription of the National City bank, the Central Trust company and Vermyle & Co., made the day the loan was opened, was for any part of the total issue that should not be taken by the public. Another proposal was formulated the same day covering the entire amount. It came from J. Pierpont Morgan and a number of associates.

SITUATION CRITICAL.

This Report Made by the Spanish Captain General at Manila.

MADRID, June 16.—A dispatch received here from Captain General Augusti, dated Manila, June 6, says:

"The situation continues critical. The enemy surround the town. I have had our lines drawn closer around the city and strengthened at intervals by trenches. Communication is still cut. I expect General Monet with reinforcements, but I have no news from him.

"The white population of the suburbs, fearing they will be massacred by the rebels and preferring the risk of bombardment, have entered the fortified part of the town and will assist in its defense. I do not know when the bombardment will commence."

PRINCETON, N. J., June 16.—At the commencement exercises of Princeton university yesterday Admiral Dewey was honored with a degree of LL. D.

REBELS HELPING.

Cubans Co-Operating With Sampson's Forces.

A FINE MILITARY STROKE.

GOOD PLACE TO LAND TROOPS.

It Was the Execution of a Plan Arranged in Washington Some Weeks Ago, When the Staff Officers of General Garcia Went to Washington to Confer With General Miles—General Garcia Also Co-Operating With the American Forces, According to a Dispatch From Sampson—Cubans Have Also Aided the Marines, Who Are Encamped at Crest Hill—Reinforcements For the Spanish Believed to Be Cut Off.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The news that the little band of American marines who had planted the flag on Crest hill and were defending it night and day against heavy odds were not only safe, but were strongly reinforced by 1,500 Cubans from the commands of Garcia and Rabbi and were now strong enough to more than hold their own, was welcome news to the navy department. It was disclosed in a dispatch from Admiral Sampson, received yesterday, and brought much relief to naval officials. The early reports had indicated that the marines were surrounded, and it was feared that they might be compelled to return to the ships before General Shafter's invading army reached there. The coming of the Cuban forces seems to have been in the nick of time, and naval officials give the fullest credit to the timeliness of this Cuban co-operation.

The admiral's dispatch stated that the condition of the marines was "entirely satisfactory," which assurance, although brief was enough to relieve officials here of the fears they had entertained. But probably the most significant feature of the admiral's dispatch was the statement that the Cuban General Rabbi had occupied Acerraderos, only eight miles from Santiago, and practically a suburb of that Spanish stronghold. It was the execution of a plan arranged in Washington, some weeks ago, when two of the staff officers of General Garcia came here to confer with General Miles. At that time Garcia and Rabbi were at Bayamo, in the western part of Santiago province, and more than 100 miles northwest of Santiago de Cuba. Admiral Sampson's dispatch showed that Rabbi and his force has made a complete circuit of Santiago de Cuba, and coming up to the south of it has occupied Acerraderos.

This is looked upon as a fine military stroke, for Acerraderos is the port where iron wharves will afford facilities for unloading the heavy artillery carried by General Shafter's invading expedition. The news also indicated to the authorities here that the Spanish garrison at Santiago has practically retreated inside the city proper, giving up the outlying towns. Admiral Sampson also states that General Garcia is co-operating with the American forces. Whether this means that Garcia himself has arrived from Bayamo is not quite clear, but if he has, the joint forces of Garcia and Rabbi will make 3,000 to 5,000 seasoned Cubans, recently armed with Springfield, as a bushwhacking guerrilla force to aid the American troops. From sources other than the dispatch of Admiral Sampson, the navy department has been informed that 500 Cubans were rendering efficient aid to the marines at Crest Hill. Now that Rabbi and Garcia are on the scene this 500 may be swelled to thousands.

In making his march Rabbi has crossed the line of communication between the Spanish commander, General Pando, at Holguin and the Spanish forces at Santiago de Cuba. This feat makes it clear that Santiago is not likely to get reinforcements from General Pando. In circling around Santiago to reach Acerraderos Rabbi, it is believed here, has also established it as a fact that the lines of communication and relief to Santiago are interrupted and practically cut off in all directions.

ANNEXATION PASSED.

The Hawaiian Bill Went Through the House by a Vote of 209 to 91.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—By a vote of 209 to 91 the house of representatives yesterday afternoon adopted the Newlands resolution providing for the annexation of Hawaii. The debate, which has continued without interruption since Saturday, has been one of the most notable of this congress, the proposed annexation being considered of great commercial and strategic importance by its advocates and being looked upon by its opponents as involving a radical departure from the long established policy of this country and likely to be followed by the inauguration of a pronounced policy of colonization, the abandonment of the Monroe doctrine and participation in international wrangles.

More than half a hundred members participated in the debate. From a party standpoint the result was awaited with the keenest interest. The Republicans presented practically a unanimous support to the resolutions, but three Republicans voting in opposition. In the Democratic ranks the division upon the question was more marked, 18 Democrats voting for annexation.

The vote in support of the resolutions was made up of 179 Republicans, 18 Democrats, 8 Populists and 4 Fusionists; the vote against annexation comprised 77 Democrats, 3 Republicans, 7 Populists and 4 Fusionists.

A CHURCH CELEBRATION.

Centennial of the Oldest Presbyterian Church in Eastern Ohio Held at St. Clairsville.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, June 16.—The Presbyterian church of this town, the oldest in Eastern Ohio, celebrated its centennial yesterday. A large crowd was present at all of the three services. Rev. Robert Alexander, D. D., the pastor, read the historical address. Hon. J. W. Hollingsworth extended the greeting from the community and Rev. Thomas Ralph, D. D., the greeting from the sister churches. Rev. W. V. Mulligan of Cambridge delivered the greeting from the presbytery of St. Clairsville. Many interesting addresses were delivered.

The present pastor has filled the pulpit 30 years and has never missed a single service. The church was organized by Dr. John M. Millan, a pioneer minister of Western Pennsylvania, and for 30 years it bore the name of Richland. The first church was a log cabin. Ten years later a big church took its place. In 1822 a brick building was erected, but it was destroyed by fire in 1841. The church that was built then was wrecked by a tornado in 1887, when a new and beautiful church was built.

The pastors have been Rev. Joseph Anderson, the first Presbyterian minister ordained west of the Ohio river; Rev. Joseph Smith author of "Old Redstone"; Rev. James Alexander, Rev. John Moffatt and Rev. Dr. R. Campbell. Rev. Alexander Logan, Rev. William Fuller, Rev. T. J. Gordon, Rev. James Kerr, Rev. John McCluskey and Rev. William Work have supplied the church at different times.

Will Drop Sunday Games.

YOUNGSTOWN, June 16.—The pro and con of Sunday baseball agitation is stirring this city nightly. A big meeting was held yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. building by representatives of the Christian Endeavor societies, the Epworth League, the Ministerial association and the Y. M. C. A. A resolution was passed to employ legal talent at once and proceed against the Youngstown Baseball club, and Marshal Rees of Girard. Some of the directors of the club have threatened to break it up if the other directors persist in Sunday games. The directors met last night and decided to have no more of it at home.

Next Democratic Convention.

COLUMBUS, June 16.—The time and place of the next Democratic state convention was fixed yesterday at Dayton, Aug. 23 and 24. Judge Allen V. Smalley, Upper Sandusky, was chosen temporary chairman.

15 REGIMENTS MAY LEAVE.

Report Current at Chickamauga—Y. M. C. A. Distributing Hymn Books.

CHICKAMAUGA PARK, Ga., June 16.—The report that 15 regiments are to leave Camp Thomas for Tampa during the next few days was the main subject of interest in the camp yesterday and it is being eagerly discussed by both officers and men. It is impossible to confirm the report, as the army officials refuse to discuss it, but nearly every man in camp now believes it.

The Y. M. C. A. authorities here have ordered four more large brigade tents for use in the army. Before the end of the week every man in the army will be supplied with a hymn book by these workers. A supply of 45,000 books has been received.

Dr. C. R. Gill, from the American Red Cross society, arrived yesterday, with credentials and a letter from Secretary of War Alger, addressed to Chief Surgeon Hartsuff. Dr. Gill will today establish a regular station of the society here and last night notified a number of the commanding officers of regiments that he would be able at once to furnish delicacies, milk, etc., to sick soldiers.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—An authoritative statement was made at the war department yesterday contradicting the reports from Chickamauga that 15,000 troops have been ordered to move at once.

An Episcopal Convention.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 16.—The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in the diocese of Central Pennsylvania met in St. Luke's church, this city, yesterday. Over 200 clerical and lay delegates were present. One of the most important matters to be decided by the convention is the question of dividing the diocese into two parts by an east and west line. As it is, the diocese includes half the state and many of the delegates favor the division.

A THIRD FORCE.

Arranging to Send More Reinforcements to Dewey.

FOUR SHIPS ABOUT READY.

ABOUT 3,500 MEN WERE CARRIED.

This Number Distributed Among Four Vessels—The Tenth Pennsylvania on the Zealandia, With Part of Battery B of the Utah Volunteer Artillery—Two Maxim Rapidfire Guns Were Placed in the Bow of the Vessel, Ready For Action—Many People Assembled Along the Docks to Witness the Departure of the Fleet—The Transports on Reaching the Ocean Headed For Honolulu. Will Recol at That Port.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Arrangements are now being made for the sailing of the third expedition. It is believed the fleet will be ready by June 25. Thus far the steamers Indiana, Ohio, Morgan City, City of Para and three Northern Pacific boats have been chartered. The first four vessels are about ready to receive troops and the three Northern Pacific steamers are now on the way here from Seattle.

Anchor was weighed by the second Philippine expedition about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. As the sun was setting the last transport passed out of the Golden Gate and, led by the flagship China, the fleet stood away toward Honolulu. At that port the vessels will recol.

The expedition carried about 3,500 men, distributed among four vessels, as follows:

Assigned to the China, General Greene's flagship, the largest and fastest vessel of the fleet, were the First regiment Colorado volunteer infantry, 1,032 men; half a battalion of the Eighteenth United States infantry, 150 men, and a detachment of United States engineers, 20 men.

The Colon took four companies of the Twenty-third infantry and two companies of the Eighteenth infantry, both of the regular army, and Battery A of the Utah artillery. In the battery were 12 men and in each of the infantry companies 75 men, besides the officers, making less than 600 military passengers. The control of the ship was given to Lieutenant Colonel Clarence W. Bailey of the Eighteenth infantry.

On the Zealandia were the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers and part of Battery B of the Utah volunteer artillery. Two Maxim rapidfire guns were placed ready for action in the bow of the vessel. In all there were 640 privates and 60 officers on board.

On the steamer Senator is the First regiment of Nebraska volunteers, numbering 1,023 men and officers.

Thousands of people assembled along the docks to witness the departure of the fleet and when the signals ordering the vessels to get under way were observed a mighty cheer went up.

Some of the vessels in the harbor blew long blasts from their sirens, and many factories and mills in the manufacturing district saluted the vessels with blasts from their whistles. Bombs were exploded and cannon were fired, and the four vessels bearing loads of humanity and munitions of war passed down the bay.

The afternoon was well nigh gone when the transports reached the ocean and headed for Honolulu.

CAMP OF THE UNITED STATES MARINES, OUTER HARBOR OF GUANTANAMO, Tuesday, June 14, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 16.—The United States marines and Cubans today attacked the Spanish camp, situated five miles from the American entrenchments. They completely routed a force of 400 Spaniards, breaking up their camp and destroying the well which supplied them with water.

One American was slightly wounded, two Cubans were killed and four Cubans were wounded.

The Spanish loss is believed to be 40 men killed. Fifteen bodies have already been discovered.

Off Santiago de Cuba, on Monday night, the dynamite guns of the Vesuvius were tested with great success. Three shots were fired at the Spanish fortifications, and it is believed great damage was done.

On Tuesday morning the New Orleans shelled and partially destroyed the new emplacements east of Morro castle.

The Spaniards fired some shots at the Vesuvius and one at the New Orleans, which was struck.

The scouting party of marines, which were sent out yesterday, returned here at 10 o'clock last night with 18 Spanish prisoners, one of them an officer. The party also captured 100 Mauser rifles and 10,000 rounds of ammunition.

They report having had a series of engagements with the Spaniards, in which 100 Spanish soldiers were killed and 200 wounded.

They also destroyed a Spanish block-house and telegraph station, through which the Spaniards had been keeping Guantanamo and Santiago informed of the movements of American troops.

ON BOARD THE DISPATCH BOAT DAUNTLESS, OFF GUANTANAMO BAY, Tuesday, June 14, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 16.—There was no renewal of the attack on the marines last night. They slept in the trenches with their rifles beside them, protected by a heavy picket line of insurgents and marines, under the command of Lieutenants Lenore and Smith. The pickets had strict orders not to fire unless commanded to do so. There were several alarms, but no firing during the night. ## GERMANY WON'T MEDDLE.

A Positive Denial Made to the State Department by the German Officials.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The constant reports that Germany is on the eve of making a serious issue in the Philippines are unaccountable to officials here who have the most direct positive information that Germany has never contemplated such a step, and is not now moving toward its execution, either alone or with other powers. This direct information overcomes many substantial reports coming from Europe, some asserting that Germany is exchanging secret notes with other powers, others that Admiral Prince Henry and Admiral Diederichs are about to intervene at Manila, others that the German embassy here has made a protest to the state department and others that Emperor William himself is taking a personal interest in resenting the American occupation of the Philippines.

There is the highest official authority for saying that each one of these reports is groundless and they are attributed to a malicious purpose to embitter the feeling between Germany and the United States. In the main, these reports have originated outside of Germany, although one army and navy paper in Germany took them up and urged the advantage of an active German policy in the Philippines. It is held by persons who claim to be familiar with the matter that this journal is without official recognition and in no way reflects the attitude of the German government. It is more the organ of the navy, and as such shares the usual sentiment among naval classes for an aggressive use of the navy. But this policy, it is said, has never recommended itself to the German government in the present war.

The German authorities have made it clear to the state department that none of the reports attributing to Germany a purpose to make an issue in the Philippines were warranted. It has been pointed out that Germany, like all other nations, protects her citizens and interests residing abroad. But this natural and necessary protection of German citizens and German property, it is pointed out officially, is quite different from a purpose of territorial acquisition or of forcible intervention between the belligerents. As to this latter move, it is declared with the greatest positiveness that Germany has never contemplated, either alone or in conjunction with other powers.

SUCCESS ASSURED.

Another Offer Made by Bankers to Cover the New War Loan.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—If there was ever any question about the success of the new 3 per cent war loan, it has been set at rest by the way in which subscriptions are already beginning to come in at the treasury department. The assurance of the success of the loan, however, has been made absolutely certain by two propositions, each covering the entire present issue of $200,000,000.

The subscription of the National City bank, the Central Trust company and Vermyle & Co., made the day the loan was opened, was for any part of the total issue that should not be taken by the public. Another proposal was formulated the same day covering the entire amount. It came from J. Pierpont Morgan and a number of associates.

SITUATION CRITICAL.

This Report Made by the Spanish Captain General at Manila.

MADRID, June 16.—A dispatch received here from Captain General Augusti, dated Manila, June 6, says:

"The situation continues critical. The enemy surround the town. I have had our lines drawn closer around the city and strengthened at intervals by trenches. Communication is still cut. I expect General Monet with reinforcements, but I have no news from him.

"The white population of the suburbs, fearing they will be massacred by the rebels and preferring the risk of bombardment, have entered the fortified part of the town and will assist in its defense. I do not know when the bombardment will commence."

REBELS HELPING.

Cubans Co-Operating With Sampson's Forces.

A FINE MILITARY STROKE.

GOOD PLACE TO LAND TROOPS.

It Was the Execution of a Plan Arranged in Washington Some Weeks Ago, When the Staff Officers of General Garcia Went to Washington to Confer With General Miles—General Garcia Also Co-Operating With the American Forces, According to a Dispatch From Sampson—Cubans Have Also Aided the Marines, Who Are Encamped at Crest Hill—Reinforcements For the Spanish Believed to Be Cut Off.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The news that the little band of American marines who had planted the flag on Crest hill and were defending it night and day against heavy odds were not only safe, but were strongly reinforced by 1,500 Cubans from the commands of Garcia and Rabbi and were now strong enough to more than hold their own, was welcome news to the navy department. It was disclosed in a dispatch from Admiral Sampson, received yesterday, and brought much relief to naval officials. The early reports had indicated that the marines were surrounded, and it was feared that they might be compelled to return to the ships before General Shafter's invading army reached there. The coming of the Cuban forces seems to have been in the nick of time, and naval officials give the fullest credit to the timeliness of this Cuban co-operation.

The admiral's dispatch stated that the condition of the marines was "entirely satisfactory," which assurance, although brief was enough to relieve officials here of the fears they had entertained. But probably the most significant feature of the admiral's dispatch was the statement that the Cuban General Rabbi had occupied Acerraderos, only eight miles from Santiago, and practically a suburb of that Spanish stronghold. It was the execution of a plan arranged in Washington, some weeks ago, when two of the staff officers of General Garcia came here to confer with General Miles. At that time Garcia and Rabbi were at Bayamo, in the western part of Santiago province, and more than 100 miles northwest of Santiago de Cuba. Admiral Sampson's dispatch showed that Rabbi and his force has made a complete circuit of Santiago de Cuba, and coming up to the south of it has occupied Acerraderos.

This is looked upon as a fine military stroke, for Acerraderos is the port where iron wharves will afford facilities for unloading the heavy artillery carried by General Shafter's invading expedition. The news also indicated to the authorities here that the Spanish garrison at Santiago has practically retreated inside the city proper, giving up the outlying towns. Admiral Sampson also states that General Garcia is co-operating with the American forces. Whether this means that Garcia himself has arrived from Bayamo is not quite clear, but if he has, the joint forces of Garcia and Rabbi will make 3,000 to 5,000 seasoned Cubans, recently armed with Springfield, as a bushwhacking guerrilla force to aid the American troops. From sources other than the dispatch of Admiral Sampson, the navy department has been informed that 500 Cubans were rendering efficient aid to the marines at Crest Hill. Now that Rabbi and Garcia are on the scene this 500 may be swelled to thousands.

In making his march Rabbi has crossed the line of communication between the Spanish commander, General Pando, at Holguin and the Spanish forces at Santiago de Cuba. This feat makes it clear that Santiago is not likely to get reinforcements from General Pando. In circling around Santiago to reach Acerraderos Rabbi, it is believed here, has also established it as a fact that the lines of communication and relief to Santiago are interrupted and practically cut off in all directions.

ANNEXATION PASSED.

The Hawaiian Bill Went Through the House by a Vote of 209 to 91.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—By a vote of 209 to 91 the house of representatives yesterday afternoon adopted the Newlands resolution providing for the annexation of Hawaii. The debate, which has continued without interruption since Saturday, has been one of the most notable of this congress, the proposed annexation being considered of great commercial and strategic importance by its advocates and being looked upon by its opponents as involving a radical departure from the long established policy of this country and likely to be followed by the inauguration of a pronounced policy of colonization, the abandonment of the Monroe doctrine and participation in international wrangles.

More than half a hundred members participated in the debate. From a party standpoint the result was awaited with the keenest interest. The Republicans presented practically a unanimous support to the resolutions, but three Republicans voting in opposition. In the Democratic ranks the division upon the question was more marked, 18 Democrats voting for annexation.

The vote in support of the resolutions was made up of 179 Republicans, 18 Democrats, 8 Populists and 4 Fusionists; the vote against annexation comprised 77 Democrats, 3 Republicans, 7 Populists and 4 Fusionists.

A CHURCH CELEBRATION.

Centennial of the Oldest Presbyterian Church in Eastern Ohio Held at St. Clairsville.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, June 16.—The Presbyterian church of this town, the oldest in Eastern Ohio, celebrated its centennial yesterday. A large crowd was present at all of the three services. Rev. Robert Alexander, D. D., the pastor, read the historical address. Hon. J. W. Hollingsworth extended the greeting from the community and Rev. Thomas Balph, D. D., the greeting from the sister churches. Rev. W. V. Milligan of Cambridge delivered the greeting from the presbytery of St. Clairsville. Many interesting addresses were delivered.

The present pastor has filled the pulpit 30 years and has never missed a single service. The church was organized by Dr. John McMillan, a pioneer minister of Western Pennsylvania, and for 30 years it bore the name of Richland. The first church was a log cabin. Ten years later a big church took its place. In 1822 a brick building was erected, but it was destroyed by fire in 1841. The church that was built then was wrecked by a tornado in 1887, when a new and beautiful church was built.

The pastors have been Rev. Joseph Anderson, the first Presbyterian minister ordained west of the Ohio river; Rev. Joseph Smith author of "Old Redstone"; Rev. James Alexander, Rev. John Moffatt and Rev. Dr. R. Campbell. Rev. Alexander Logan, Rev. William Fuller, Rev. T. J. Gordon, Rev. James Kerr, Rev. John McCluskey and Rev. William Work have supplied the church at different times.

Will Drop Sunday Games.

YOUNGSTOWN, June 16.—The pro and con of Sunday baseball agitation is stirring this city nightly. A big meeting was held yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. building by representatives of the Christian Endeavor societies, the Epworth League, the Ministerial association and the Y. M. C. A. A resolution was passed to employ legal talent at once and proceed against the Youngstown Baseball club, and Marshal Rees of Girard. Some of the directors of the club have threatened to break it up if the other directors persist in Sunday games. The directors met last night and decided to have no more of it at home.

Next Democratic Convention.

COLUMBUS, June 16.—The time and place of the next Democratic state convention was fixed yesterday at Dayton, Aug. 23 and 24. Judge Allen V. Smalley, Upper Sandusky, was chosen temporary chairman.

15 REGIMENTS MAY LEAVE.

Report Current at Chickamauga—Y. M. C. A. Distributing Hymn Books.

CHICKAMAUGA PARK, Ga., June 16.—The report that 15 regiments are to leave Camp Thomas for Tampa during the next few days was the main subject of interest in the camp yesterday and it is being eagerly discussed by both officers and men. It is impossible to confirm the report, as the army officials refuse to discuss it, but nearly every man in camp now believes it.

The Y. M. C. A. authorities here have ordered four more large brigade tents for use in the army. Before the end of the week every man in the army will be supplied with a hymn book by these workers. A supply of 45,000 books has been received.

Dr. C. R. Gill, from the American Red Cross society, arrived yesterday, with credentials and a letter from Secretary of War Alger, addressed to Chief Surgeon Hartshuff. Dr. Gill will today establish a regular station of the society here and last night notified a number of the commanding officers of regiments that he would be able at once to furnish delicacies, milk, etc., to sick soldiers.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—An authoritative statement was made at the war department yesterday contradicting the reports from Chickamauga that 15,000 troops have been ordered to move at once.

An Episcopal Convention.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 16.—The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in the diocese of Central Pennsylvania met in St. Luke's church, this city, yesterday. Over 200 clerical and lay delegates were present. One of the most important matters to be decided by the convention is the question of dividing the diocese into two parts by an east and west line. As it is, the diocese includes half the state and many of the delegates favor the division.

A THIRD FORCE.

FOUR SHIPS ABOUT READY.

ABOUT 3,500 MEN WERE CARRIED.

This Number Distributed Among Four Vessels—The Tenth Pennsylvania on the Zealandia, With Part of Battery B of the Utah Volunteer Artillery—Two Maxim Rapidfire Guns Were Placed in the Bow of the Vessel, Ready For Action—Many People Assembled Along the Docks to Witness the Departure of the Fleet—The Transports on Reaching the Ocean Headed For Honolulu. Will Recol at That Port.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Arrangements are now being made for the sailing of the third expedition. It is believed the fleet will be ready by June 25. Thus far the steamers Indiana, Ohio, Morgan City, City of Para and three Northern Pacific boats have been chartered. The first four vessels are about ready to receive troops and the three Northern Pacific steamers are now on the way here from Seattle.

Anchor was weighed by the second Philippine expedition about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. As the sun was setting the last transport passed out of the Golden Gate and, led by the flagship China, the fleet stood away toward Honolulu. At that port the vessels will recol.

The expedition carried about 3,500 men, distributed among four vessels, as follows:

Assigned to the China, General Greene's flagship, the largest and fastest vessel of the fleet, were the First regiment Colorado volunteer infantry, 1,022 men; half a battalion of the Eighteenth United States infantry, 150 men, and a detachment of United States engineers, 20 men.

The Colon took four companies of the Twenty-third infantry and two companies of the Eighteenth infantry, both of the regular army, and Battery A of the Utah artillery. In the battery were 12 men and in each of the infantry companies 75 men, besides the officers, making less than 600 military passengers. The control of the ship was given to Lieutenant Colonel Clarence W. Bailey of the Eighteenth infantry.

On the Zealandia were the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers and part of Battery B of the Utah volunteer artillery. Two Maxim rapidfire guns were placed ready for action in the bow of the vessel. In all there were 640 privates and 60 officers on board.

On the steamer Senator is the First regiment of Nebraska volunteers, numbering 1,023 men and officers.

Thousands of people assembled along the docks to witness the departure of the fleet and when the signals ordering the vessels to get under way were observed a mighty cheer went up.

Some of the vessels in the harbor blew long blasts from their sirens, and many factories and mills in the manufacturing district saluted the vessels with blasts from their whistles. Bombs were exploded and cannon were fired, and the four vessels bearing loads of humanity and munitions of war passed down the bay.

The afternoon was well nigh gone when the transports reached the ocean and headed for Honolulu.

DONS ROUTED.

Attack Made on Their Camp at Guantanamo Harbor.

A NUMBER WERE KILLED.

MARINES AND CUBANS COMBINED.

One Marine Reported Wounded, Two Cubans Killed and Four Wounded—A Detachment of Insurgents Aided Some of the Marines on Picket Duty, Giving the Tired Men an Opportunity to Get a Muchneeded Sleep—An Attack of Spaniards Made After the Pickets Came In For Relief, Repulsed—Some of the Cubans Were With Difficulty Forced Out of the Picket Line—Guerrilla Tactics of the Spaniards.

CAMP OF THE UNITED STATES MARINES, OUTER HARBOR OF GUANTANAMO, Tuesday, June 14, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 16.—The United States marines and Cubans today attacked the Spanish camp, situated five miles from the American entrenchments. They completely routed a force of 400 Spaniards, breaking up their camp and destroying the well which supplied them with water.

One American was slightly wounded, two Cubans were killed and four Cubans were wounded.

The Spanish loss is believed to be 40 men killed. Fifteen bodies have already been discovered.

Off Santiago de Cuba, on Monday night, the dynamite guns of the Vesuvius were tested with great success. Three shots were fired at the Spanish fortifications, and it is believed great damage was done.

On Tuesday morning the New Orleans shelled and partially destroyed the new emplacements east of Morro castle.

The Spaniards fired some shots at the Vesuvius and one at the New Orleans, which was struck.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The following dispatch is a Journal special from Camp McCalla, Guantanamo harbor, June 15: The scouting party of marines, which were sent out yesterday, returned here at 10 o'clock last night with 18 Spanish prisoners, one of them an officer. The party also captured 100 Mauser rifles and 10,000 rounds of ammunition.

They report having had a series of engagements with the Spaniards, in which 100 Spanish soldiers were killed and 200 wounded.

They also destroyed a Spanish blockhouse and telegraph station, through which the Spaniards had been keeping Guantanamo and Santiago informed of the movements of American troops.

ON BOARD THE DISPATCH BOAT DAUNTLESS, OFF GUANTANAMO BAY, Tuesday, June 14, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 16.—There was no renewal of the attack on the marines last night. They slept in the trenches with their rifles beside them, protected by a heavy picket line of insurgents and marines, under the command of Lieutenants Lenore and Smith. The pickets had strict orders not to fire unless commanded to do so. There were several alarms, but no firing during the night. In consequence the men awoke much refreshed after four days and nights of continuous work and fighting.

When the pickets came in for relief the Spanish guerrillas crept along behind them and got within 100 yards when the accidental discharge of a rifle in the trenches led them to believe they were discovered, and they opened fire with a volley which whistled harmlessly overhead. They had shot too high, as usual. The marines then scrambled from their steaming coffee and hard tack back to the trenches and met the guerrillas with a ragged but well directed rifle fire. In addition, five field pieces, mounted at angles in the trenches, and the machine guns poured a hail of bullets into the chapparel, scattering the main body of the Spaniards in all directions. Shells were dropped into their midst as they ran.

A few of the enemy stood their ground desperately on the left flank and the crack of the Mauser rifles and the "pings" of their bullets were heard rather than seen for an hour, as the smokeless powder used by the Spaniards made their location in the dense underbrush almost impossible to detect.

The Panther fired six pounders into the Spaniards while the marines were engaged in beating off the attack.

Only one man was wounded and he sustained only a slight injury on his hand. The Cubans, who acted well last night, were with difficulty forced out of the skirmish line this morning. Some of them refused to be driven even when struck by their officers with the flat of their machetes, but they were not censured. They try to work out their knowledge of the methods of the Spanish guerrillas in warfare and in and service, as guides, they are invaluable. Our men are at a great disadvantage with the guerrillas, who are past grand masters of this peculiar plan of campaign of savage rather than civilized warfare.

The men sink through the tropical undergrowth as noiselessly as shadows, some with their naked bodies concealed with palm leaves so that they are neither seen nor heard. Our men are not familiar with these tactics and awkwardly crash through the brush. The marines are seasoning rapidly. The hospital ship Solace is in Guantanamo bay with the wounded on board.

GERMANY WON'T MEDDLE.

A Positive Denial Made to the State Department by the German Officials.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The constant reports that Germany is on the eve of making a serious issue in the Philippines are unaccountable to officials here who have the most direct positive information that Germany has never contemplated such a step, and is not now moving toward its execution, either alone or with other powers. This direct information overcomes many substantial reports coming from Europe, some asserting that Germany is exchanging secret notes with other powers, others that Admiral Prince Henry and Admiral Diederichs are about to intervene at Manila, others that the German embassy here has made a protest to the state department and others that Emperor William himself is taking a personal interest in resenting the American occupation of the Philippines.

There is the highest official authority for saying that each one of these reports is groundless and they are attributed to a malicious purpose to embitter the feeling between Germany and the United States. In the main, these reports have originated outside of Germany, although one army and navy paper in Germany took them up and urged the advantage of an active German policy in the Philippines. It is held by persons who claim to be familiar with the matter that this journal is without official recognition and in no way reflects the attitude of the German government. It is more the organ of the navy, and as such shares the usual sentiment among naval classes for an aggressive use of the navy. But this policy, it is said, has never recommended itself to the German government in the present war.

The German authorities have made it clear to the state department that none of the reports attributing to Germany a purpose to make an issue in the Philippines were warranted. It has been pointed out that Germany, like all other nations, protects her citizens and interests residing abroad. But this natural and necessary protection of German citizens and German property, it is pointed out officially, is quite different from a purpose of territorial acquisition or of forcible intervention between the belligerents. As to this latter move, it is declared with the greatest positiveness that Germany has never contemplated, either alone or in conjunction with other powers.

SUCCESS ASSURED.

Another Offer Made by Bankers to Cover the New War Loan.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—If there was ever any question about the success of the new 3 per cent war loan, it has been set at rest by the way in which subscriptions are already beginning to come in at the treasury department. The assurance of the success of the loan, however, has been made absolutely certain by two propositions, each covering the entire present issue of $200,000,000.

The subscription of the National City bank, the Central Trust company and Vermyle & Co., made the day the loan was opened, was for any part of the total issue that should not be taken by the public. Another proposal was formulated the same day covering the entire amount. It came from J. Pierpont Morgan and a number of associates.

SITUATION CRITICAL.

This Report Made by the Spanish Captain General at Manila.

MADRID, June 16.—A dispatch received here from Captain General Augusti, dated Manila, June 6, says:

"The situation continues critical. The enemy surround the town. I have had our lines drawn closer around the city and strengthened at intervals by trenches. Communication is still cut. I expect General Monet with reinforcements, but I have no news from him."

"The white population of the suburbs, fearing they will be massacred by the rebels and preferring the risk of bombardment, have entered the fortified part of the town and will assist in its defense. I do not know when the bombardment will commence."

REBELS HELPING.

Cubans Co-Operating With Sampson's Forces.

A FINE MILITARY STROKE.

GOOD PLACE TO LAND TROOPS.

It Was the Execution of a Plan Arranged in Washington Some Weeks Ago. When the Staff Officers of General Garcia Went to Washington to Confer With General Miles—General Garcia Also Co-Operating With the American Forces, According to a Dispatch From Sampson—Cubans Have Also Aided the Marines, Who Are Encamped at Crest Hill—Reinforcements For the Spanish Believed to Be Cut Off.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The news that the little band of American marines who had planted the flag on Crest hill and were defending it night and day against heavy odds were not only safe, but were strongly reinforced by 1,500 Cubans from the commands of Garcia and Rabbi and were now strong enough to more than hold their own, was welcome news to the navy department. It was disclosed in a dispatch from Admiral Sampson, received yesterday, and brought much relief to naval officials. The early reports had indicated that the marines were surrounded, and it was feared that they might be compelled to return to the ships before General Shafter's invading army reached there. The coming of the Cuban forces seems to have been in the nick of time, and naval officials give the fullest credit to the timeliness of this Cuban co-operation.

The admiral's dispatch stated that the condition of the marines was "entirely satisfactory," which assurance, although brief was enough to relieve officials here of the fears they had entertained. But probably the most significant feature of the admiral's dispatch was the statement that the Cuban General Rabbi had occupied Acerraderos, only eight miles from Santiago, and practically a suburb of that Spanish stronghold. It was the execution of a plan arranged in Washington, some weeks ago, when two of the staff officers of General Garcia came here to confer with General Miles. At that time Garcia and Rabbi were at Bayamo, in the western part of Santiago province, and more than 100 miles northwest of Santiago de Cuba. Admiral Sampson's dispatch showed that Rabbi and his force has made a complete circuit of Santiago de Cuba, and coming up to the south of it has occupied Acerraderos.

This is looked upon as a fine military stroke, for Acerraderos is the port where iron wharves will afford facilities for unloading the heavy artillery carried by General Shafter's invading expedition. The news also indicated to the authorities here that the Spanish garrison at Santiago has practically retreated inside the city proper, giving up the outlying towns. Admiral Sampson also states that General Garcia is co-operating with the American forces. Whether this means that Garcia himself has arrived from Bayamo is not quite clear, but if he has, the joint forces of Garcia and Rabbi will make 3,000 to 5,000 seasoned Cubans, recently armed with Springfields, as a bushwhacking guerrilla force to aid the American troops. From sources other than the dispatch of Admiral Sampson, the navy department has been informed that 500 Cubans were rendering efficient aid to the marines at Crest Hill. Now that Rabbi and Garcia are on the scene this 500 may be swelled to thousands.

In making his march Rabbi has crossed the line of communication between the Spanish commander, General Pando, at Holguin and the Spanish forces at Santiago de Cuba. This feat makes it clear that Santiago is not likely to get reinforcements from General Pando. In circling around Santiago to reach Acerraderos Rabbi, it is believed here, has also established it as a fact that the lines of communication and relief to Santiago are interrupted and practically cut off in all directions.

ANNEXATION PASSED.

The Hawaiian Bill Went Through the House by a Vote of 209 to 91.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—By a vote of 209 to 91 the house of representatives yesterday afternoon adopted the Newlands resolution providing for the annexation of Hawaii. The debate, which has continued without interruption since Saturday, has been one of the most notable of this congress, the proposed annexation being considered of great commercial and strategic importance by its advocates and being looked upon by its opponents as involving a radical departure from the long established policy of this country and likely to be followed by the inauguration of a pronounced policy of colonization, the abandonment of the Monroe doctrine and participation in international wrangles.

More than half a hundred members participated in the debate. From a party standpoint the result was awaited with the keenest interest. The Republicans presented practically a unanimous support to the resolutions, but three Republicans voting in opposition. In the Democratic ranks the division upon the question was more marked, 18 Democrats voting for annexation.

The vote in support of the resolutions was made up of 179 Republicans, 18 Democrats, 8 Populists and 4 Fusionists; the vote against annexation comprised 77 Democrats, 3 Republicans, 7 Populists and 4 Fusionists.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, June 16.—The Presbyterian church of this town, the oldest in Eastern Ohio, celebrated its centennial yesterday. A large crowd was present at all of the three services. Rev. 15 REGIMENTS MAY LEAVE.

Report Current at Chickamauga—Y. M. C. A. Distributing Hymn Books.

CHICKAMAUGA PARK, Ga., June 16.—The report that 15 regiments are to leave Camp Thomas for Tampa during the next few days was the main subject of interest in the camp yesterday and it is being eagerly discussed by both officers and men. It is impossible to confirm the report, as the army officials refuse to discuss it, but nearly every man in camp now believes it.

The Y. M. C. A. authorities here have ordered four more large brigade tents for use in the army. Before the end of the week every man in the army will be supplied with a hymn book by these workers. A supply of 45,000 books has been received.

Dr. C. R. Gill, from the American Red Cross society, arrived yesterday, with credentials and a letter from Secretary of War Alger, addressed to Chief Surgeon Hartsuff. Dr. Gill will today establish a regular station of the society here and last night notified a number of the commanding officers of regiments that he would be able at once to furnish delicacies, milk, etc., to sick soldiers.

An Episcopal Convention.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 16.—The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in the diocese of Central Pennsylvania met in St. Luke's church, this city, yesterday. Over 200 clerical and lay delegates were present. One of the most important matters to be decided by the convention is the question of dividing the diocese into two parts by an east and west line. As it is, the diocese includes half the state and many of the delegates favor the division.

WENT TO WASHINGTON

Hon. R. W. Tayler Returned Yesterday Afternoon.

IN ALLIANCE A SHORT TIME

But Long Enough to Receive the Congratulations of His Friends—Delegates
Are All Home and Are Well Pleased With the Treatment They Received.

After the congressional convention at Alliance adjourned yesterday afternoon the delegates spent a very pleasant time viewing the city and were royally entertained.

Hon. R. W. Tayler had his headquarters at the Kepplinger where he held open house for a short time, and received the hearty congratulations of his many friends upon his magnificent victory. He left on the 2:10 train for Washington.

Judge King, of Youngstown, spent much time with his Columbiana county friends, while Judge Johnston took his defeat in a philosophical manner, and stated that he would as usual support the ticket and do all in his power toward the success of the Republican party. A prominent figure of the convention was Judge McCartney, of Canton, who is well known here.

As usual rumors were rife as to candidates for the next congressional convention, and Hon. Allen Carnes, of Canton, was prominently mentioned, but he stated that it was too far in the future for him to talk.

the afternoon. While waiting for the train the Columbiana delegates spent their time in visiting the camp of Company F, Eighteenth Pennsylvania Volunteer infantry, stationed at the Morgan Engineering works, where they found a jolly lot of soldier boys and an excellent camp. The soldiers are very much disgusted because they have not been sent to the front, and many of them say they would not have enlisted had they known they would have been detained for guard duty.

The Alliance people did everything in their power to entertain the visitors, and the newspaper men are indebted to F.
C. Holmes, of the Review, for many courtesies.

escape from burial alive, of which she gave an inkling the other night at the meeting of the Medico Legal society in New York. It occurred when she was 3 years old, but Mrs. Bell never before made any public announcement of it.

Physicians and lawyers gathered to discuss premature burial. Gerald Chapin, a lawyer, told of the bill prepared by him to prevent premature burial, which was introduced in the legislature
by Assemblyman Redington on March 4 and is now in committee. All who entered the discussion which followed, except Carl Hauser, agreed that premature burial may occur. Mr. Hauser said he doubted if there ever was an authentic case.

Involuntarily Mrs. Bell arose to silence the doubter.

"I am a living example of the possibility of being buried alive," she said.
"I was prepared for burial and was about to be carried to a hearse when signs of life were discovered, and I was saved from the most awful fate that can be conceived.

"Mr. Hauser says truly that if doctors do their duty premature burial is impossible. They did not do their duty in my case. The bill prepared by Mr.
Chapin may save but one person from such a fate. The saving of one will more than compensate for all the trouble the bill may cause to doctors, undertakers and public officers."

Hearty applause followed Mrs. Bell's remark. When I saw her at her home in New York, Mrs. Bell told me more about her experience.

"I was only 3 or 4 years old at the time," she said, "and was suffering from some diphtheric affection. We lived in western Pennsylvania at the time.

"The attending physician gave my mother a prescription known then as 'black drops.' The medicine contained laudanum, and a few drops of it in a specified quantity of water was a dose.

"Unfortunately the doctor made a mistake in writing the prescription, and the wrong proportion of laudanum and water was given me. For a few hours I was apparently dead. The doctor wrote out a death certificate, and I was prepared for burial. My body was placed in a coffin, and friends came and mourned for me. Messages of sympathy came for my mother.

"The hour arrived for my funeral.
Friends had taken the last look upon the supposedly dead, and arrangements were being made to carry the casket to the hearse waiting at the door. Suddenly it was noticed that I was reviving.
There was unmistakable evidence that I was still alive, and quickly they took me from the coffin, and doctors were hurriedly summoned.

"They worked over me for hours, and eventually I became fully conscious and began to improve. Until then the attending physician had maintained a discreet silence as to the real cause of my supposed death. He had discovered his error and frankly admitted it, but not until it was certain I would live.

"I soon began to improve rapidly, and ever since then I have enjoyed comparatively good health. It was a terrible shock to my mother.

"Several times since then my narrow escape, terrible as it was, has proved a source of amusement for me. When I was 15 years old, I visited the home of my grandfather, and there met an old friend of my father.

"This friend had viewed me in my coffin and had then been called away to another part of the country. He had never heard of my recovery. When I was introduced to him, he gasped in astonishment. 'Ida!' he said. 'Ida!'—staring at me—'why, I saw you lying dead more than ten years ago. What does this mean?'

"Everything was explained to him, but it was hard work to convince him that I was really alive.

"I never had any faith in astrologists until about two years ago," continued Mrs. Bell, smiling, "but I had a friend who was firmly convinced of their power. She wanted to consult an astrologist in New Jersey, and just to please her I agreed to accompany her.

"The man didn't know me from Adam, nor had he ever seen my friend.
Of that I am sure. Just for a joke I gave him the date of my birth at his request. He began to figure things out according to the stars and planets, and I was greatly amused.

"Suddenly he stopped, hesitated, stared hard at me and exclaimed: 'Why, madam, I find an awful blot on your horoscope. If you didn't stand there before me, I would say that you were dead; yes, dead a long time.' I laughed heartily, for somehow my experience of babyhood had not been in my mind.

"'Nonsense!' I exclaimed amusedly.
'I hope I don't look as if I were dead.'
'Well,' he said, 'you were very near death when a baby. Of that I am positive, for I find it here, and there is no room for doubt. You will recollect some time and tell me I am right.'

"It did occur to me just after I left the man," said Mrs. Bell, "and some days later I told him how narrowly I escaped premature burial. Since then I have not treated astrology so lightly."

WHY DEWEY WON.

Foreign Militarists Attribute It to Superior Guns and Courage.

The details concerning the works at Manilla and on Corregidor island make it more and more wonderful how the fleet under Admiral Dewey escaped as it did. Colonel Clement de Granprey, the military attache of the French embassy in Washington, has a report made by the Spanish commandant, 1897.
This officer states:

"During this year (meaning 1897) twenty-five 15 centimeter Krupp rapid firing guns were mounted at Corregidor island and the right hand battery at Manilla."

Had the commander of these works caused the channel to be buoyed and had his guns been properly trained on this channel the American loss must have been very considerable and might have been serious. Colonel de Granprey said recently that he had long been aware of the superior excellence of the American heavy gun, but that the supreme test of battle had shown it to be in the matter of extreme accuracy, facility in sighting and high power the first artillery in the world.

"We have considered our Canet gun to be the equal of the English Armstrong, but neither of these is capable of the close accuracy in sighting that you obtain in your larger calibers. The Russian Admiral Mikaroff said to me after he had seen its power against the armored targets at Indian Head, 'These Americans have a 100 pounder that is at least 15 per cent higher in power than any similar caliber ever turned out of Essen (Krupp's factory), and I am not so certain that we have anything which is its equal in Europe.' The foreign militarists in Washington attribute Dewey's victory to superior gunnery and courage. — St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Novelty In Bells.

Herr Appunn of Hanau has invented a bell of a new shape, which is said to have a very deep tone and to be as powerful as considerably heavier bells of the form at present in vogue. The shape is peculiar, being hemispherical, while the metal is uniform in thickness except near the "sound bow" (or the thickened tip which the clapper strikes).
From the edge to some little distance above the sound bow the metal is very thick, and then alters suddenly to the uniform thickness which it has for the rest of the bell.—Invention.

Fight Among Soldiers.

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., June 16.—
A hot fight occurred Tuesday night in the streets of the village of Phoebus between Maryland volunteers and regulars from Fort Monroe. Officers from the volunteers and regulars were summoned hastily and ended the fighting after about 75 prisoners were taken and sent to the guard house. It is said about 20 men received injuries, none of them serious, during the melee.

To Enlist Ex-Confederates.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Representative Grosvenor (O.) has introduced a resolution for the enlistment of one regiment of men who served in the Confederate army, now under 60 years of age, providing that if a sufficient number under that age cannot be obtained that the sons of the Confederate veterans may enlist. Atlanta is named as the mustering point and the companies are to be mustered in as completed.

Fatal Collision at Sea.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The schooner Gypsum Princess of Parrsboro, N. S., was sunk by a collision with the North German Lloyd's steamer Ems Tuesday night. The captain of Gypsum Princecess, David Merriam, his wife and their eldest boy, Edgar, the mate, a girl of 14 years and a boy of 5 were drowned.

Work of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—After the

of Republican tariff legislation by Mr.
Pritchard (N. C.), the senate yesterday resume consideration of the international American bank bill.

French Cabinet Resigned.

A SPANIARD ON BOARD.

Conflicting Stories Told Regarding a Man Captured on a Vessel.

KEY WEST, June 16.—The British steamer Twickenham, captured off Kingston, on June 10, by the auxiliary cruiser St. Louis, arrived here yesterday in charge of a prize crew. She has on board 3,000 tons of coal and one passenger, who is supposed to be an employee of the Spanish government.

The man is Jamie Fernieres, who says he is the first officer of the Spanish hospital ship Alicante. Conflicting stories are told concerning the Span-iard's presence on board the Twickenham, and there is strong suspicion that he is a more important capture than superficial circumstances might indicate.

Fernieres is an imposing looking person of about 50 years of age and is a much worried Spaniard, and tears stood in his eyes as he talked, through an interpreter, to a reporter.

Spanish Chivalry.

Admiral Cervera has proved himself to be a most polished and chivalrous gentleman. His conduct in advising Admiral Sampson of the safety of the crew of the Merrimac and his commendation of their bravery was worthy of the Chevalier Bayard or of Sir Philip Sydney. That he could rise to such a height in the face of the popular clamor against America in Spain shows that he is as brave as he is courteous. That such men as Cervera and the Spaniards at Manilla, who fought until the decks of their ships sank beneath them into the water, should be sacrificed to the cruel and imbecile government of Spain naturally excites pity.—Baltimore Sun.

"IN THE NICK OF TIME."

Some East Liverpool People Are Fortunate—Taking the Bull by the Horns Saves Money.

Waiting doesn't always pay.
Often 'tis better to strike at once.
Doing a thing in the "nick of time"
is better than not doing it at all.
"Narrow shaves" are better than failure.

There are many "narrow shaves" in kidney ills.

A kidney blockade is dangerous.
Keep the kidneys working or look out for trouble.

The blood must be filtered.
The poisonous uric acid must be taken out.

With the kidneys blocked this can't be done, and

Serious are the results that follow.
Break the blockade before it is too late.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do it.
Many an East Liverpool citizen can tell you this is so.

Here is a case in point:
Mrs. Edmund Purton, of 233 Ravine street, says: "Both my husband and I can testify to the value of Doan's Kidney Pills. I had backache, headache and other symptoms of the complaint for two years. When the last attack came on I went to the W. & W. Pharmacy, and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. In a very short time I was relieved.

"My husband, who is a painter, decorator and paperhanger, of the firm of Purton & Jackson, was seized with a severe attack of kidney complaint lately.
Some years ago he contracted a fever, which left his kidneys in bad shape, and ever afterwards he had more or less trouble. When suffering last a gentleman advised him to try Doan's Kidney Pills, emphasizing the facts that he had been a sufferer with kidney disease; confined to his bed; his physician informed him that perhaps he would be able to get him up in two or three weeks; that he used Doan's Kidney Pills, and in a day or two he was able to be up and about his business. The gentleman spoke so highly about the remedy that my husband got a box at once. They were prompt in relieving him. I felt better generally. We can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I hear numbers of people speak well of them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. By mail on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

WENT TO WASHINGTON

Hon. R. W. Tayler Returned Yesterday Afternoon.

IN ALLIANCE A SHORT TIME

But Long Enough to Receive the Congratulations of His Friends—Delegates Are All Home and Are Well Pleased With the Treatment They Received.

After the congressional convention at Alliance adjourned yesterday afternoon the delegates spent a very pleasant time viewing the city and were royally entertained.

Hon. R. W. Tayler had his headquarters at the Kepplinger where he held open house for a short time, and received the hearty congratulations of his many friends upon his magnificent victory. He left on the 2:10 train for Washington.

Judge King, of Youngstown, spent much time with his Columbiana county friends, while Judge Johnston took his defeat in a philosophical manner, and stated that he would as usual support the ticket and do all in his power toward the success of the Republican party. A prominent figure of the convention was Judge McCartney, of Canton, who is well known here.

As usual rumors were rife as to candidates for the next congressional convention, and Hon. Allen Carnes, of Canton, was prominently mentioned, but he stated that it was too far in the future for him to talk.

The Mahoning delegation left early in the afternoon. While waiting for the train the Columbiana delegates spent their time in visiting the camp of Company F, Eighteenth Pennsylvania Volunteer infantry, stationed at the Morgan Engineering works, where they found a jolly lot of soldier boys and an excellent camp. The soldiers are very much disgusted because they have not been sent to the front, and many of them say they would not have enlisted had they known they would have been detailed for guard duty.

The Alliance people did everything in their power to entertain the visitors, and the newspaper men are indebted to F. C. Holles, of the Review, for many courtesies.

HER NARROW ESCAPE

She Relates Her Experience at a Meeting of the New York Medical Legal Society. Physician Had Prescribed Too Much Laudanum—Her Faith in Astrology.

Mrs. Ida Trafford Bell told me recently the thrilling details of her narrow escape from burial alive, of which she gave an inkling the other night at the meeting of the Medical Legal society in New York. It occurred when she was 3 years old, but Mrs. Bell never before made any public announcement of it.

Physicians and lawyers gathered to discuss premature burial. Gerald Chapin, a lawyer, told of the bill prepared by him to prevent premature burial, which was introduced in the legislature by Assemblyman Redington on March 4 and is now in committee. All who entered the discussion which followed, except Carl Hauser, agreed that premature burial may occur. Mr. Hauser said he doubted if there ever was an authentic case.

Involuntarily Mrs. Bell arose to silence the doubter.

"I am a living example of the possibility of being buried alive," she said. "I was prepared for burial and was about to be carried to a hearse when signs of life were discovered, and I was saved from the most awful fate that can be conceived."

"Mr. Hauser says truly that if doctors do their duty premature burial is impossible. They did not do their duty in my case. The bill prepared by Mr. Chapin may save but one person from such a fate. The saving of one will more than compensate for all the trouble the bill may cause to doctors, undertakers and public officers."

Hearty applause followed Mrs. Bell's remark. When I saw her at her home in New York, Mrs. Bell told me more about her experience.

"The attending physician gave my mother a prescription known then as 'black drops.' The medicine contained laudanum, and a few drops of it in a specified quantity of water was a dose."

"Unfortunately the doctor made a mistake in writing the prescription, and the wrong proportion of laudanum and water was given me. For a few hours I was apparently dead. The doctor wrote out a death certificate, and I was prepared for burial. My body was placed in a coffin, and friends came and mourned for me. Messages of sympathy came for my mother."

"The hour arrived for my funeral. Friends had taken the last look upon the supposedly dead, and arrangements were being made to carry the casket to the hearse waiting at the door. Suddenly it was noticed that I was reviving. There was unmistakable evidence that I was still alive, and quickly they took me from the coffin, and doctors were hurriedly summoned."

"They worked over me for hours, and eventually I became fully conscious and began to improve. Until then the attending physician had maintained a discreet silence as to the real cause of my supposed death. He had discovered his error and frankly admitted it, but not until it was certain I would live."

"I soon began to improve rapidly, and ever since then I have enjoyed comparatively good health. It was a terrible shock to my mother."

"Several times since then my narrow escape, terrible as it was, has proved a source of amusement for me. When I was 15 years old, I visited the home of my grandfather, and there met an old friend of my father."

"This friend had viewed me in my coffin and had then been called away to another part of the country. He had never heard of my recovery. When I was introduced to him, he gasped in astonishment. 'Ida!' he said. 'Ida'—staring at me—'why, I saw you lying dead more than ten years ago. What does this mean?'"

"Everything was explained to him, but it was hard work to convince him that I was really alive."

"I never had any faith in astrologists until about two years ago," continued Mrs. Bell, smiling, "but I had a friend who was firmly convinced of their power. She wanted to consult an astrologist in New Jersey, and just to please her I agreed to accompany her."

"The man didn't know me from Adam, nor had he ever seen my friend. Of that I am sure. Just for a joke I gave him the date of my birth at his request. He began to figure things out according to the stars and planets, and I was greatly amused."

"Suddenly he stopped, hesitated, stared hard at me and exclaimed: 'Why, madam, I find an awful blot on your horoscope. If you didn't stand there before me, I would say that you were dead; yes, dead a long time.' I laughed heartily, for somehow my experience of babyhood had not been in my mind."

"Nonsense!" I exclaimed amusedly. "I hope I don't look as if I were dead." "Well," he said, "you were very near death when a baby. Of that I am positive, for I find it here, and there is no room for doubt. You will recollect some time and tell me I am right."

"It did occur to me just after I left the man," said Mrs. Bell, "and some days later I told him how narrowly I escaped premature burial. Since then I have not treated astrology so lightly."—New York Telegram.

WHY DEWEY WON.

Foreign Militarists Attribute It to Superior Guns and Courage.

The details concerning the works at Manila and on Corregidor island make it more and more wonderful how the fleet under Admiral Dewey escaped as it did. Colonel Clement de Granprey, the military attaché of the French embassy in Washington, has a report made by the Spanish commandant, 1897. This officer states:

"During this year (meaning 1897) twenty-five 15 centimeter Krupp rapid firing guns were mounted at Corregidor island and the right hand battery at Manila."

Had the commander of these works caused the channel to be buoyed and had his guns been properly trained on this channel the American loss must have been very considerable and might have been serious. Colonel de Granprey said recently that he had long been aware of the superior excellence of the American heavy gun, but that the supreme test of battle had shown it to be in the matter of extreme accuracy, facility in sighting and high power the first artillery in the world.

"We have considered our Canet gun to be the equal of the English Armstrong, but neither of these is capable of the close accuracy in sighting that you obtain in your larger calibers. The Russian Admiral Mikaroff said to me after he had seen its power against the armored targets at Indian Head, 'These Americans have a 100 pounder that is at least 15 per cent higher in power than any similar caliber ever turned out of Essen (Krupp's factory), and I am not so certain that we have anything which is its equal in Europe.' The foreign militarists in Washington attribute Dewey's victory to superior gunnery and courage.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Novelty in Bells.

Herr Appunn of Hanau has invented a bell of a new shape, which is said to have a very deep tone and to be as powerful as considerably heavier bells of the form at present in vogue. The shape is peculiar, being hemispherical, while the metal is uniform in thickness except near the "sound bow" (or the thickened tip which the clapper strikes). From the edge to some little distance above the sound bow the metal is very thick, and then alters suddenly to the uniform thickness which it has for the rest of the bell.—Invention.

Fight Among Soldiers.

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., June 16.—A hot fight occurred Tuesday night in the streets of the village of Phoebus between Maryland volunteers and regulars from Fort Monroe. Officers from the volunteers and regulars were summoned hastily and ended the fighting after about 75 prisoners were taken and sent to the guard house. It is said about 20 men received injuries, none of them serious, during the melee.

To Enlist Ex-Confederates.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Representative Grosvenor (O.) has introduced a resolution for the enlistment of one regiment of men who served in the Confederate army, now under 60 years of age, providing that if a sufficient number under that age cannot be obtained that the sons of the Confederate veterans may enlist. Atlanta is named as the mustering point and the companies are to be mustered in as completed.

Fatal Collision at Sea.

A SPANIARD ON BOARD.

Conflicting Stories Told Regarding a Man Captured on a Vessel.

KEY WEST, June 16.—The British steamer Twickenham, captured off Kingston, on June 10, by the auxiliary cruiser St. Louis, arrived here yesterday in charge of a prize crew. She has on board 3,000 tons of coal and one passenger, who is supposed to be an employee of the Spanish government.

The man is Jamie Fernieres, who says he is the first officer of the Spanish hospital ship Alicante. Conflicting stories are told concerning the Spaniard's presence on board the Twickenham, and there is strong suspicion that he is a more important capture than superficial circumstances might indicate.

Fernieres is an imposing looking person of about 50 years of age and is a much worried Spaniard, and tears stood in his eyes as he talked, through an interpreter, to a reporter.

Spanish Chivalry.

Admiral Cervera has proved himself to be a most polished and chivalrous gentleman. His conduct in advising Admiral Sampson of the safety of the crew of the Merrimac and his commendation of their bravery was worthy of the Chevalier Bayard or of Sir Philip Sydney. That he could rise to such a height in the face of the popular clamor against America in Spain shows that he is as brave as he is courteous. That such men as Cervera and the Spaniards at Manila, who fought until the decks of their ships sank beneath them into the water, should be sacrificed to the cruel and imbecile government of Spain naturally excites pity.—Baltimore Sun.

"IN THE NICK OF TIME."

Some East Liverpool People Are Fortunate—Taking the Bull by the Horns Saves Money.

Waiting doesn't always pay. Often 'tis better to strike at once. Doing a thing in the "nick of time" is better than not doing it at all. "Narrow shaves" are better than failure.

There are many "narrow shaves" in kidney ills.

A kidney blockade is dangerous. Keep the kidneys working or look out for trouble.

The blood must be filtered. The poisonous uric acid must be taken out.

With the kidneys blocked this can't be done, and

Serious are the results that follow. Break the blockade before it is too late.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do it. Many an East Liverpool citizen can tell you this is so.

Here is a case in point: Mrs. Edmund Purton, of 233 Ravine street, says: "Both my husband and I can testify to the value of Doan's Kidney Pills. I had backache, headache and other symptoms of the complaint for two years. When the last attack came on I went to the W. & W. Pharmacy, and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. In a very short time I was relieved."

"My husband, who is a painter, decorator and paperhanger, of the firm of Purton & Jackson, was seized with a severe attack of kidney complaint lately. Some years ago he contracted a fever, which left his kidneys in bad shape, and ever afterwards he had more or less trouble. When suffering last a gentleman advised him to try Doan's Kidney Pills, emphasizing the facts that he had been a sufferer with kidney disease; confined to his bed; his physician informed him that perhaps he would be able to get him up in two or three weeks; that he used Doan's Kidney Pills, and in a day or two he was able to be up and about his business. The gentleman spoke so highly about the remedy that my husband got a box at once. They were prompt in relieving him. I felt better generally. We can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I hear numbers of people speak well of them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. By mail on receipt of price by Foster-McBurn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

IN ALLIANCE A SHORT TIME

But Long Enough to Receive the Congratulations of His Friends—Delegates Are All Home and Are Well Pleased With the Treatment They Received.

After the congressional convention at Alliance adjourned yesterday afternoon the delegates spent a very pleasant time viewing the city and were royally entertained.

Hon. R. W. Tayler had his headquarters at the Keplinger where he held open house for a short time, and received the hearty congratulations of his many friends upon his magnificent victory. He left on the 2:10 train for Washington.

Judge King, of Youngstown, spent much time with his Columbiana county friends, while Judge Johnston took his defeat in a philosophical manner, and stated that he would as usual support the ticket and do all in his power toward the success of the Republican party. A prominent figure of the convention was Judge McCartney, of Canton, who is well known here.

As usual rumors were rife as to candidates for the next congressional convention, and Hon. Allen Carnes, of Canton, was prominently mentioned, but he stated that it was too far in the future for him to talk.

The Mahoning delegation left early in the afternoon. While waiting for the train the Columbiana delegates spent their time in visiting the camp of Company F, Eighteenth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, stationed at the Morgan Engineering works, where they found a jolly lot of soldier boys and an excellent camp. The soldiers are very much disgusted because they have not been sent to the front, and many of them say they would not have enlisted had they known they would have been detailed for guard duty.

The Alliance people did everything in their power to entertain the visitors, and the newspaper men are indebted to F. C. Holmes, of the Review, for many courtesies.

Gone to Europe.

HER NARROW ESCAPE

MRS. BELL PREPARED FOR BURIAL DURING SUSPENDED ANIMATION.

She Relates Her Experience at a Meeting of the New York Medico Legal Society. Physician Had Prescribed Too Much Laudanum—Her Faith in Astrology.

Mrs. Ida Trafford Bell told me recently the thrilling details of her narrow escape from burial alive, of which she gave an inkling the other night at the meeting of the Medico Legal society in New York. It occurred when she was 3 years old, but Mrs. Bell never before made any public announcement of it.

Physicians and lawyers gathered to discuss premature burial. Gerald Chapin, a lawyer, told of the bill prepared by him to prevent premature burial, which was introduced in the legislature by Assemblyman Redington on March 4 and is now in committee. All who entered the discussion which followed, except Carl Hauser, agreed that premature burial may occur. Mr. Hauser said he doubted if there ever was an authentic case.

Involuntarily Mrs. Bell arose to silence the doubter.

"I am a living example of the possibility of being buried alive," she said. "I was prepared for burial and was about to be carried to a hearse when signs of life were discovered, and I was saved from the most awful fate that can be conceived."

"Mr. Hauser says truly that if doctors do their duty premature burial is impossible. They did not do their duty in my case. The bill prepared by Mr. Chapin may save but one person from such a fate. The saving of one will more than compensate for all the trouble the bill may cause to doctors, undertakers and public officers."

Hearty applause followed Mrs. Bell's remark. When I saw her at her home in New York, Mrs. Bell told me more about her experience.

"Unfortunately the doctor made a mistake in writing the prescription, and the wrong proportion of laudanum and water was given me. For a few hours I was apparently dead. The doctor wrote out a death certificate, and I was prepared for burial. My body was placed in a coffin, and friends came and mourned for me. Messages of sympathy came for my mother."

"Suddenly he stopped, hesitated, stared hard at me and exclaimed: 'Why, madam, I find an awful blot on your horoscope. If you didn't stand there before me, I would say that you were dead; yes, dead a long time.' I laughed heartily, for somehow my experience of babyhood had not been in my mind."

"Nonsense!" I exclaimed amusedly. "I hope I don't look as if I were dead."

"Well," he said, "you were very near death when a baby. Of that I am positive, for I find it here, and there is no room for doubt. You will recollect some time and tell me I am right."

"It did occur to me just after I left the man," said Mrs. Bell, "and some days later I told him how narrowly I escaped premature burial. Since then I have not treated astrology so lightly."—New York Telegram.

WHY DEWEY WON.

The details concerning the works at Manila and on Corregidor island make it more and more wonderful how the fleet under Admiral Dewey escaped as it did. Blanco Authorized to Exchange Hobson and His Mates.

MADRID, June 16.—General Blanco has been authorized to exchange the Merrimac prisoners.

A Novelty In Bells.

Herr Appunn of Hanau has invented a bell of a new shape, which is said to have a very deep tone and to be as powerful as considerably heavier bells of the form at present in vogue. The shape is peculiar, being hemispherical, while the metal is uniform in thickness except near the "sound bow" (or the thickened tip which the clapper strikes). From the edge to some little distance above the sound bow the metal is very thick, and then alters suddenly to the uniform thickness which it has for the rest of the bell.—Invention.

Fight Among Soldiers.

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., June 16.—A hot fight occurred Tuesday night in the streets of the village of Phoebus between Maryland volunteers and regulars from Fort Monroe. Officers from the volunteers and regulars were summoned hastily and ended the fighting after about 75 prisoners were taken and sent to the guard house. It is said about 20 men received injuries, none of them serious, during the melee.

To Enlist Ex-Confederates.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Representative Grosvenor (O.) has introduced a resolution for the enlistment of one regiment of men who served in the Confederate army, now under 60 years of age, providing that if a sufficient number under that age cannot be obtained that the sons of the Confederate veterans may enlist. Atlanta is named as the mustering point and the companies are to be mustered in as completed.

Fatal Collision at Sea.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The schooner Gypsum Princess of Parrsboro, N. S., was sunk by a collision with the North German Lloyd's steamer Ems Tuesday night. The captain of Gypsum Princess, David Merriam, his wife and their eldest boy, Edgar, the mate, a girl of 14 years and a boy of 5 were drowned.

Work of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—After the passage of a large number of private pension bills and listening to a carefully prepared speech on the advantages of Republican tariff legislation by Mr. Pritchard (N. C.), the senate yesterday resumed consideration of the international American bank bill.

French Cabinet Resigned.

PARIS, June 16.—M. Melne handed President Faure the resignations of the whole cabinet yesterday, which the president accepted, while requesting the ministers to continue the direction of affairs until their successors are named.

Yellow Fever Situation.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The dispatches received at the marine hospital service yesterday showed no new cases of yellow fever in the suspected region.

A SPANIARD ON BOARD.

Conflicting Stories Told Regarding a Man Captured on a Vessel.

KEY WEST, June 16.—The British steamer Twickenham, captured off Kingston, on June 10, by the auxiliary cruiser St. Louis, arrived here yesterday in charge of a prize crew. She has on board 3,000 tons of coal and one passenger, who is supposed to be an employee of the Spanish government.

The man is Jamie Fernieres, who says he is the first officer of the Spanish hospital ship Alicante. Conflicting stories are told concerning the Spaniard's presence on board the Twickenham, and there is strong suspicion that he is a more important capture than superficial circumstances might indicate.

Fernieres is an imposing looking person of about 50 years of age and is a much worried Spaniard, and tears stood in his eyes as he talked, through an interpreter, to a reporter.

Spanish Chivalry.

Admiral Cervera has proved himself to be a most polished and chivalrous gentleman. His conduct in advising Admiral Sampson of the safety of the crew of the Merrimac and his commendation of their bravery was worthy of the Chevalier Bayard or of Sir Philip Sydney. That he could rise to such a height in the face of the popular clamor against America in Spain shows that he is as brave as he is courteous. That such men as Cervera and the Spaniards at Manila, who fought until the decks of their ships sank beneath them into the water, should be sacrificed to the cruel and imbecile government of Spain naturally excites pity.—Baltimore Sun.

The Hospital Ship Olivette.

Some East Liverpool People Are Fortunate—Taking the Bull by the Horns Saves Money.

Waiting doesn't always pay. Often 'tis better to strike at once. Doing a thing in the "nick of time" is better than not doing it at all.

"Narrow shaves" are better than failure.

There are many "narrow shaves" in kidney ills.

The blood must be filtered.

The poisonous uric acid must be taken out.

With the kidneys blocked this can't be done, and

Serious are the results that follow.

Break the blockade before it is too late.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do it.

Many an East Liverpool citizen can tell you this is so.

Here is a case in point:

Mrs. Edmund Purton, of 233 Ravine street, says: "Both my husband and I can testify to the value of Doan's Kidney Pills. I had backache, headache and other symptoms of the complaint for two years. When the last attack came on I went to the W. & W. Pharmacy, and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. In a very short time I was relieved."

"My husband, who is a painter, decorator and paperhanger, of the firm of Purton & Jackson, was seized with a severe attack of kidney complaint lately. Some years ago he contracted a fever, which left his kidneys in bad shape, and ever afterwards he had more or less trouble. When suffering last a gentleman advised him to try Doan's Kidney Pills, emphasizing the facts that he had been a sufferer with kidney disease; confined to his bed; his physician informed him that perhaps he would be able to get him up in two or three weeks; that he used Doan's Kidney Pills, and in a day or two he was able to be up and about his business. The gentleman spoke so highly about the remedy that my husband got a box at once. They were prompt in relieving him. I felt better generally. We can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I hear numbers of people speak well of them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. By mail on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Will Be a Feature of the Celebration.

BIG PYROTECNIC DISPLAY

The Committee Will Have a Barge Anchored in the River, and All Will Be Given an Opportunity to See—The News of Wellsville.

One of the features of the demonstration on the Fourth will be the display of fireworks, and one of the features of the display will be a set piece representing Admiral Dewey in full uniform.

The committee have decided to anchor a barge in the river and the fireworks will be exploded there. It is expected the display will amount to about $200, and the best selection possible will be made. That part of the arrangements will be closed up in a few days.

The general work of the committee is progressing rapidly. Last night the solicitors were provided with books, and all are now hard at work. There is no reason to believe the subscriptions will fall short of expectations.

The work for the improvement of public highways has attained the dignity of a permanent organization.

Whittaker as chairman, was appointed to select a standing committee of six members from each ward.

Sensible Arrangement.

What Sir Daniel Lysons believes to have been the first case of a settlement of an "affair of honor" on the Duke of Wellington's plan is described by him in his "Early Reminiscences." It occurred in Halifax about the middle of the present century:

One day Captain Evans came to me boiling over with wrath and indignation. He said he had been grossly insulted by Captain Harvey, the governor's son, and begged me to act as his friend. I agreed, provided he promised to do exactly as I told him. He consented.

I called on Captain Harvey's friend, Captain Bourke, and we agreed to abide by the Duke of Wellington's order about dueling, which had just then been promulgated at Halifax.

We carried out our intention as follows: We made each of our principals write out his own version of what had occurred. We then chose an umpire. We selected Colonel Horn of the Twentieth regiment, a clear headed and much respected officer. With his approval we sent him the two statements, and he directed us to come to his house the following morning with our principals.

At the appointed time we arrived and were shown into the dining room. We bowed formally to each other across the table and awaited the appearance of our referee. Colonel Horn soon entered, and, addressing our principals, said:

"Gentlemen, in the first place, I must thank you for having made my duty so light. Nothing could be more open, generous or gentlemanlike than your statements. The best advice I can give you is that you shake hands and forget that the occurrence has ever happened."

They at once walked up to each other and shook hands cordially. They were the best of friends ever after.

John Allen's Gallantry.

Representative John Allen of Mississippi, the witty man of the house, is also one of the most gallant men of congress, says the Chicago Tribune. A beautiful woman from his district came to Washington recently and renewed her acquaintance with him. Finding her acquaintance with him, she remarked, "I thought, Mr. Allen, that you had forgotten me." He replied, "Madam, I have made it my life work to forget you," and this had the same effect as a witticism, for she tells it with numberless smiles.

The Dome of St. Paul's.

We do not believe there is any truth in the alarming rumor that there is some uneasiness in expert quarters in regard to the stability of the dome of St. Paul's. We imagine that the only substratum of fact is this: It is known that a huge iron chain is imbedded in the stonework of the drum of the dome. An eminent architect some time since amused himself by describing the consequences which might ensue if the water were to reach this chain. There is no reason to suppose that such a thing has occurred or is likely to occur, and the newly appointed surveyors, Messrs. Somers Clarke and J. T. Middlethwaite, are fully alive to the desirability of finding and examining the chain. The first difficulty appears to be that its exact locality is somewhat uncertain. The second will be to get at it effectively when it is discovered.—London Saturday Review.

Family Economy.

Uncle (to the children, who have just had a dose of cod liver oil all around)—Well, do you like cod liver oil?

Children—Oh, no, but mamma gives us 5 cents for every spoonful.

Uncle—And then do you buy something nice?

Children—No, mamma puts it into the savings bank.

Uncle—And then you buy something by and by?

Children—No, mamma buys more cod liver oil with it!—Fliegende Blätter.

THE BOSTON DEPARTMENT STORE.

A. S. YOUNG, Fifth and Market Streets.

Mrs. Daniel Tarr, who has been visiting her daughter at Washington, Pa., returned home yesterday afternoon.

The commencement and closing exercises of the Immaculate Conception schools will be held this evening.

Sensible Arrangement.

What Sir Daniel Lysons believes to have been the first case of a settlement of an "affair of honor" on the Duke of Wellington's plan is described by him in his "Early Reminiscences." It occurred in Halifax about the middle of the present century:

One day Captain Evans came to me boiling over with wrath and indignation. He said he had been grossly insulted by Captain Harvey, the governor's son, and begged me to act as his friend. I agreed, provided he promised to do exactly as I told him. He consented.

I called on Captain Harvey's friend, Captain Bourke, and we agreed to abide by the Duke of Wellington's order about dueling, which had just then been promulgated at Halifax.

We carried out our intention as follows: We made each of our principals write out his own version of what had occurred. We then chose an umpire. We selected Colonel Horn of the Twentieth regiment, a clear headed and much respected officer. With his approval we sent him the two statements, and he directed us to come to his house the following morning with our principals.

At the appointed time we arrived and were shown into the dining room. We bowed formally to each other across the table and awaited the appearance of our referee. Colonel Horn soon entered, and, addressing our principals, said:

"Gentlemen, in the first place, I must thank you for having made my duty so light. Nothing could be more open, generous or gentlemanlike than your statements. The best advice I can give you is that you shake hands and forget that the occurrence has ever happened."

They at once walked up to each other and shook hands cordially. They were the best of friends ever after.

John Allen's Gallantry.

Representative John Allen of Mississippi, the witty man of the house, is also one of the most gallant men of congress, says the Chicago Tribune. A beautiful woman from his district came to Washington recently and renewed her acquaintance with him. Finding her acquaintance with him, she remarked, "I thought, Mr. Allen, that you had forgotten me." He replied, "Madam, I have made it my life work to forget you," and this had the same effect as a witticism, for she tells it with numberless smiles.

The Dome of St. Paul's.

We do not believe there is any truth in the alarming rumor that there is some uneasiness in expert quarters in regard to the stability of the dome of St. Paul's. We imagine that the only substratum of fact is this: It is known that a huge iron chain is imbedded in the stonework of the drum of the dome. An eminent architect some time since amused himself by describing the consequences which might ensue if the water were to reach this chain. There is no reason to suppose that such a thing has occurred or is likely to occur, and the newly appointed surveyors, Messrs. Somers Clarke and J. T. Middlethwaite, are fully alive to the desirability of finding and examining the chain. The first difficulty appears to be that its exact locality is somewhat uncertain. The second will be to get at it effectively when it is discovered.—London Saturday Review.

DEWEY'S FACE IN FIRE

Will Be a Feature of the Celebration.

BIG PYROTECNIC DISPLAY

The Committee Will Have a Barge Anchored in the River, and All Will Be Given an Opportunity to See—The News of Wellsville.

One of the features of the demonstration on the Fourth will be the display of fireworks, and one of the features of the display will be a set piece representing Admiral Dewey in full uniform.

The committee have decided to anchor a barge in the river and the fireworks will be exploded there. It is expected the display will amount to about $300, and the best selection possible will be made. That part of the arrangements will be closed up in a few days.

The general work of the committee is progressing rapidly. Last night the solicitors were provided with books, and all are now hard at work. There is no reason to believe the subscriptions will fall short of expectations.

A Permanent Organization.

The work for the improvement of public highways has attained the dignity of a permanent organization.

At a meeting held at city hall last night D. N. McLean was elected president, James McQueen secretary, E. H. Riggs treasurer. There was a good attendance and the feeling was strong for continued work. The organization will be known as the Good Roads association. A committee of four, with E. G. Whittaker as chairman, was appointed to select a standing committee of six members from each ward.

JOE LEITER'S troubles would attract much more attention if we did not happen to have a war on hand.

SAGASTA is talking like a prize fighter, not alone in quantity, but in quality, if we are to believe the dispatches.

NO ONE would seriously object if Uncle Sam would capture Spain's Canaries, but the public would rather see Cadiz the prize if we are going across the ocean.

THE Spanish general who commands at Santiago is bald. He was probably selected to prevent his being scalped by the Indian army the Spaniards seem to think we have.

If the Spaniards who mutilated the bodies of American marines are captured they will be shot at once. There is, however, little likelihood of them being apprehended. They lie too well.

CAPTAIN HARRY PALMER sailed from San Francisco yesterday with the remainder of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers on board the Zelandia. His many friends in the city will join with the NEWS REVIEW in wishing him a safe voyage and a speedy return.

THE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION.

No one ever seriously questioned the outcome of the Alliance convention; no one will question the result of the campaign. Hon. R. W. Tayler will be returned to congress as he was nominated, by a large vote.

There are evidences that the Democrats will fight hard to capture the next house of representatives. They need it to hamper the president, but there are no indications to show they will be successful. The Republican party has the call, and will continue to have it unless some unforeseen military or naval reverse can be traced to the administration, and that is not at all probable. The issues have been announced, but there is nothing among them to appeal to the people. The old questions they would bring up have been for the present at least settled, while the new ones are not so clearly defined as to make a radical issue.

The Eighteenth district has particular cause for returning Mr. Tayler to congress. He who sits in the White House for years held its seat in the house of representatives, and is dear to the people. He has been honored by the nation as the first man of the land. To send a Democrat to congress would add another force to the power that seeks to drag President McKinley down, and in his stead place a member of that party.

Mr. Tayler has been a good congressman. No better party man ever sat in the house, his Republicanism at all times being unquestioned. He has won for himself a place among the party leaders, and is known as one who can be relied upon to do his duty. To his constituents he has ever shown that appreciative courtesy so often lacking in the people's representatives. He has done all within his power for his party and his district, and that has been much. No man could do more.

A FEW DRUNKS IN COURT

They Were Given the Usual Dose Yesterday Afternoon and This Morning--Mayor Bough and His Force Continue to Work.

Mayor Bough has disposed of a number of cases since yesterday afternoon. It is possible one of the men now in custody will be sent to the works for a six-months' term.

About noon yesterday the barber shop of Doc Howard in West Market street was robbed of a pair of clippers, scissors and a razor. The matter was promptly reported to the police and during the afternoon Chief Johnson arrested Neil Call and charged him with the theft. When searched the clippers were found on his person, and when questioned he admitted the taking of them from the shop. He was seen to go in the shop by an employee of the water works and that individual has given some valuable information to the authorities about the case. He will be heard this evening, and it is probable the case will go to court.

John Francis was arrested by Officer White in West Market street last night while attempting to get in a saloon after hours. He was very drunk at the time and the mayor thought it a good plan to let him sober before he was given a chance to plead guilty or not guilty.

Walter Brown has not lived with his wife for several months, and he met her in the Midway last night. This caused a quarrel and Walter was run in by Officer Mahony. He told the mayor he wanted to go to work this morning, and he pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $6.60 which he paid.

Fred Bloor, who was found sleeping in a stable in the rear of Second street, was released last night and all the mayor gave him was a severe lecture. He was told to carry himself straight or he would be given a railroad ride.

Francis Leech, the old soldier who was put in by Officer McCullough Tuesday night, was released last night. He paid $9.50.

PRONOUNCED SAFE.

The Steps In Front of the Property of Mr. Fisher Will Remain.

Messrs. Peach and Stewart last evening viewed the steps of F. L. Fisher, which caused such a heated discussion in council Tuesday evening. After a thorough examination the steps were pronounced safe for the time being and will be permitted to remain. Workmen will commence in the morning to set the curb in front of the property and an effort will be made to complete the sidewalk before the end of the week and then Mr. Fisher can erect permanent steps.

ALLIANCE RECRUITS

Were Sent to Washington This Afternoon.

Lieutenant George O. Anderson today at Alliance finished the work of mustering in the recruits needed to place Company K, Eighth O. V. I., on a war footing. The 37 men were placed in charge of Corporal Ballard, and left on the 3:20 train for Washington.

Lieutenant Anderson will go to Canton, and expects to return tomorrow evening and spend the remainder of the week in the city.

SHIPMENTS INCREASING.

Fourteen Cars of Ware Were Sent Out Yesterday.

Business was very good at the freight depot yesterday, and many more cars could have been handled had there been any available. During the day the rollers loaded and sent out 14 cars, and today they were as busy as yesterday.

The amount of freight now being received is large, and not less than two cars are received at the platform every day.

SNOWDEN IS BETTER.

He Has Recovered Consciousness and Is Improving.

G. O. Snowden, who was so badly hurt by a fall at the plant of the Potters' Mining and Milling company, is improving, and there is now a slight chance for recovery.

He has recovered consciousness, and the attending physician was much pleased with his condition today.

STAMPS FOR CHECKS

Are Causing Bankers to Think of Old Times.

Among the features of the new war tax is the stamp for bank checks, and bankers are wondering about the time the law goes into effect and thinking of the days when a similar law was in effect years ago.

The law provides that every check drawn must bear a stamp, and the man who pays his debts in that way will in future have a supply of them on hand. Otherwise the bank will be compelled to place the stamp on the check and deduct the amount of two cents when it is paid.

On the River.

The river is falling, and the marks at the wharf at noon today registered 6.8 feet.

The Virginia passed up last night and will be down tomorrow. Its owners have decided to change the schedule of the boat in order that successful competition may be made with the Cummins line.

The Ben Hur and Urania will be down for Gallipolis tonight. If possible both the boats will go to Charleston, if the river is in such a condition as to permit navigation.

The Lorena will be up today with the Cummins.

The towboats are now coming up the river and making as much time as possible. The Jim Wood, Beaver, Mariner, Voyager and Pacific went up yesterday.

Home From Mt. Vernon.

Rev. O. S. Reed and D. J. Smith, who have been attending the Grand Army encampment at Mt. Vernon, returned home at noon today. The encampment will close this evening.

The gentlemen declare they enjoyed every hour of their stay.

Mr. Smith was elected delegate from this district to the national encampment at Cincinnati in September. Professor Reed was named as a candidate for department chaplain, and the action was so favorable that he will undoubtedly be elected next year.

Will Be Married This Evening.

The marriage of Mr. Charles McKee and Miss Nora Z. Smith will take place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith, Calcutta road, this evening at 9 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. J. M. Huston, assisted by Reverend Cartwright, of New Brighton.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee will leave tomorrow morning for a tour of the lakes and will spend several weeks in the north. They will make their future home in this city.

Killed an Italian.

The train due in this city at 8:20 hit an Italian section hand at Fair Oaks, eight miles east of Rochester this morning.

The train was coming down a steep grade and the Italian was driving a spike when he was struck. The train was stopped and the remains were taken to Freedom where they were left in the care of his countrymen.

Will Combine.

The clerks' union at their next meeting will act upon the proposition to combine with the union of the grocery clerks. It is probable the proposition will be acted upon favorably, as an effort was made to have the grocery clerks join the retail clerks' union when they organized, but at that time they preferred a separate organization.

Miss Alice Goodwin's Guests.

Miss Martha Medill, Misses Lena and Georgia Dent, Miss Mary Graham, of Bridgeport; Miss Kate Kuhn, of Wheeling, and Miss Florence Watts, of Sewickley, are in the city the guests of Miss Mary Alice Goodwin. They will attend the dance to be given this evening by the Columbian club.

Making Progress.

ALLIANCE RECRUITS

Were Sent to Washington This Afternoon.

Lieutenant George O. Anderson today at Alliance finished the work of mustering in the recruits needed to place Company K, Eighth O. V. I., on a war footing. The 87 men were placed in charge of Corporal Ballard, and left on the 8:20 train for Washington.

Lieutenant Anderson will go to Canton, and expects to return tomorrow evening and spend the remainder of the week in the city.

Fourteen Cars of Ware Were Sent Out Yesterday.

Business was very good at the freight depot yesterday, and many more cars could have been handled had there been any available. During the day the rollers loaded and sent out 14 cars, and today they were as busy as yesterday.

The amount of freight now being received is large, and not less than two cars are received at the platform every day.

SNOWDEN IS BETTER.

He Has Recovered Consciousness and Is Improving.

G. O. Snowden, who was so badly hurt by a fall at the plant of the Potters' Mining and Milling company, is improving, and there is now a slight chance for recovery.

He has recovered consciousness, and the attending physician was much pleased with his condition today.

STAMPS FOR CHECKS

Are Causing Bankers to Think of Old Times.

Among the features of the new war tax is the stamp for bank checks, and bankers are wondering about the time the law goes into effect and thinking of the days when a similar law was in effect years ago.

The law provides that every check drawn must bear a stamp, and the man who pays his debts in that way will in future have a supply of them on hand. Otherwise the bank will be compelled to place the stamp on the check and deduct the amount of two cents when it is paid.

On the River.

The river is falling, and the marks at the wharf at noon today registered 6.8 feet.

The Virginia passed up last night and will be down tomorrow. Its owners have decided to change the schedule of the boat in order that successful competition may be made with the Cummins line.

The Ben Hur and Urania will be down for Gallipolis tonight. If possible both the boats will go to Charleston, if the river is in such a condition as to permit navigation.

The Lorena will be up today with the Cammins.

The towboats are now coming up the river and making as much time as possible. The Jim Wood, Beaver, Mariner, Voyager and Pacific went up yesterday.

Home From Mt. Vernon.

Rev. O. S. Reed and D. J. Smith, who have been attending the Grand Army encampment at Mt. Vernon, returned home at noon today. The encampment will close this evening.

The gentlemen declare they enjoyed every hour of their stay.

Mr. Smith was elected delegate from this district to the national encampment at Cincinnati in September. Professor Reed was named as a candidate for department chaplain, and the action was so favorable that he will undoubtedly be elected next year.

Will Be Married This Evening.

The marriage of Mr. Charles McKee and Miss Nora Z. Smith will take place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith, Calcutta road, this evening at 9 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. J. M. Huston, assisted by Reverend Cartwright, of New Brighton.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee will leave tomorrow morning for a tour of the lakes and will spend several weeks in the north. They will make their future home in this city.

Killed an Italian.

The train due in this city at 8:20 hit an Italian section hand at Fair Oaks, eight miles east of Rochester this morning.

The train was coming down a steep grade and the Italian was driving a spike when he was struck. The train was stopped and the remains were taken to Freedom where they were left in the care of his countrymen.

Will Combine.

The clerks' union at their next meeting will act upon the proposition to combine with the union of the grocery clerks. It is probable the proposition will be acted upon favorably, as an effort was made to have the grocery clerks join the retail clerks' union when they organized, but at that time they preferred a separate organization.

Miss Alice Goodwin's Guests.

Miss Martha Medill, Misses Lena and Georgia Dent, Miss Mary Graham, of Bridgeport; Miss Kate Kuhn, of Wheeling, and Miss Florence Watts, of Sewickley, are in the city the guests of Miss Mary Alice Goodwin. They will attend the dance to be given this evening by the Columbian club.

Making Progress.

Work on the Jethro bridge is progressing rapidly, and yesterday morning workmen started to lay the ties for the street car line, but several hours delay was caused by the fact that some of the iron work was out of plumb.

The street car line will cross the bridge on the south side.

"REMEMBER THE MAINE."

JOE LEITER'S troubles would attract much more attention if we did not happen to have a war on hand.

SAGASTA is talking like a prize fighter,
 not alone in quantity, but in quality, if we are to believe the dispatches.

No ONE would seriously object if Uncle Sam would capture Spain's Canaries, but the public would rather see Cadiz the prize if we are going across
 the ocean.

THE Spanish general who commands at Santiago is bald. He was probably selected to prevent his being scalped by the Indian army the Spaniards seem to think we have.

If the Spaniards who mutilated the bodies of American marines are captured they will be shot at once. There is, however, little likelihood of them
 being apprehended. They lie too well.

CAPTAIN HARRY PALMER sailed from San Francisco yesterday with the remainder of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers on board the Zelandia. His many friends in the city will join with the News Review in wishing him a safe voyage and a speedy return.

 No one ever seriously questioned the outcome of the Alliance convention; no
 one will question the result of the campaign. Hon. R. W. Tayler will be returned to congress as he was nominated,
 by a large vote.

There are evidences that the Democrats will fight hard to capture the next house of representatives. They need it to hamper the president, but there are no indications to show they will be successful. The Republican party has the call, and will continue to have it unless some unforeseen military or naval reverse can be traced to the administration, and that is not at all probable.
 The issues have been announced, but
 there is nothing among them to appeal to the people. The old questions they would bring up have been for the present at least settled, while the new ones are not so clearly defined as to make a radical issue.

The Eighteenth district has particular cause for returning Mr. Tayler to congress. He who sits in the White House
 for years held its seat in the house of representatives, and is dear to the people. He has been honored by the nation as the first man of the land. To send a Democrat to congress would add another force to the power that seeks to drag President McKinley down, and in his stead place a member of that party.

Mr. Tayler has been a good congressman. No better party man ever sat in the house, his Republicanism at all times being unquestioned. He has won for himself a place among the party leaders, and is known as one who can be relied upon to do his duty. To his constituents he has ever shown that appreciative courtesy so often lacking in
 the people's representatives. He has done all within his power for his party and his district, and that has been much. No man could do more.

Only One Piece Checked.

The smallest amount of business that ever marked the baggage room was handled at noon today. Only one piece was checked.

STOLE FROM A BARBER

The Thief Got Away With Some Tools.

A FEW DRUNKS IN COURT

They Were Given the Usual Dose Yesterday Afternoon and This Morning--Mayor
 Bough and His Force Continue to Work.

Mayor Bough has disposed of a number of cases since yesterday afternoon. It is possible one of the men now in custody will be sent to the works for a six-months' term.

About noon yesterday the barber shop
 of Doc Howard in West Market street was robbed of a pair of clippers, scissors and a razor.
 The matter was promptly reported to the police and during the afternoon
 Chief Johnson arrested Neil Call and charged him with the theft. When searched the clippers were found on his person, and when questioned he admitted
 the taking of them from the shop. He was seen to go in the shop by an employe of the water works and that individual has given some valuable information to the authorities about the case. He will be heard this evening, and it is probable
 the case will go to court.

John Francis was arrested by Officer
 White in West Market street last night
 while attempting to get in a saloon after hours. He was very drunk at the time and the mayor thought it a good plan
 to let him sober before he was given a chance to plead guilty or not guilty.

Walter Brown has not lived with his wife for several months, and he met her in the Midway last night. This caused a quarrel and Walter was run in by Officer Mahony. He told the mayor he wanted to go to work this morning, and
 he pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $6.60 which he paid.

Fred Bloor, who was found sleeping
 in a stable in the rear of Second street,
 was released last night and all the
 mayor gave him was a severe lecture.
 He was told to carry himself straight or
 he would be given a railroad ride.

Francis Leech, the old soldier who
 was put in by Officer McCullough Tuesday night, was released last night. He paid $9.50.

PRONOUNCED SAFE.

The Steps in Front of the Property of Mr.
 Fisher Will Remain.

Messrs. Peach and Stewart last evening viewed the steps of F. L. Fisher, which caused such a heated discussion
 in council Tuesday evening. After a thorough examination the steps were pronounced safe for the time being and will be permitted to remain. Workmen will commence in the morning to set the curb in front of the property and an effort will be made to complete the sidewalk before the end of the week and then Mr. Fisher can erect permanent steps.

THREE GOOD BOATS

Battered Caimanera Defenses to Pieces.

A LITTLE OVER AN HOUR

Was Required to Do Some Very Good Work--The Range Was Short, and the Execution Wonderful--Spanish Loss Is Heavy.

GUATANAMO BAY, June 16--[Special]—The defenses at Caimanera have been bombarded and knocked to pieces.

The vessels engaged were the Texas, Marblehead and Suwanee, and it seemed as though every shot took effect. The bombardment only lasted 95 minutes, but the destruction accomplished will rank with anything yet done by the fleet. The range was not long. It is believed that the loss to the Spanish in killed and wounded was large.

THEY KICK

Because Fifth Street is Still Blocked.

There is a great deal of complaint from the merchants of Fifth street because the Kelly homestead is not being moved faster, and one prominent man in speaking of the matter said:

"Some time ago council passed an ordinance prohibiting the moving of houses along the streets when a passage way was not left for one team, and also that no house should remain in one block over two days. I am not a kicker but I think the ordinance should be enforced if it is good, especially when houses are moved as slow as this one. At the rate it is going now it will block up the street for at least two weeks."

STILL LOOKING FOR GROUNDS

There Was a Large Attendance at the Meeting of Trades Council Last Night, and Only a Little Business Was Transacted.

There was a good attendance last evening at Trades council, but little business was transacted.

The session was called to order with Vice President McConnell in the chair, and after the minutes had been read and approved the Labor day committee reported progress. They are still negotiating for grounds and making other arrangements, and expect to make a partial report at the next meeting.

The organization committee reported that they had organized by electing J. J. Weisend, chairman, and John Litmer, secretary. To fill a vacancy on the label committee, John Davidson, of the jiggermen, was selected.

The subject of having a telephone placed in the room has been discussed at several meetings and the matter was again brought up and finally placed in the hands of a committee with instructions to report at the next meeting.

The receipts of the meeting as reported were $8, and the expenses $18.75.

CANTON CAN HAVE HIM.

An Old Man Was Returned There by the Trustees.

A LITTLE OVER AN HOUR

Was Required to Do Some Very Good Work--The Range Was Short, and the Execution Wonderful--Spanish Loss Is Heavy.

GUATANAMO BAY, June 16--[Special]--The defenses at Caimanera have been bombarded and knocked to pieces.

The vessels engaged were the Texas, Marblehead and Suwanee, and it seemed as though every shot took effect. The bombardment only lasted 95 minutes, but the destruction accomplished will rank with anything yet done by the fleet. The range was not long. It is believed that the loss to the Spanish in killed and wounded was large.

THEY KICK Because Fifth Street is Still Blockaded.

There is a great deal of complaint from the merchants of Fifth street because the Kelly homestead is not being moved faster, and one prominent man in speaking of the matter said:

"Some time ago council passed an ordinance prohibiting the moving of houses along the streets when a passage way was not left for one team, and also that no house should remain in one block over two days. I am not a kicker but I think the ordinance should be enforced if it is good, especially when houses are moved as slow as this one. At the rate it is going now it will block up the street for at least two weeks."

HOW TO BUY A BOND

Secretary Gage Sends Out Some Information.

SOLD AT PAR UNTIL JULY 14

Blank Forms Can Be Obtained at Any Money Order Postoffice and at Banks. The Subscription Draws Interest From the Time It Is Received.

The determination of the government to issue to $200,000,000 of 3 per cent bonds has awakened the interest of people who have money to invest, and in order that there be less mistakes Secretary Gage has sent out a circular letter containing a vast amount of information.

Subscriptions will be received at par until 3 o'clock on the afternoon of July 14, the bonds being issued in coupon and registered form, coupon bonds in the denominations of $20, $100, $500, $1,000, and registered $20, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000. The interest is payable annually. Those who come first will be first served, but individuals have the preference. All subscriptions of $500 or less will be allotted in full when received, but over that amount the subscriber must wait until after the subscription closes.

The method of subscription has been made as simple as possible. Blank forms may be obtained at every money order postoffice, and at most of the banks and express offices, and on these forms is clearly indicated all that it is necessary for the subscriber to fill out. The subscriber may himself mail to the treasury department at Washington the blank form filled out, together with his remittance covering the par value of the amount of bonds for which he wishes to subscribe. That remittance may be in whatever form best suits the subscriber's convenience—in currency, bank draft, check, postoffice money order, or express money order. The day the currency is received, or the day the proceeds are received from the checks, drafts, or money orders, the subscription will be entered and will immediately begin drawing interest. When the bonds are delivered, a check will accompany each delivery covering the interest at 3 per cent from the day the subscription is entered to the first of August, the date of the bonds, and from which date the bonds will carry their own interest.

DOCTOR EWING, OF INDIA,

Was Elected President of Wooster University.

The principal business was the election of a president, and the matter was carefully discussed all of Tuesday afternoon. Yesterday the vote was taken and Dr. J. C. Ewing, of Lahor, India, was elected. A committee was appointed to learn his desires in the matter.

Another important matter was the acceptance of a handsome gift from Captain Kaulk, a member of the board, who presented his home residence to the university. It is situated three squares from the main building and is valued at $25,000. The property will be used by the musical department.

Professor Rayman could not remain for commencement, but was made one of the judges in the junior oratorical contest.

A young woman from India won first place.

GOOD LITERATURE

Will Be Provided Soldiers if Plans Materialize.

Inquiries have been made recently at the state library in regard to what could be done in the way of sending literature to the Ohio soldiers now at the front. The library commission of Wisconsin has done something in this line, but not at the expense of the state. It is possible that the Ohio state library may send some of its traveling libraries to Ohio regiments. Transportation, however, will cost so much that this plan may not prove feasible.

William H. Brett, librarian of the Cleveland public library, has taken considerable interest in this matter. He and State Librarian Galbreath are at present in correspondence with Secretary Alger about certain plans aiming to this end.

It is a fact beyond dispute that we sell the best $11 and $12 men's spring suits of this season's make for $7.75.

THE DANGER OF BEAUTY.

I never read the papers without feeling so content That both my eyes are twisted and my nose is slightly bent. I'm glad my mouth is out of line and that my teeth are few. And if I had a "wealth of hair" I don't know what I'd do.

A "tiny foot" or "lily hand" would fill me with dismay. And if I had a slender waist I'd sicken in a day. For I have noticed from the first, as strange as it may seem, The girl who gets the worst of it is "lovely as a dream."

The papers never tell about a woman being shot, Or mangled by a trolley car, or married to a sot, Or forced at point of pistol her last fifty cents to lose, But that her eyes are "limpid" and her boots are number twos.

So I can live in sweet content, without the slightest fear That trouble or calamity will ever hover near, And when I see my misfit face it's some relief to know That I'll outlive the beauties by a hundred years or so!

MAKE THE MEN MARKET.

A Woman Writer's Bold Suggestion to Help Weary Wives.

There are few things that exhaust a woman more than a day's shopping. The average man looks upon a woman's "purchasing day" as one of pleasure, but when he accompanies her on one of these shopping expeditions he goes home, after his patience has been all exhausted, with a different belief. He learns, too, that a woman can endure vexations and disappointments with much more equanimity than he can, and he mentally vows never to do it again.

The number of miles traversed is really what tires one, and it is little wonder that the woman who does the shopping for herself and her entire family, as well as the marketing and the bargaining with the "butcher and baker and candlestick maker," should feel the need of rest for her tired nerves.

The man of the house should always do the marketing. In the old days, when the butler was not the stately personage he is now, women were never troubled with the worries of household purchasing, for the head of the house did the entire buying, and "James" carried the parcels and was not ashamed to do it.

No mother who has the care of little children should give the precious morning hours to anything else but the nursery, nor should she let butchers' and grocers' boys call for and deliver orders, because there is sure to be dissatisfaction if she does. Some wealthy families allow their chef to take charge of the household, and he collects a large percentage from the tradesmen, which, of course, is added to the monthly bill. Reputable storekeepers will not do this kind of business, however, and the chef "patronage" is controlled entirely by a few men. On the whole, it is much more satisfactory for the man of the house to do the marketing. He will get the best meat, have his orders promptly attended to and save about 25 per cent in the transaction, as well as the health of his wife. —Chicago Times-Herald.

Geological Deductions.

Geology was once defined by Lord Salisbury as "the science of the what might have been." Some American geologists prefer to regard it as the science of the what may be. Pictures have often been drawn of the destruction of Toronto and the devastation of southern Ontario and Quebec by a flood let loose when the great lakes are emptied owing to the continued recession of Niagara falls.

Professor G. K. Gilbert now tells us that long before this disaster is due Niagara will have been destroyed by other processes. Some slow changes of level are now taking place over the whole lake region. The eastern outlet will be closed and the lakes drained by discharging from the southern end of Lake Michigan into the basin of the Mississippi. The change in the river system will begin in about 1,000 years' time. The evidence adduced by Professor Gilbert in support of this prophecy is of great interest, although only his preliminary report has yet been published. —Spectator.

Tobogganing in 1765.

It is interesting to note in Smollett's "Travels Through France and Italy" that when the novelist was making an excursion in March, 1765, from Nice across the Maritime Alps to Turin he descended the Piedmontese slope of the Col di Tenda toward Cuneo on a toboggan.

"Having reached the top of the mountain," he tells us in letter 38, "we prepared for descending on the other side by the leze, which is an occasional sledge made of two pieces of wood, carried up by the coulants (local guides) for the purpose. I did not much relish this kind of carriage, especially as the mountain was very steep and covered with such a thick fog that we could hardly see two or three yards before us. Nevertheless our guides were so confident and my companion, who had passed the same way on other occasions, so secure that I ventured to place myself on this machine, one of the coulants standing behind me and the other sitting before me as the conductor, with his feet paddling in the snow, in order to moderate the velocity of its

This is simply tobogganing used as a practical means of transit for travelers in the Alps. —Chambers' Journal.

Given as a Medicine.

A rebuke emphasized by a kindness is apt to be remembered. One day an officer walked into the office of one of the well known business men of the west. "What do you want here?" he said to the officer.

"I've come to attach the wages of one of your men for a debt."

"Who is the man?"

The officer named him, and he was at once summoned to his employer's office.

"How long have you been in debt?" was the first question asked.

"Been behindhand for 20 years. I can't seem to catch up," said the man.

"But you have a good salary."

"I know it, but I can't get out of debt."

"You must get out, or you must leave here. How much do you owe?"

The whole was not much less than $1,000, but the employer immediately wrote his check for the amount, and said, as he handed it to the man:

It was what the doctors call "heroic treatment," and it not only astonished the man, but "revolutionized" him. He settled with his creditors, and then, by carefulness, kept out of debt.

Better than a genius for making money is the habit of paying as you go. —Youth's Companion.

Sailing on Fresh Water.

A Pittsburguer who at one time served an enlistment on the United States steamship Michigan, a vessel of the United States navy which is stationed on the great lakes, tells a story of Charles V. Gridley, captain of the flag-ship Olympia, which led the fighting at Manila.

Young Gridley, shortly after graduation at the Naval academy, was ordered to the Michigan for duty. A few days after he had reported the commander ordered the usual boat drill, and the crew went through the process of abandoning the ship. When the cutter of which Gridley was in command had gone a mile or two away from the vessel, the young officer, who had never before sailed on fresh water, inquired sharply for the water cask, which he discovered had not been placed in the boat.

"What do you fellows do for drinking water when you are called away from the ship?" he asked the cockswain with some asperity.

"Sure, sir," replied that worthy, "we generally dip over the side."

Gridley had nothing more to say, but the joke has been in circulation ever since. —Pittsburg Dispatch.

Battleship and Cruiser.

The difference between a battleship and an armored cruiser is technical, and experts have stumbled over the matter. A battleship is supposed to have heavier guns and armor and to be better fitted to withstand hard knocks from an opposing force. But this does not always hold good, as may be seen in the case of the Maine as compared with the Brooklyn. The Maine was a battleship, but she was not so large nor so heavily armored as the armored cruiser Brooklyn. On one point there seems to be no dispute, and that is the fact that the cruisers are faster than the battleships, and it is conceded also that in most instances the battleships are better protected. —New York Tribune.

A Weak Brother.

Penn had a very strong aversion to tobacco. Once he came unexpectedly upon some of the Friends who were enjoying the fragrant weed, but out of respect for their great leader they hid their pipes, which, however, still continued to emit smoke. Perceiving this, the governor said pleasantly, "Well, friends, I am glad to see that you are at last ashamed of your old practice."

"Not entirely so," replied one of the brethren, "but we preferred laying down our pipes to the danger of offending a weaker brother." —London Tit-Bits.

A Change of Opinion.

"There's a good deal of human nature in a puppy," remarked the philosopher, calmly watching Fido tearing his best hat to pieces. "Almost as destructive as one of my little nephews."

Mrs. Bonner—Why, professor, don't you see he's got your hat!

The Professor—Thunder, so he has! I thought it was one of the boarders' hats. Take that, you whelp! —Boston Transcript.

In certain parts of Norway when a person is drowned a cock is put in a boat, which is rowed about the scene of the disaster, the belief being that the bird will crow when the boat passes over the body.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE.

COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER.

Good only during months named in lower left hand corner and when properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

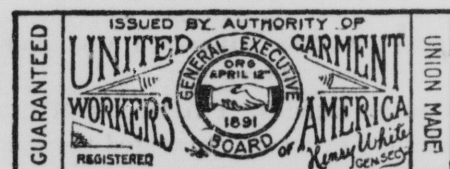

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union-made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

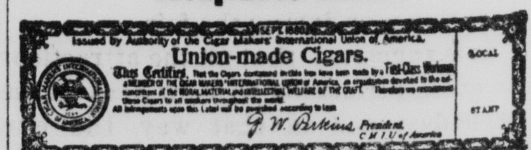

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

HOW TO BUY A BOND

Secretary Gage Sends Out Some Information.

SOLD AT PAR UNTIL JULY 14

Blank Forms Can Be Obtained at Any Money Order Postoffice and at Banks. The Subscription Draws Interest From the Time It Is Received.

The determination of the government to issue to $300,000,000 of 3 per cent bonds has awakened the interest of people who have money to invest, and in order that there be less mistakes Secretary Gage has sent out a circular letter containing a vast amount of information.

Subscriptions will be received at par until 3 o'clock on the afternoon of July 14, the bonds being issued in coupon and registered form, coupon bonds in the denominations of $20, $100, $500, $1,000, and registered $20, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000. The interest is payable annually. Those who come first will be first served, but individuals have the preference. All subscriptions of $500 or less will be allotted in full when received, but over that amount the subscriber must wait until after the subscription closes.

The method of subscription has been made as simple as possible. Blank forms may be obtained at every money order postoffice, and at most of the banks and express offices, and on these forms is clearly indicated all that it is necessary for the subscriber to fill out. The subscriber may himself mail to the treasury department at Washington the blank form filled out, together with his remittance covering the par value of the amount of bonds for which he wishes to subscribe. That remittance may be in whatever form best suits the subscriber's convenience—in currency, bank draft, check, postoffice money order, or express money order. The day the currency is received, or the day the proceeds are received from the checks, drafts, or money orders, the subscription will be entered and will immediately begin drawing interest. When the bonds are delivered, a check will accompany each delivery covering the interest at 3 per cent from the day the subscription is entered to the first of August, the date of the bonds, and from which date the bonds will carry their own interest.

DOCTOR EWING, OF INDIA,

Was Elected President of Wooster University.

The principal business was the election of a president, and the matter was carefully discussed all of Tuesday afternoon. Yesterday the vote was taken and Dr. J. C. Ewing, of Lahor, India, was elected. A committee was appointed to learn his desires in the matter.

Another important matter was the acceptance of a handsome gift from Captain Kaulk, a member of the board, who presented his home residence to the university. It is situated three squares from the main building and is valued at $25,000. The property will be used by the musical department.

Professor Rayman could not remain for commencement, but was made one of the judges in the junior oratorical contest.

A young woman from India won first place.

GOOD LITERATURE

Will Be Provided Soldiers if Plans Materialize.

Inquiries have been made recently at the state library in regard to what could be done in the way of sending literature to the Ohio soldiers now at the front. The library commission of Wisconsin has done something in this line, but not at the expense of the state. It is possible that the Ohio state library may send some of its traveling libraries to Ohio regiments. Transportation, however, will cost so much that this plan may not prove feasible.

William H. Brett, librarian of the Cleveland public library, has taken considerable interest in this matter. He and State Librarian Galbreath are at present in correspondence with Secretary Alger about certain plans aiming to this end.

It is a fact beyond dispute that we sell the best $11 and $12 men's spring suits of this season's make for $7.75.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

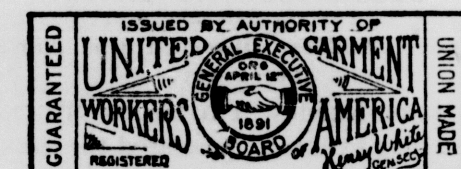

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold.

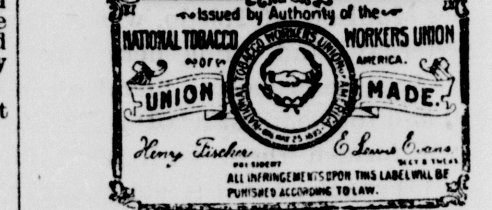

The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

Secretary Gage Sends Out Some Information.

SOLD AT PAR UNTIL JULY 14

Blank Forms Can Be Obtained at Any Money Order Postoffice and at Banks. The Subscription Draws Interest From the Time It Is Received.

The determination of the government to issue to $200,000,000 of 3 per cent bonds has awakened the interest of people who have money to invest, and in order that there be less mistakes Secretary Gage has sent out a circular letter containing a vast amount of information.

Subscriptions will be received at par until 3 o'clock on the afternoon of July 14, the bonds being issued in coupon and registered form, coupon bonds in the denominations of $20, $100, $500, $1,000, and registered $20, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000. The interest is payable annually. Those who come first will be first served, but individuals have the preference. All subscriptions of $500 or less will be allotted in full when received, but over that amount the subscriber must wait until after the subscription closes.

The method of subscription has been made as simple as possible. Blank forms may be obtained at every money order postoffice, and at most of the banks and express offices, and on these forms is clearly indicated all that it is necessary for the subscriber to fill out. The subscriber may himself mail to the treasury department at Washington the blank form filled out, together with his remittance covering the par value of the amount of bonds for which he wishes to subscribe. That remittance may be in whatever form best suits the subscriber's convenience—in currency, bank draft, check, postoffice money order, or express money order. The day the currency is received, or the day the proceeds are received from the checks, drafts, or money orders, the subscription will be entered and will immediately begin drawing interest. When the bonds are delivered, a check will accompany each delivery covering the interest at 3 per cent from the day the subscription is entered to the first of August, the date of the bonds, and from which date the bonds will carry their own interest.

DOCTOR EWING, OF INDIA,

Was Elected President of Wooster University.

The principal business was the election of a president, and the matter was carefully discussed all of Tuesday afternoon. Yesterday the vote was taken and Dr. J. C. Ewing, of Lahor, India, was elected. A committee was appointed to learn his desires in the matter.

Another important matter was the acceptance of a handsome gift from Captain Kaulk, a member of the board, who presented his home residence to the university. It is situated three squares from the main building and is valued at $25,000. The property will be used by the musical department.

Professor Rayman could not remain for commencement, but was made one of the judges in the junior oratorical contest.

A young woman from India won first place.

GOOD LITERATURE

Will Be Provided Soldiers if Plans Materialize.

Inquiries have been made recently at the state library in regard to what could be done in the way of sending literature to the Ohio soldiers now at the front. The library commission of Wisconsin has done something in this line, but not at the expense of the state. It is possible that the Ohio state library may send some of its traveling libraries to Ohio regiments. Transportation, however, will cost so much that this plan may not prove feasible.

William H. Brett, librarian of the Cleveland public library, has taken considerable interest in this matter. He and State Librarian Galbreath are at present in correspondence with Secretary Alger about certain plans aiming to this end.

It is a fact beyond dispute that we sell the best $11 and $12 men's spring suits of this season's make for $7.75.

THE DANGER OF BEAUTY.

I never read the papers without feeling so content. That both my eyes are twisted and my nose is slightly bent. I'm glad my mouth is out of line and that my teeth are few. And if I had a "wealth of hair" I don't know what I'd do.

A "tiny foot" or "lily hand" would fill me with dismay. And if I had a slender waist I'd sicken in a day.

For I have noticed from the first, as strange as it may seem, The girl who gets the worst of it is "lovely as a dream."

The papers never tell about a woman being shot, Or mangled by a trolley car, or married to a sot, Or forced at point of pistol her last fifty cents to lose, But that her eyes are "limpid" and her boots are number twos.

So I can live in sweet content, without the slightest fear

That trouble or calamity will ever hover near, And when I see my misfit face it's some relief to know

That I'll outlive the beauties by a hundred years or so!

—Brooklyn Life.

MAKE THE MEN MARKET.

A Woman Writer's Bold Suggestion to Help Weary Wives.

There are few things that exhaust a woman more than a day's shopping. The average man looks upon a woman's "purchasing day" as one of pleasure, but when he accompanies her on one of these shopping expeditions he goes home, after his patience has been all exhausted, with a different belief. He learns, too, that a woman can endure vexations and disappointments with much more equanimity than he can, and he mentally vows never to do it again.

The number of miles traversed is really what tires one, and it is little wonder that the woman who does the shopping for herself and her entire family, as well as the marketing and the bargaining with the "butcher and baker and candlestick maker," should feel the need of rest for her tired nerves.

The man of the house should always do the marketing. In the old days, when the butler was not the stately personage he is now, women were never troubled with the worries of household purchasing, for the head of the house did the entire buying, and "James" carried the parcels and was not ashamed to do it.

No mother who has the care of little children should give the precious morning hours to anything else but the nursery, nor should she let butchers' and grocers' boys call for and deliver orders, because there is sure to be dissatisfaction if she does. Some wealthy families allow their chef to take charge of the household, and he collects a large percentage from the tradesmen, which, of course, is added to the monthly bill. Reputable storekeepers will not do this kind of business, however, and the chef "patronage" is controlled entirely by a few men. On the whole, it is much more satisfactory for the man of the house to do the marketing. He will get the best meat, have his orders promptly attended to and save about 25 per cent in the transaction, as well as the health of his wife. —Chicago Times-Herald.

Geological Deductions.

Geology was once defined by Lord Salisbury as "the science of the what might have been." Some American geologists prefer to regard it as the science of the what may be. Pictures have often been drawn of the destruction of Toronto and the devastation of southern Ontario and Quebec by a flood let loose when the great lakes are emptied owing to the continued recession of Niagara falls.

Professor G. K. Gilbert now tells us that long before this disaster is due Niagara will have been destroyed by other processes. Some slow changes of level are now taking place over the whole lake region. The eastern outlet will be closed and the lakes drained by discharging from the southern end of Lake Michigan into the basin of the Mississippi. The change in the river system will begin in about 1,000 years' time. The evidence adduced by Professor Gilbert in support of this prophecy is of great interest, although only his preliminary report has yet been published. —Spectator.

Tobogganing in 1765.

It is interesting to note in Smollett's "Travels Through France and Italy" that when the novelist was making an excursion in March, 1765, from Nice across the Maritime Alps to Turin he descended the Piedmontese slope of the Col di Tenda toward Cuneo on a toboggan.

"Having reached the top of the mountain," he tells us in letter 38, "we prepared for descending on the other side by the leze, which is an occasional sledge made of two pieces of wood, carried up by the coulants (local guides) for the purpose. I did not much relish this kind of carriage, especially as the mountain was very steep and covered with such a thick fog that we could hardly see two or three yards before us. Nevertheless our guides were so confident and my companion, who had passed the same way on other occasions, so secure that I ventured to place myself on this machine, one of the coulants standing behind me and the other sitting before me as the conductor, with his feet paddling in the snow, in order to moderate the velocity of its

This is simply tobogganing used as a practical means of transit for travelers in the Alps. —Chambers' Journal.

Given as a Medicine.

A rebuke emphasized by a kindness is apt to be remembered. One day an officer walked into the office of one of the well known business men of the west.

"What do you want here?" he said to the officer.

"I've come to attach the wages of one of your men for a debt."

"Who is the man?"

The officer named him, and he was at once summoned to his employer's office.

"How long have you been in debt?" was the first question asked.

"Been behindhand for 20 years. I can't seem to catch up," said the man.

"But you have a good salary."

"I know it, but I can't get out of debt."

"You must get out, or you must leave here. How much do you owe?"

The whole was not much less than $1,000, but the employer immediately wrote his check for the amount, and said, as he handed it to the man:

It was what the doctors call "heroic treatment," and it not only astonished the man, but "revolutionized" him. He settled with his creditors, and then, by carefulness, kept out of debt.

Better than a genius for making money is the habit of paying as you go. —Youth's Companion.

Sailing on Fresh Water.

A Pittsburger who at one time served an enlistment on the United States steamship Michigan, a vessel of the United States navy which is stationed on the great lakes, tells a story of Charles V. Gridley, captain of the flagship Olympia, which led the fighting at Manila.

Young Gridley, shortly after graduation at the Naval academy, was ordered to the Michigan for duty. A few days after he had reported the commander ordered the usual boat drill, and the crew went through the process of abandoning the ship. When the cutter of which Gridley was in command had gone a mile or two away from the vessel, the young officer, who had never before sailed on fresh water, inquired sharply for the water cask, which he discovered had not been placed in the boat.

"What do you fellows do for drinking water when you are called away from the ship?" he asked the cockswain with some asperity.

"Sure, sir," replied that worthy, "we generally dip over the side." Gridley had nothing more to say, but the joke has been in circulation ever since. —Pittsburg Dispatch.

Battleship and Cruiser.

The difference between a battleship and an armored cruiser is technical, and experts have stumbled over the matter. A battleship is supposed to have heavier guns and armor and to be better fitted to withstand hard knocks from an opposing force. But this does not always hold good, as may be seen in the case of the Maine as compared with the Brooklyn. The Maine was a battleship, but she was not so large nor so heavily armored as the armored cruiser Brooklyn. On one point there seems to be no dispute, and that is the fact that the cruisers are faster than the battleships, and it is conceded also that in most instances the battleships are better protected. —New York Tribune.

A Weak Brother.

Penn had a very strong aversion to tobacco. Once he came unexpectedly upon some of the Friends who were enjoying the fragrant weed, but out of respect for their great leader they hid their pipes, which, however, still continued to emit smoke. Perceiving this, the governor said pleasantly, "Well, friends, I am glad to see that you are at last ashamed of your old practice." "Not entirely so," replied one of the brethren, "but we preferred laying down our pipes to the danger of offending a weaker brother." —London Tit-Bits.

A Change of Opinion.

"There's a good deal of human nature in a puppy," remarked the philosopher, calmly watching Fido tearing his best hat to pieces. "Almost as destructive as one of my little nephews."

Mrs. Bouncer—Why, professor, don't you see he's got your hat!

The Professor—Thunder, so he has! I thought it was one of the boarders' hats. Take that, you whelp! —Boston Transcript.

Facts in the Case.

"My son has accepted a position in Judge Hobbs' office."

"Yes. I met him when he was running his legs off getting indorsements on his application for the job." —Cleveland Leader.

In certain parts of Norway when a person is drowned a cock is put in a boat, which is rowed about the scene of the disaster, the belief being that the bird will crow when the boat passes over the body.

GUYING THE RECRUITS

Soldiers at Camp Alger Receive Them In Form.

THE RELIC MAN FINDS VICTIMS

Usually He Has More Money Than He Cares to Keep In His Pocket and Is Robbed—The Health of the Company Is Good.

It's nice to be a bloody dub
An' chained t' quarters here,
Where tack an' slush is all the rub
An' girls are scarce as beer.
We like these things, of course,
A little bit, bit, bit;
But Dewey like this hardtack,
Nixey, nit, nit, nit.

—A Camp Lay.

CAMP ALGER, June 15.—[Special]—The arrival of recruits for the Eighth gives the soldiers opportunities to test their lungs and detracts somewhat from the routine of camp life.

No one could expect the boys who have seen service, in camp if not on the battlefield, to receive these well dressed young men who march so close together and seem to be looking everywhere but at the soldier in charge, without some appropriate ceremony. Now the camp is too big for one ceremony, so each company greets its own, and for several days there has been fun.

When the Akron boys came in they looked hungry and weary, but they were at once put to work. When supper time arrived each man was given a piece of that interesting portion of a fat pig commonly known as side meat, a spoonful of beans and one hard tack. Their looks betokened their surprise, but the cook informed them in all earnestness that it was considered a good meal. The hungry recruits attacked the lunch with vigor, and after it had disappeared and the boys had enjoyed their laugh they were given a square meal which brought forth many expressions of satisfaction.

Crowds are out to meet each squad of recruits, and the air is filled with such encouraging remarks as "Your ma won't know you in a few days;" "Oh, but you'll be sorry soon;" "You had a good home and you left it." The recruits smile a weary smile, but take it like the men they all appear to be.

The fakir who sells relics is reaping a harvest, and some soldiers are being nicely taken in. Old bayonets, cannon balls and bombs, some of the latter unexploded and dangerous, command fancy prices. One of our boys purchased a rusty sword which the dealer declared had been worn by General Jubal Early, for $3. There was some suspicion at the time, and investigation showed it was a sword such as the Knights of Pythias wear and manufactured long after Jubal Early ceased to need a weapon of that kind. Another victim paid a fancy price for a chair rung warranted to have been a part of the chair on which General Lee sat the day he signed the papers of capitulation at Appomattox.

Almost every branch of business has appeared since we came here. The road leading to camp is lined with stands where the druggist, dentist, physician, tailor, photographer, baker, shoe dealer and refreshment man stands ready to take what little money the soldier happens to have.

The problem of laundry was a serious one for a time, but it is being solved. Many soldiers have manufactured washboards by stringing wire across a plank. Two of our boys have each been fined $3 and given three days' fatigue duty for being absent without leave. The Eighth always has its representatives at courtmartial, but the offenses are light and the punishment is usually made to fit the crime.

The health of the Eighth is good. It is but little illness and that is the result of vaccination.

GOLD FROM SEA WATER.

First Fruits of the Process Recently Reached the New York Assay Office.

New York assay office officials were somewhat astonished recently by the receipt of 13 cones of bullion, 2 inches in diameter and 1½ high, from a concern on the coast of Maine, which were alleged to have been obtained by a new process from sea water.

In a letter from the president of the company it was stated that the cones contained gold and silver in the proportion of one-third gold and two-thirds silver, and it was asked that the assay office enter the cones for assay, returning the proceeds of the gold in cash and the silver in a brick by express. The cones contain 92 ounces.

Scientists have known for many years that sea water contained precious metals. Dr. Henry Wurtz of New York 30 years ago demonstrated the existence of gold and silver in the waters of the ocean and announced his discoveries to the American Association For the Advancement of Science.

CONDENSED MILK TRUST.

How One Was Broken Up In Circle City With a Rope.

Mrs. William Joy of Scranton, Pa., recently received a letter from her son, William C. Joy, who writes from Circle City.

"Three months ago I was visiting a new camp on the Stuart river. There were four places where provisions could be purchased at exorbitant prices. The camp was very small, and these traders had arranged with a few miners who were in the job to gather practically all the condensed milk. The boys did not get on to the scheme until their own supplies of condensed milk ran out. Then they found that all that was left in the camp was owned by one man, who had secured it by previous arrangement with the others and had raised the price 200 per cent.

"Well, they simply called a miners' meeting and sent a committee to the trust promoter, telling him that all the condensed milk was to be divided among the prospectors at the old price. He refused, of course, saying that he would take no bluff.

"The committee waited five minutes for the man to change his mind and then returned with a rope. That settled it, and the condensed milk was divided pro rata." —New York World.

Monster's Bones Found.

Men employed making an excavation for a cellar on the farm of William Ax, near Shreve, Wayne county, O., found a portion of an animal that in life must have been a monster. Though there were only a front leg and the better part of the jaw, the mass weighed 123 pounds. Several of the teeth were weighed and found to average from one to two pounds. The kneecap weighed four and a half pounds and was as large as a dinner plate. The part of the jaw was 23 inches in length and over 5 inches wide. The jaw must have been at least ten inches longer. The teeth were very solid. The bones have been examined by a number of scientists, but as yet no one has been able to tell as to what animal or age they belonged. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

BOYLE'S FLOUR GOLD.

HIS LEGS ABSORBED THE METAL FROM THE YUKON'S WATER.

Limbs Lost Their Power—By Mercurial Treatment and a Turkish Bath a Doctor Extracted Gold From Boyle's Body Worth $270—His Mind Was Affected.

Superintendent Woodson of Missouri State Lunatic asylum, No. 2, recently received into the institution for treatment a patient whose case is without precedent in medical annals.

Abe Boyle went to Alaska in the summer of 1896 and was one of the first to set out for the Klondike diggings. His claim was one of the few from which the nuggets and coarse gold had to a considerable extent been carried lower down the creek, while the washing from above left the gravel heavily impregnated with what is known as "flour gold." This is the finest form taken on by the yellow metal, which in that shape manifests its presence in the sands of all the Rocky mountain plateaus and even in the waters of the Pacific ocean, into which it is carried by the streams heading westward from the great continental divide. There is no known method of saving flour gold, which will escape over the quicksilver plates of a stamp mill in spite of all efforts to capture it.

Boyle, during the summer of 1897, was much of the time immersed to the waist in the waters of the Yukon. Being in the water constantly, his body seems to have accomplished what no invention of man has yet done, for through the pores of the skin there was absorbed an incredible quantity of flour gold.

He was seized with what he thought was rheumatism, but kept on with his work until his limbs became unmanageable. It was as if ossification, if not petrification, had set in. This condition gradually spread upward, and he lost his appetite and eventually became insane. There being no physician in the camp capable of handling the case, he was sent back to the United States in charge of a friend, who kept him for several months at his old home in Lander, Wy. His condition did not improve, and he was finally taken to Laramie, Wy., where Dr. William H. Harris, one of the most noted practitioners in the west, thought he had located the source of his trouble and resolved upon an experiment to test the correctness of his theory.

In a Turkish bath house Boyle was submitted for a week to a treatment in which the medicine administered consisted largely of mercury. Then he was given a thorough Turkish bath. His chair in the sweating room was placed in a shallow basin of zinc, so that the perspiration that poured down from his body would all be retained. He was afterward rushed through the remaining features of the bath and put to bed. When he awoke, he was found to have entirely recovered from the hitherto unaccountable stiffness of his limbs, his flesh being soft and pliable as an infant's, though his mind was still affected. The next thing done was to examine the contents of the zinc basin in the sweating room. An assay of its contents showed that the mercury, administered in the form of pills, had passed off through the open pores of the skin, carrying with it the flour gold with which Boyle's body had been saturated. An assay by Superintendent M. A. Grant of the Keystone mine showed that the value of the flour gold drawn from Boyle's body by means of mercury approximated $270.

The effects of the treatment upon the mind were something the physicians did not care to experiment with, so Boyle was sent to the asylum in St. Joseph, Mo. He is now apparently in the best of health physically, and Superintendent Woodson believes he will soon regain his reason. —New York Journal.

Here is a good story of the Right Rev. Thomas Underwood Dudley. The bishop had gone to Beattyville, and the place was rough and desolate. A rough looking man came up to him. "They tell me you're from Virginia," said the man.

"Yes."
"They tell me you fought with the rebels."
"Yes."
"Give me your hand, pard. My name's Bill Dolan, an I'm a blacksmith down here."

"Bill," said the bishop, "I'm proud to meet you."
That night Bill Dolan went to the service and heard the bishop preach, and he went afterward too.

Twelve years later the bishop went to Beattyville once more. It was sunset. He was met by the town's clergyman. "Bishop, Bill Dolan died yesterday, and before he died I baptized him," said the minister. "In his last words he told me to tell the bishop that he loved him."

"That," said the bishop, "was indeed a compensation!" —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Soldiers at Camp Alger Receive Them In Form.

THE RELIC MAN FINDS VICTIMS

Usually He Has More Money Than He Cares to Keep In His Pocket and Is Robbed—The Health of the Company Is Good.

It's nice to be a bloody dub
An' chained t' quarters here,
Where tack an' slush is all the rub
An' girls are scarce as beer.
We like these things, of course,
A little bit, bit, bit;
But Dewey like this hardtack,
Nixey, nit, nit, nit.

—A Camp Lay.

CAMP ALGER, June 15.—[Special]—The arrival of recruits for the Eighth gives the soldiers opportunities to test their lungs and detracts somewhat from the routine of camp life.

No one could expect the boys who have seen service, in camp if not on the battlefield, to receive these well dressed young men who march so close together and seem to be looking everywhere but at the soldier in charge, without some appropriate ceremony. Now the camp is too big for one ceremony, so each company greets its own, and for several days there has been fun.

When the Akron boys came in they looked hungry and weary, but they were at once put to work. When supper time arrived each man was given a piece of that interesting portion of a fat pig commonly known as side meat, a spoonful of beans and one hard tack. Their looks betokened their surprise, but the cook informed them in all earnestness that it was considered a good meal. The hungry recruits attacked the lunch with vigor, and after it had disappeared and the boys had enjoyed their laugh they were given a square meal which brought forth many expressions of satisfaction.

Crowds are out to meet each squad of recruits, and the air is filled with such encouraging remarks as "Your ma won't know you in a few days;" "Oh, but you'll be sorry soon;" "You had a good home and you left it." The recruits smile a weary smile, but take it like the men they all appear to be.

The fakir who sells relics is reaping a harvest, and some soldiers are being nicely taken in. Old bayonets, cannon balls and bombs, some of the latter unexploded and dangerous, command fancy prices. One of our boys purchased a rusty sword which the dealer declared had been worn by General Jubal Early, for $3. There was some suspicion at the time, and investigation showed it was a sword such as the Knights of Pythias wear and manufactured long after Jubal Early ceased to need a weapon of that kind. Another victim paid a fancy price for a chair rung warranted to have been a part of the chair on which General Lee sat the day he signed the papers of capitulation at Appomattox.

Almost every branch of business has appeared since we came here. The road leading to camp is lined with stands where the druggist, dentist, physician, tailor, photographer, baker, shoe dealer and refreshment man stands ready to take what little money the soldier happens to have.

Two of our boys have each been fined $3 and given three days' fatigue duty for being absent without leave. The Eighth always has its representatives at courtmartial, but the offenses are light and the punishment is usually made to fit the crime.

The health of the Eighth is good. It is but little illness and that is the result of vaccination.

GOLD FROM SEA WATER.

New York assay office officials were somewhat astonished recently by the receipt of 13 cones of bullion, 2 inches in diameter and 1½ high, from a concern on the coast of Maine, which were alleged to have been obtained by a new process from sea water.

In a letter from the president of the company it was stated that the cones contained gold and silver in the proportion of one-third gold and two-thirds silver, and it was asked that the assay office enter the cones for assay, returning the proceeds of the gold in cash and the silver in a brick by express. The cones contain 92 ounces.

Scientists have known for many years that sea water contained precious metals. Dr. Henry Wurtz of New York 30 years ago demonstrated the existence of gold and silver in the waters of the ocean and announced his discoveries to the American Association For the Advancement of Science.

"They tell me you're from Virginia," said the man.

"Yes."

"They tell me you fought with the rebels."

"Yes."

"Give me your hand, pard. My name's Bill Dolan, an I'm a blacksmith down here."

"Bill," said the bishop, "I'm proud to meet you."

That night Bill Dolan went to the service and heard the bishop preach, and he went afterward too.

Twelve years later the bishop went to Beattyville once more. It was sunset. He was met by the town's clergyman. "Bishop, Bill Dolan died yesterday, and before he died I baptized him," said the minister. "In his last words he told me to tell the bishop that he loved him."

"That," said the bishop, "was indeed a compensation!" —Louisville Courier-Journal.

BUYING THE RECRUITS

Soldiers at Camp Alger Receive Them In Form.

THE RELIC MAN FINDS VICTIMS

Usually He Has More Money Than He Cares to Keep In His Pocket and Is Robbed—The Health of the Company Is Good.

It's nice to be a bloody dub
An' chained t' quarters here,
Where tack an' slush is all the rub
An' girls are scarce as beer.
We like these things, of course,
A little bit, bit, bit;
But Dewey like this hardtack,
Nixey, nit, nit, nit.

—A Camp Lay.

CAMP ALGER, June 15.—[Special]—The arrival of recruits for the Eighth gives the soldiers opportunities to test their lungs and detracts somewhat from the routine of camp life.

No one could expect the boys who have seen service, in camp if not on the battlefield, to receive these well dressed young men who march so close together and seem to be looking everywhere but at the soldier in charge, without some appropriate ceremony. Now the camp is too big for one ceremony, so each company greets its own, and for several days there has been fun.

When the Akron boys came in they looked hungry and weary, but they were at once put to work. When supper time arrived each man was given a piece of that interesting portion of a fat pig commonly known as side meat, a spoonful of beans and one hard tack. Their looks betokened their surprise, but the cook informed them in all earnestness that it was considered a good meal. The hungry recruits attacked the lunch with vigor, and after it had disappeared and the boys had enjoyed their laugh they were given a square meal which brought forth many expressions of satisfaction.

Crowds are out to meet each squad of recruits, and the air is filled with such encouraging remarks as "Your ma won't know you in a few days," "Oh, but you'll be sorry soon," "You had a good home and you left it." The recruits smile a weary smile, but take it like the men they all appear to be.

The fakir who sells relics is reaping a harvest, and some soldiers are being nicely taken in. Old bayonets, cannon balls and bombs, some of the latter unexploded and dangerous, command fancy prices. One of our boys purchased a rusty sword which the dealer declared had been worn by General Jubal Early. for $3. There was some suspicion at the time, and investigation showed it was a sword such as the Knights of Pythias wear and manufactured long after Jubal Early ceased to need a weapon of that kind. Another victim paid a fancy price for a chair rung warranted to have been a part of the chair on which General Lee sat the day he signed the papers of capitulation at Appomattox.

Almost every branch of business has appeared since we came here. The road leading to camp is lined with stands where the druggist, dentist, physician, tailor, photographer, baker, shoe dealer and refreshment man stands ready to take what little money the soldier happens to have.

Two of our boys have each been fined $3 and given three days' fatigue duty for being absent without leave. The Eighth always has its representatives at courtmartial, but the offenses are light and the punishment is usually made to fit the crime.

The health of the Eighth is good. It is but little illness and that is the result of vaccination.

GOLD FROM SEA WATER.

New York assay office officials were somewhat astonished recently by the receipt of 13 cones of bullion, 2 inches in diameter and 1½ high, from a concern on the coast of Maine, which were alleged to have been obtained by a new process from sea water.

In a letter from the president of the company it was stated that the cones contained gold and silver in the proportion of one-third gold and two-thirds silver, and it was asked that the assay office enter the cones for assay, returning the proceeds of the gold in cash and the silver in a brick by express. The cones contain 92 ounces.

Considerable was said recently about the formation of a company in New England, with a capital stock of $50,000, for the purpose of tapping the wealth of the deep by an alleged new and magical process, but the enterprise has been looked upon with a little suspicion. To guard against publicity the works of the company on the coast of Maine are carefully shut off from public view, and all that inquisitive persons are allowed to see are the brand new cones and bricks that are brought out from time to time to dazzle their eyes. —New York Herald.

CONDENSED MILK TRUST.

How One Was Broken Up In Circle City With a Rope.

Mrs. William Joy of Scranton, Pa., recently received a letter from her son, William C. Joy, who writes from Circle City.

"Three months ago I was visiting a new camp on the Stuart river. There were four places where provisions could be purchased at exorbitant prices. The camp was very small, and these traders had arranged with a few miners who were in the job to gather practically all the condensed milk. The boys did not get on to the scheme until their own supplies of condensed milk ran out. Then they found that all that was left in the camp was owned by one man, who had secured it by previous arrangement with the others and had raised the price 200 per cent.

"Well, they simply called a miners' meeting and sent a committee to the trust promoter, telling him that all the condensed milk was to be divided among the prospectors at the old price. He refused, of course, saying that he would take no bluff.

"The committee waited five minutes for the man to change his mind and then returned with a rope. That settled it, and the condensed milk was divided pro rata." —New York World.

Monster's Bones Found.

Men employed making an excavation for a cellar on the farm of William Ax, near Shreve, Wayne county, O., found a portion of an animal that in life must have been a monster. Though there were only a front leg and the better part of the jaw, the mass weighed 123 pounds. Several of the teeth were weighed and found to average from one to two pounds. The kneecap weighed four and a half pounds and was as large as a dinner plate. The part of the jaw was 28 inches in length and over 5 inches wide. The jaw must have been at least ten inches longer. The teeth were very solid. The bones have been examined by a number of scientists, but as yet no one has been able to tell as to what animal or age they belonged. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

BOYLE'S FLOUR GOLD.

HIS LEGS ABSORBED THE METAL FROM THE YUKON'S WATER.

Limbs Lost Their Power—By Mercurial Treatment and a Turkish Bath a Doctor Extracted Gold From Boyle's Body Worth $270—His Mind Was Affected.

Superintendent Woodson of Missouri State Lunatic asylum, No. 2, recently received into the institution for treatment a patient whose case is without precedent in medical annals.

Abe Boyle went to Alaska in the summer of 1896 and was one of the first to set out for the Klondike diggings. His claim was one of the few from which the nuggets and coarse gold had to a considerable extent been carried lower down the creek, while the washing from above left the gravel heavily impregnated with what is known as "flour gold." This is the finest form taken on by the yellow metal, which in that shape manifests its presence in the sands of all the Rocky mountain plateaus and even in the waters of the Pacific ocean, into which it is carried by the streams heading westward from the great continental divide. There is no known method of saving flour gold, which will escape over the quicksilver plates of a stamp mill in spite of all efforts to capture it.

Boyle, during the summer of 1897, was much of the time immersed to the waist in the waters of the Yukon. Being in the water constantly, his body seems to have accomplished what no invention of man has yet done, for through the pores of the skin there was absorbed an incredible quantity of flour gold.

He was seized with what he thought was rheumatism, but kept on with his work until his limbs became unmanageable. It was as if ossification, if not petrification, had set in. This condition gradually spread upward, and he lost his appetite and eventually became insane. There being no physician in the camp capable of handling the case, he was sent back to the United States in charge of a friend, who kept him for several months at his old home in Lander, Wy. His condition did not improve, and he was finally taken to Laramie, Wy., where Dr. William H. Harris, one of the most noted practitioners in the west, thought he had located the source of his trouble and resolved upon an experiment to test the correctness of his theory.

In a Turkish bath house Boyle was submitted for a week to a treatment in which the medicine administered consisted largely of mercury. Then he was given a thorough Turkish bath. His chair in the sweating room was placed in a shallow basin of zinc, so that the perspiration that poured down from his body would all be retained. He was afterward rushed through the remaining features of the bath and put to bed. When he awoke, he was found to have entirely recovered from the hitherto unaccountable stiffness of his limbs, his flesh being soft and pliable as an infant's, though his mind was still affected. The next thing done was to examine the contents of the zinc basin in the sweating room. An assay of its contents showed that the mercury, administered in the form of pills, had passed off through the open pores of the skin, carrying with it the flour gold with which Boyle's body had been saturated. An assay by Superintendent M. A. Grant of the Keystone mine showed that the value of the flour gold drawn from Boyle's body by means of mercury approximated $270.

The effects of the treatment upon the mind were something the physicians did not care to experiment with, so Boyle was sent to the asylum in St. Joseph, Mo. He is now apparently in the best of health physically, and Superintendent Woodson believes he will soon regain his reason. —New York Journal.

Converted by a Handshake.

Here is a good story of the Right Rev. Thomas Underwood Dudley. The bishop had gone to Beattyville, and the place was rough and desolate. A rough looking man came up to him. "They tell me you're from Virginia," said the man.

"Yes."
"They tell me you fought with the rebels."
"Yes."

"Give me your hand, pard. My name's Bill Dolan, an I'm a blacksmith down here."

"Bill," said the bishop, "I'm proud to meet you."

That night Bill Dolan went to the service and heard the bishop preach, and he went afterward too.

Twelve years later the bishop went to Beattyville once more. It was sunset. He was met by the town's clergyman. "Bishop, Bill Dolan died yesterday, and before he died I baptized him," said the minister. "In his last words he told me to tell the bishop that he loved him."

"That," said the bishop, "was indeed a compensation!" —Louisville Courier-Journal.

DONS ROUTED.

Attack Made on Their Camp at Guantanamo Harbor.

A NUMBER WERE KILLED.

MARINES AND CUBANS COMBINED.

One Marine Reported Wounded, Two Cubans Killed and Four Wounded—A Detachment of Insurgents Aided Some of the Marines on Picket Duty, Giving the Tired Men an Opportunity to Get a Muchneeded Sleep—An Attack of Spaniards Made After the Pickets Came In For Relief, Repulsed—Some of the Cubans Were With Difficulty Forced Out of the Picket Line—Guerrilla Tactics of the Spaniards.

CAMP OF THE UNITED STATES MARINES, OUTER HARBOR OF GUANTANAMO, Tuesday, June 14, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 16.—The United States marines and Cubans today attacked the Spanish camp, situated five miles from the American entrenchments. They completely routed a force of 400 Spaniards, breaking up their camp and destroying the well which supplied them with water.

One American was slightly wounded, two Cubans were killed and four Cubans were wounded.

The Spanish loss is believed to be 40 men killed. Fifteen bodies have already been discovered.

Off Santiago de Cuba, on Monday night, the dynamite guns of the Vesuvius were tested with great success. Three shots were fired at the Spanish fortifications, and it is believed great damage was done.

On Tuesday morning the New Orleans shelled and partially destroyed the new emplacements east of Morro castle.

The Spaniards fired some shots at the Vesuvius and one at the New Orleans, which was struck.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The following dispatch is a Journal special from Camp McCalla, Guantanamo harbor, June 15: The scouting party of marines, which were sent out yesterday, returned here at 10 o'clock last night with 18 Spanish prisoners, one of them an officer. The party also captured 100 Mauser rifles and 10,000 rounds of ammunition.

They report having had a series of engagements with the Spaniards, in which 100 Spanish soldiers were killed and 200 wounded.

They also destroyed a Spanish block-house and telegraph station, through which the Spaniards had been keeping Guantanamo and Santiago informed of the movements of American troops.

ON BOARD THE DISPATCH BOAT DAUNTLESS, OFF GUANTANAMO BAY, Tuesday, June 14, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 16.—There was no renewal of the attack on the marines last night. They slept in the trenches with their rifles beside them, protected by a heavy picket line of insurgents and marines, under the command of Lieutenants Lenore and Smith. The pickets had strict orders not to fire unless commanded to do so. There were several alarms, but no firing during the night. In consequence the men awoke much refreshed after four days and nights of continuous work and fighting.

When the pickets came in for relief the Spanish guerrillas crept along behind them and got within 100 yards when the accidental discharge of a rifle in the trenches led them to believe they were discovered, and they opened fire with a volley which whistled harmlessly overhead. They had shot too high, as usual. The marines then scrambled from their steaming coffee and hard tack back to the trenches and met the guerrillas with a ragged but well directed rifle fire. In addition, five field pieces, mounted at angles in the trenches, and the machine guns poured a hail of bullets into the chapparel, scattering the main body of the Spaniards in all directions. Shells were dropped into their midst as they ran.

A few of the enemy stood their ground desperately on the left flank and the crack of the Mauser rifles and the "pings" of their bullets were heard rather than seen for an hour, as the smokeless powder used by the Spaniards made their location in the dense underbrush almost impossible to detect.

The Panther fired six pounders into the Spaniards while the marines were engaged in boating off the attack.

Only one man was wounded and he sustained only a slight injury on his hand. The Cubans, who acted well last night, were with difficulty forced out of the skirmish line this morning. Some of them refused to be driven even when struck by their officers with the flat of their machetes, but they were not censured. They try to work out their knowledge of the methods of the Spanish guerrillas in warfare and in and service, as guides, they are invaluable. Our men are at a great disadvantage with the guerrillas, who are past grand masters of this peculiar plan of campaign of savage rather than civilized warfare.

The men sink through the tropical undergrowth as noiselessly as shadows, some with their naked bodies concealed with palm leaves so that they are neither seen nor heard. Our men are not familiar with these tactics and awkwardly crash through the brush. The marines are seasoning rapidly. The hospital ship Solace is in Guantanamo bay with the wounded on board.

GERMANY WON'T MEDDLE.

A Positive Denial Made to the State Department by the German Officials.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The constant reports that Germany is on the eve of making a serious issue in the Philippines are unaccountable to officials here who have the most direct positive information that Germany has never contemplated such a step, and is not now moving toward its execution, either alone or with other powers. This direct information overcomes many substantial reports coming from Europe, some asserting that Germany is exchanging secret notes with other powers, others that Admiral Prince Henry and Admiral Diederichs are about to intervene at Manila, others that the German embassy here has made a protest to the state department and others that Emperor William himself is taking a personal interest in resenting the American occupation of the Philippines.

There is the highest official authority for saying that each one of these reports is groundless and they are attributed to a malicious purpose to embitter the feeling between Germany and the United States. In the main, these reports have originated outside of Germany, although one army and navy paper in Germany took them up and urged the advantage of an active German policy in the Philippines. It is held by persons who claim to be familiar with the matter that this journal is without official recognition and in no way reflects the attitude of the German government. It is more the organ of the navy, and as such shares the usual sentiment among naval classes for an aggressive use of the navy. But this policy, it is said, has never recommended itself to the German government in the present war.

The German authorities have made it clear to the state department that none of the reports attributing to Germany a purpose to make an issue in the Philippines were warranted. It has been pointed out that Germany, like all other nations, protects her citizens and interests residing abroad. But this natural and necessary protection of German citizens and German property, it is pointed out officially, is quite different from a purpose of territorial acquisition or of forcible intervention between the belligerents. As to this latter move, it is declared with the greatest positiveness that Germany has never contemplated, either alone or in conjunction with other powers.

SUCCESS ASSURED.

Another Offer Made by Bankers to Cover the New War Loan.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—If there was ever any question about the success of the new 3 per cent war loan, it has been set at rest by the way in which subscriptions are already beginning to come in at the treasury department. The assurance of the success of the loan, however, has been made absolutely certain by two propositions, each covering the entire present issue of $200,000,000.

The subscription of the National City bank, the Central Trust company and Verrill & Co., made the day the loan was opened, was for any part of the total issue that should not be taken by the public. Another proposal was formulated the same day covering the entire amount. It came from J. Pierpont Morgan and a number of associates.

SITUATION CRITICAL.

This Report Made by the Spanish Captain General at Manila.

MADRID, June 16.—A dispatch received here from Captain General Augusti, dated Manila, June 6, says:

"The situation continues critical. The enemy surround the town. I have had our lines drawn closer around the city and strengthened at intervals by trenches. Communication is still cut. I expect General Monet with reinforcements, but I have no news from him.

"The white population of the suburbs, fearing they will be massacred by the rebels and preferring the risk of bombardment, have entered the fortified part of the town and will assist in its defense. I do not know when the bombardment will commence."

REBELS HELPING.

Cubans Co-Operating With Sampson's Forces.

A FINE MILITARY STROKE.

GOOD PLACE TO LAND TROOPS.

It Was the Execution of a Plan Arranged in Washington Some Weeks Ago, When the Staff Officers of General Garcia Went to Washington to Confer With General Miles—General Garcia Also Co-Operating With the American Forces, According to a Dispatch From Sampson—Cubans Have Also Aided the Marines, Who Are Encamped at Crest Hill—Reinforcements For the Spanish Believed to Be Cut Off.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The news that the little band of American marines who had planted the flag on Crest hill and were defending it night and day against heavy odds were not only safe, but were strongly reinforced by 1,500 Cubans from the commands of Garcia and Rabbi and were now strong enough to more than hold their own, was welcome news to the navy department. It was disclosed in a dispatch from Admiral Sampson, received yesterday, and brought much relief to naval officials. The early reports had indicated that the marines were surrounded, and it was feared that they might be compelled to return to the ships before General Shafter's invading army reached there. The coming of the Cuban forces seems to have been in the nick of time, and naval officials give the fullest credit to the timeliness of this Cuban co-operation.

The admiral's dispatch stated that the condition of the marines was "entirely satisfactory," which assurance, although brief was enough to relieve officials here of the fears they had entertained. But probably the most significant feature of the admiral's dispatch was the statement that the Cuban General Rabbi had occupied Acerraderos, only eight miles from Santiago, and practically a suburb of that Spanish stronghold. It was the execution of a plan arranged in Washington, some weeks ago, when two of the staff officers of General Garcia came here to confer with General Miles. At that time Garcia and Rabbi were at Bayamo, in the western part of Santiago province, and more than 100 miles northwest of Santiago de Cuba. Admiral Sampson's dispatch showed that Rabbi and his force has made a complete circuit of Santiago de Cuba, and coming up to the south of it has occupied Acerraderos.

This is looked upon as a fine military stroke, for Acerraderos is the port where iron wharves will afford facilities for unloading the heavy artillery carried by General Shafter's invading expedition. The news also indicated to the authorities here that the Spanish garrison at Santiago has practically retreated inside the city proper, giving up the outlying towns. Admiral Sampson also states that General Garcia is co-operating with the American forces. Whether this means that Garcia himself has arrived from Bayamo is not quite clear, but if he has, the joint forces of Garcia and Rabbi will make 3,000 to 5,000 seasoned Cubans, recently armed with Springfield, as a bushwhacking guerrilla force to aid the American troops. From sources other than the dispatch of Admiral Sampson, the navy department has been informed that 500 Cubans were rendering efficient aid to the marines at Crest Hill. Now that Rabbi and Garcia are on the scene this 500 may be swelled to thousands.

In making his march Rabbi has crossed the line of communication between the Spanish commander, General Pando, at Holguin and the Spanish forces at Santiago de Cuba. This feat makes it clear that Santiago is not likely to get reinforcements from General Pando. In circling around Santiago to reach Acerraderos Rabbi, it is believed here, has also established it as a fact that the lines of communication and relief to Santiago are interrupted and practically cut off in all directions.

ANNEXATION PASSED.

The Hawaiian Bill Went Through the House by a Vote of 209 to 91.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—By a vote of 209 to 91 the house of representatives yesterday afternoon adopted the Newlands resolution providing for the annexation of Hawaii. The debate, which has continued without interruption since Saturday, has been one of the most notable of this congress, the proposed annexation being considered of great commercial and strategic importance by its advocates and being looked upon by its opponents as involving a radical departure from the long established policy of this country and likely to be followed by the inauguration of a pronounced policy of colonization, the abandonment of the Monroe doctrine and participation in international wrangles.

More than half a hundred members participated in the debate. From a party standpoint the result was awaited with the keenest interest. The Republicans presented practically a unanimous support to the resolutions, but three Republicans voting in opposition. In the Democratic ranks the division upon the question was more marked, 18 Democrats voting for annexation.

The vote in support of the resolutions was made up of 179 Republicans, 18 Democrats, 8 Populists and 4 Fusionists; the vote against annexation comprised 77 Democrats, 3 Republicans, 7 Populists and 4 Fusionists.

A CHURCH CELEBRATION.

Centennial of the Oldest Presbyterian Church in Eastern Ohio Held at St. Clairsville.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, June 16.—The Presbyterian church of this town, the oldest in Eastern Ohio, celebrated its centennial yesterday. A large crowd was present at all of the three services. Rev. Robert Alexander, D. D., the pastor, read the historical address. Hon. J. W. Hollingsworth extended the greeting from the community and Rev. Thomas Balph, D. D., the greeting from the sister churches. Rev. W. V. Mulligan of Cambridge delivered the greeting from the presbytery of St. Clairsville. Many interesting addresses were delivered.

The present pastor has filled the pulpit 30 years and has never missed a single service. The church was organized by Dr. John McMillan, a pioneer minister of Western Pennsylvania, and for 30 years it bore the name of Richland. The first church was a log cabin. Ten years later a brick church took its place. In 1822 a brick building was erected, but it was destroyed by fire in 1841. The church that was built then was wrecked by a tornado in 1887, when a new and beautiful church was built.

The pastors have been Rev. Joseph Anderson, the first Presbyterian minister ordained west of the Ohio river; Rev. Joseph Smith author of "Old Redstone;" Rev. James Alexander, Rev. John Moffatt and Rev. Dr. R. Campbell. Rev. Alexander Logan, Rev. William Fuller, Rev. T. J. Gordon, Rev. James Kerr, Rev. John McCluskey and Rev. William Work have supplied the church at different times.

Will Drop Sunday Games.

YOUNGSTOWN, June 16.—The pro and con of Sunday baseball agitation is stirring this city nightly. A big meeting was held yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. building by representatives of the Christian Endeavor societies, the Epworth League, the Ministerial association and the Y. M. C. A. A resolution was passed to employ legal talent at once and proceed against the Youngstown Baseball club, and Marshal Rees of Girard. Some of the directors of the club have threatened to break it up if the other directors persist in Sunday games. The directors met last night and decided to have no more of it at home.

Next Democratic Convention.

COLUMBUS, June 16.—The time and place of the next Democratic state convention was fixed yesterday at Dayton, Aug. 23 and 24. Judge Allen V. Smalley, Upper Sandusky, was chosen temporary chairman.

15 REGIMENTS MAY LEAVE.

Report Current at Chickamauga—Y. M. C. A. Distributing Hymn Books.

CHICKAMAUGA PARK, Ga., June 16.—The report that 15 regiments are to leave Camp Thomas for Tampa during the next few days was the main subject of interest in the camp yesterday and it is being eagerly discussed by both officers and men. It is impossible to confirm the report, as the army officials refuse to discuss it, but nearly every man in camp now believes it.

The Y. M. C. A. authorities here have ordered four more large brigade tents for use in the army. Before the end of the week every man in the army will be supplied with a hymn book by these workers. A supply of 45,000 books has been received.

Dr. C. R. Gill, from the American Red Cross society, arrived yesterday, with credentials and a letter from Secretary of War Alger, addressed to Chief Surgeon Hartsuff. Dr. Gill will today establish a regular station of the society here and last night notified a number of the commanding officers of regiments that he would be able to once to furnish delicacies, milk, etc., to sick soldiers.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—An authoritative statement was made at the war department yesterday contradicting the reports from Chickamauga that 15,000 troops have been ordered to move at once.

An Episcopal Convention.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 16.—The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in the diocese of Central Pennsylvania met in St. Luke's church, this city, yesterday. Over 200 clerical and lay delegates were present. One of the most important matters to be decided by the convention is the question of dividing the diocese into two parts by an east and west line. As it is, the diocese includes half the state and many of the delegates favor the division.

A THIRD FORCE.

FOUR SHIPS ABOUT READY.

ABOUT 3,500 MEN WERE CARRIED.

This Number Distributed Among Four Vessels—The Tenth Pennsylvania on the Zealandia, With Part of Battery B of the Utah Volunteer Artillery—Two Maxim Rapidfire Guns Were Placed in the Bow of the Vessel, Ready For Action—Many People Assembled Along the Docks to Witness the Departure of the Fleet—The Transports on Reaching the Ocean Headed For Honolulu. Will Recol at That Port.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Arrangements are now being made for the sailing of the third expedition. It is believed the fleet will be ready by June 25. Thus far the steamers Indiana, Ohio, Morgan City, City of Para and three Northern Pacific boats have been chartered. The first four vessels are about ready to receive troops and the three Northern Pacific steamers are now on the way here from Seattle.

Anchor was weighed by the second Philippine expedition about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. As the sun was setting the last transport passed out of the Golden Gate and, led by the flagship China, the fleet stood away toward Honolulu. At that port the vessels will recol.

The expedition carried about 3,500 men, distributed among four vessels, as follows:

Assigned to the China, General Greene's flagship, the largest and fastest vessel of the fleet, were the First regiment Colorado volunteer infantry, 1,023 men; half a battalion of the Eighteenth United States infantry, 150 men, and a detachment of United States engineers, 20 men.

The Colon took four companies of the Twenty-third infantry and two companies of the Eighteenth infantry, both of the regular army, and Battery A of the Utah artillery. In the battery were 12 men and in each of the infantry companies 75 men, besides the officers, making less than 600 military passengers. The control of the ship was given to Lieutenant Colonel Clarence W. Bailey of the Eighteenth infantry.

On the Zealandia were the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers and part of Battery B of the Utah volunteer artillery. Two Maxim rapidfire guns were placed ready for action in the bow of the vessel. In all there were 640 privates and 60 officers on board.

On the steamer Senator is the First regiment of Nebraska volunteers, numbering 1,023 men and officers.

Thousands of people assembled along the docks to witness the departure of the fleet and when the signals ordering the vessels to get under way were observed a mighty cheer went up.

Some of the vessels in the harbor blew long blasts from their sirens, and many factories and mills in the manufacturing district saluted the vessels with blasts from their whistles. Bombs were exploded and cannon were fired, and the four vessels bearing loads of humanity and munitions of war passed down the bay.

The afternoon was well nigh gone when the transports reached the ocean and headed for Honolulu.

WENT TO WASHINGTON

Hon. R. W. Tayler Returned Yesterday Afternoon.

IN ALLIANCE A SHORT TIME

But Long Enough to Receive the Congratulations of His Friends—Delegates Are All Home and Are Well Pleased With the Treatment They Received.

After the congressional convention at Alliance adjourned yesterday afternoon the delegates spent a very pleasant time viewing the city and were royally entertained.

Hon. R. W. Tayler had his headquarters at the Kepplinger where he held open house for a short time, and received the hearty congratulations of his many friends upon his magnificent victory. He left on the 2:10 train for Washington.

Judge King, of Youngstown, spent much time with his Columbiana county friends, while Judge Johnston took his defeat in a philosophical manner, and stated that he would as usual support the ticket and do all in his power toward the success of the Republican party. A prominent figure of the convention was Judge McCartney, of Canton, who is well known here.

As usual rumors were rife as to candidates for the next congressional convention, and Hon. Allen Carnes, of Canton, was prominently mentioned, but he stated that it was too far in the future for him to talk.

The Mahoning delegation left early in the afternoon. While waiting for the train the Columbiana delegates spent their time in visiting the camp of Company F, Eighteenth Pennsylvania Volunteer infantry, stationed at the Morgan Engineering works, where they found a jolly lot of soldier boys and an excellent camp. The soldiers are very much disgusted because they have not been sent to the front, and many of them say they would not have enlisted had they known they would have been detailed for guard duty.

The Alliance people did everything in their power to entertain the visitors, and the newspaper men are indebted to F. C. Hollis, of the Review, for many courtesies.

Gone to Europe.

Doctor Will Brindley and his mother left this morning for New York, and tomorrow will sail on the Campania for Europe.

HER NARROW ESCAPE

She Relates Her Experience at a Meeting of the New York Medico Legal Society. Physician Had Prescribed Too Much Laudanum—Her Faith in Astrology.

Mrs. Ida Trafford Bell told me recently the thrilling details of her narrow escape from burial alive, of which she gave an inkling the other night at the meeting of the Medico Legal society in New York. It occurred when she was 3 years old, but Mrs. Bell never before made any public announcement of it.

Physicians and lawyers gathered to discuss premature burial. Gerald Chapin, a lawyer, told of the bill prepared by him to prevent premature burial, which was introduced in the legislature by Assemblyman Redington on March 4 and is now in committee. All who entered the discussion which followed, except Carl Hauser, agreed that premature burial may occur. Mr. Hauser said he doubted if there ever was an authentic case.

Involuntarily Mrs. Bell arose to silence the doubter.

"I am a living example of the possibility of being buried alive," she said. "I was prepared for burial and was about to be carried to a hearse when signs of life were discovered, and I was saved from the most awful fate that can be conceived."

"Mr. Hauser says truly that if doctors do their duty premature burial is impossible. They did not do their duty in my case. The bill prepared by Mr. Chapin may save but one person from such a fate. The saving of one will more than compensate for all the trouble the bill may cause to doctors, undertakers and public officers."

Hearty applause followed Mrs. Bell's remark. When I saw her at her home in New York, Mrs. Bell told me more about her experience.

"Unfortunately the doctor made a mistake in writing the prescription, and the wrong proportion of laudanum and water was given me. For a few hours I was apparently dead. The doctor wrote out a death certificate, and I was prepared for burial. My body was placed in a coffin, and friends came and mourned for me. Messages of sympathy came for my mother."

"The hour arrived for my funeral. Friends had taken the last look upon the supposedly dead, and arrangements were being made to carry the casket to the hearse waiting at the door. Suddenly it was noticed that I was reviving. There was unmistakable evidence that I was still alive, and quickly they took me from the coffin, and doctors were hurriedly summoned."

"They worked over me for hours, and eventually I became fully conscious and began to improve. Until then the attending physician had maintained a discreet silence as to the real cause of my supposed death. He had discovered his error and frankly admitted it, but not until it was certain I would live."

"I soon began to improve rapidly, and ever since then I have enjoyed comparatively good health. It was a terrible shock to my mother."

"Several times since then my narrow escape, terrible as it was, has proved a source of amusement for me. When I was 15 years old, I visited the home of my grandfather, and there met an old friend of my father."

"This friend had viewed me in my coffin and had then been called away to another part of the country. He had never heard of my recovery. When I was introduced to him, he gasped in astonishment. 'Ida' he said, 'Ida'—staring at me—'why, I saw you lying dead more than ten years ago. What does this mean?'"

"Everything was explained to him, but it was hard work to convince him that I was really alive."

"I never had any faith in astrologists until about two years ago," continued Mrs. Bell, smiling, "but I had a friend who was firmly convinced of their power. She wanted to consult an astrologist in New Jersey, and just to please her I agreed to accompany her."

"The man didn't know me from Adam, nor had he ever seen my friend. Of that I am sure. Just for a joke I gave him the date of my birth at his request. He began to figure things out according to the stars and planets, and I was greatly amused."

"Suddenly he stopped, hesitated, stared hard at me and exclaimed: 'Why, madam, I find an awful blot on your horoscope. If you didn't stand there before me, I would say that you were dead; yes, dead a long time.' I laughed heartily, for somehow my experience of babyhood had not been in my mind."

"'Nonsense!' I exclaimed amusedly. 'I hope I don't look as if I were dead.' 'Well,' he said, 'you were very near death when a baby. Of that I am positive, for I find it here, and there is no room for doubt. You will recollect some time and tell me I am right.'"

"It did occur to me just after I left the man," said Mrs. Bell, "and some days later I told him how narrowly I escaped premature burial. Since then I have not treated astrology so lightly." —New York Telegram.

WHY DEWEY WON.

Foreign Militarists Attribute It to Superior Guns and Courage.

The details concerning the works at Manila and on Corregidor island make it more and more wonderful how the fleet under Admiral Dewey escaped as it did. Colonel Clement de Granprey, the military attaché of the French embassy in Washington, has a report made by the Spanish commandant, 1897. This officer states:

"During this year (meaning 1897) twenty-five 15 centimeter Krupp rapid firing guns were mounted at Corregidor island and the right hand battery at Manila."

Had the commander of these works caused the channel to be buoyed and had his guns been properly trained on this channel the American loss must have been very considerable and might have been serious. Colonel de Granprey said recently that he had long been aware of the superior excellence of the American heavy gun, but that the supreme test of battle had shown it to be in the matter of extreme accuracy, facility in sighting and high power the first artillery in the world.

"We have considered our Canet gun to be the equal of the English Armstrong, but neither of these is capable of the close accuracy in sighting that you obtain in your larger calibers. The Russian Admiral Mikaroff said to me after he had seen its power against the armored targets at Indian Head, 'These Americans have a 100 pounder that is at least 15 per cent higher in power than any similar caliber ever turned out of Essen (Krupp's factory), and I am not so certain that we have anything which is its equal in Europe.' The foreign militarists in Washington attribute Dewey's victory to superior gunnery and courage. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

DENIED BY CARRANZA.

MADRID, June 16.—The Spanish foreign minister has ordered Du Bose and Carranza to leave Canada.

MONTREAL, June 16.—The above was denied by Carranza.

HEROES MAY BE FREED.

Blanco Authorized to Exchange Hobson and His Mates.

MADRID, June 16.—General Blanco has been authorized to exchange the Merrimac prisoners.

A Novelty In Bells.

Herr Appunn of Hanau has invented a bell of a new shape, which is said to have a very deep tone and to be as powerful as considerably heavier bells of the form at present in vogue. The shape is peculiar, being hemispherical, while the metal is uniform in thickness except near the "sound bow" (or the thickened tip which the clapper strikes). From the edge to some little distance above the sound bow the metal is very thick, and then alters suddenly to the uniform thickness which it has for the rest of the bell.—Invention.

Fight Among Soldiers.

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., June 16.—A hot fight occurred Tuesday night in the streets of the village of Phoebus between Maryland volunteers and regulars from Fort Monroe. Officers from the volunteers and regulars were summoned hastily and ended the fighting after about 75 prisoners were taken and sent to the guard house. It is said about 20 men received injuries, none of them serious, during the melee.

To Enlist Ex-Confederates.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Representative Grosvenor (O.) has introduced a resolution for the enlistment of one regiment of men who served in the Confederate army, now under 60 years of age, providing that if a sufficient number under that age cannot be obtained that the sons of the Confederate veterans may enlist. Atlanta is named as the mustering point and the companies are to be mustered in as completed.

Fatal Collision at Sea.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The schooner Gypsum Princess of Parrisboro, N. S., was sunk by a collision with the North German Lloyd's steamer Ems Tuesday night. The captain of Gypsum Princess, David Merriam, his wife and their eldest boy, Edgar, the mate, a girl of 14 years and a boy of 5 were drowned.

Work of the Senate.

French Cabinet Resigned.

Yellow Fever Situation.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The dispatches received at the marine hospital service yesterday showed no new cases of yellow fever in the suspected region.

A SPANIARD ON BOARD.

Conflicting Stories Told Regarding a Man Captured on a Vessel.

KEY WEST, June 16.—The British steamer Twickenham, captured off Kingston, on June 10, by the auxiliary cruiser St. Louis, arrived here yesterday in charge of a prize crew. She has on board 3,000 tons of coal and one passenger, who is supposed to be an employee of the Spanish government.

The man is Jamie Fernieres, who says he is the first officer of the Spanish hospital ship Alicante. Conflicting stories are told concerning the Spaniard's presence on board the Twickenham, and there is strong suspicion that he is a more important capture than superficial circumstances might indicate.

Fernieres is an imposing looking person of about 50 years of age and is a much worried Spaniard, and tears stood in his eyes as he talked, through an interpreter, to a reporter.

Openair Chivalry.

Admiral Cervera has proved himself to be a most polished and chivalrous gentleman. His conduct in advising Admiral Sampson of the safety of the crew of the Merrimac and his commendation of their bravery was worthy of the Chevalier Bayard or of Sir Philip Sydney. That he could rise to such a height in the face of the popular clamor against America in Spain shows that he is as brave as he is courteous. That such men as Cervera and the Spaniards at Manila, who fought until the decks of their ships sank beneath them into the water, should be sacrificed to the cruel and imbecile government of Spain naturally excites pity.—Baltimore Sun.

"IN THE NICK OF TIME."

Some East Liverpool People Are Fortunate—Taking the Bull by the Horns Saves Money.

Waiting doesn't always pay. Often 'tis better to strike at once. Doing a thing in the "nick of time" is better than not doing it at all. "Narrow shaves" are better than failure.

There are many "narrow shaves" in kidney ills.

A kidney blockade is dangerous. Keep the kidneys working or look out for trouble.

The blood must be filtered. The poisonous uric acid must be taken out.

With the kidneys blocked this can't be done, and

Serious are the results that follow. Break the blockade before it is too late.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do it. Many an East Liverpool citizen can tell you this is so.

Here is a case in point:

Mrs. Edmund Purton, of 233 Ravine street, says: "Both my husband and I can testify to the value of Doan's Kidney Pills. I had backache, headache and other symptoms of the complaint for two years. When the last attack came on I went to the W. & W. Pharmacy, and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. In a very short time I was relieved."

"My husband, who is a painter, decorator and paperhanger, of the firm of Purton & Jackson, was seized with a severe attack of kidney complaint lately. Some years ago he contracted a fever, which left his kidneys in bad shape, and ever afterwards he had more or less trouble. When suffering last a gentleman advised him to try Doan's Kidney Pills, emphasizing the facts that he had been a sufferer with kidney disease; confined to his bed; his physician informed him that perhaps he would be able to get him up in two or three weeks; that he used Doan's Kidney Pills, and in a day or two he was able to be up and about his business. The gentleman spoke so highly about the remedy that my husband got a box at once. They were prompt in relieving him. I felt better generally. We can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I hear numbers of people speak well of them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. By mail on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

DEWEY'S FACE IN FIRE

Will Be a Feature of the Celebration.

BIG PYROTECNIC DISPLAY

The Committee Will Have a Barge Anchored In the River, and All Will Be Given an Opportunity to See—The News of Wellsville.

One of the features of the demonstration on the Fourth will be the display of fireworks, and one of the features of the display will be a set piece representing Admiral Dewey in full uniform.

The committee have decided to anchor a barge in the river and the fireworks will be exploded there. It is expected the display will amount to about $200, and the best selection possible will be made. That part of the arrangements will be closed up in a few days.

The general work of the committee is progressing rapidly. Last night the solicitors were provided with books, and all are now hard at work. There is no reason to believe the subscriptions will fall short of expectations.

A Permanent Organization.

The work for the improvement of public highways has attained the dignity of a permanent organization.

At a meeting held at city hall last night D. N. McLean was elected president, James McQueen secretary, E. H. Riggs treasurer. There was a good attendance and the feeling was strong for continued work. The organization will be known as the Good Roads association. A committee of four, with E. G. Whittaker as chairman, was appointed to select a standing committee of six members from each ward.

Sensible Arrangement.

What Sir Daniel Lysons believes to have been the first case of a settlement of an "affair of honor" on the Duke of Wellington's plan is described by him in his "Early Reminiscences." It occurred in Halifax about the middle of the present century:

One day Captain Evans came to me boiling over with wrath and indignation. He said he had been grossly insulted by Captain Harvey, the governor's son, and begged me to act as his friend. I agreed, provided he promised to do exactly as I told him. He consented.

I called on Captain Harvey's friend, Captain Bourke, and we agreed to abide by the Duke of Wellington's order about dueling, which had just then been promulgated at Halifax.

We carried out our intention as follows: We made each of our principals write out his own version of what had occurred. We then chose an umpire. We selected Colonel Horn of the Twentieth regiment, a clear headed and much respected officer. With his approval we sent him the two statements, and he directed us to come to his house the following morning with our principals.

At the appointed time we arrived and were shown into the dining room. We bowed formally to each other across the table and awaited the appearance of our referee. Colonel Horn soon entered, and, addressing our principals, said:

"Gentlemen, in the first place, I must thank you for having made my duty so light. Nothing could be more open, generous or gentlemanlike than your statements. The best advice I can give you is that you shake hands and forget that the occurrence has ever happened."

They at once walked up to each other and shook hands cordially. They were the best of friends ever after.

John Allen's Gallantry.

Representative John Allen of Mississippi, the witty man of the house, is also one of the most gallant men of congress, says the Chicago Tribune. A beautiful woman from his district came to Washington recently and renewed her acquaintance with him. Finding her acquaintance with him, she remarked, "I had not forgotten her, she remarked, "I thought, Mr. Allen, that you had forgotten me." He replied, "Madam, I have made it my life work to forget you," and this had the same effect as a witticism, for she tells it with numberless smiles.

The Dome of St. Paul's.

We do not believe there is any truth in the alarming rumor that there is some uneasiness in expert quarters in regard to the stability of the dome of St. Paul's. We imagine that the only substratum of fact is this: It is known that a huge iron chain is imbedded in the stonework of the drum of the dome. An eminent architect some time since amused himself by describing the consequences which might ensue if the water were to reach this chain. There is no reason to suppose that such a thing has occurred or is likely to occur, and the newly appointed surveyors, Messrs. Somers Clarke and J. T. Middlethwaite, are fully alive to the desirability of finding and examining the chain. The first difficulty appears to be that its exact locality is somewhat uncertain. The second will be to get at it effectively when it is discovered.—London Saturday Review.

Family Economy.

Uncle (to the children, who have just had a dose of cod liver oil all around)—Well, do you like cod liver oil?

Children—Oh, no, but mamma gives us 5 cents for every spoonful.

Uncle—And then do you buy something nice?

Children—No, mamma puts it into the savings bank.

Uncle—And then you buy something by and by?

Children—No, mamma buys more cod liver oil with it!—Fliegende Blätter.

Ostriches, which are supposed to flourish only in very warm climates, have been raised successfully in southern Russia, the feathers being of good quality and the birds healthy.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above
 Union Label at the head of their columns.

"REMEMBER THE MAINE."

JOE LEITER'S troubles would attract
 much more attention if we did not happen to have a war on hand.

SAGASTA is talking like a prize fighter,
 not alone in quantity, but in
 patches.

NO ONE would seriously object if Uncle Sam would capture Spain's Canaries, but the public would rather see Cadiz the prize if we are going across
 the ocean.

THE Spanish general who commands
 at Santiago is bald. He was probably selected to prevent his being scalped by
 the Indian army the Spaniards seem to
 think we have.

If the Spaniards who mutilated the
 bodies of American marines are captured they will be shot at once. There
 is, however, little likelihood of them
 being apprehended. They lie too well.

CAPTAIN HARRY PALMER sailed from San Francisco yesterday with the remainder of the Tenth Pennsylvania
 volunteers on board the Zelandia. His many friends in the city will join with
 the NEWS REVIEW in wishing him a
 safe voyage and a speedy return.

THE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION.

No one ever seriously questioned the
 outcome of the Alliance convention; no
 one will question the result of the campaign. Hon. R. W. Taylor will be returned to congress as he was nominated,
 by a large vote.

There are evidences that the Democrats will fight hard to capture the next
 house of representatives. They need it
 to hamper the president, but there are
 no indications to show they will be successful. The Republican party has the
 call, and will continue to have it unless
 some unforeseen military or naval reverse can be traced to the administration, and that is not at all probable.
 The issues have been announced, but
 there is nothing among them to appeal to the people. The old questions they would bring up have been for the present at least settled, while the new ones are not so clearly defined as to make a radical issue.

The Eighteenth district has particular cause for returning Mr. Taylor to congress. He who sits in the White House
 for years held its seat in the house of representatives, and is dear to the people. He has been honored by the nation as the first man of the land. To send a Democrat to congress would add another force to the power that seeks to drag President McKinley down, and in
 his stead place a member of that party.

Mr. Taylor has been a good congressman. No better party man ever sat in the house, his Republicanism at all times being unquestioned. He has won
 for himself a place among the party
 leaders, and is known as one who can be relied upon to do his duty. To his constituents he has ever shown that appreciative courtesy so often lacking in
 the people's representatives. He has done all within his power for his party
 and his district, and that has been much. No man could do more.

Only One Piece Checked.

The smallest amount of business that ever marked the baggage room was handled at noon today. Only one piece
 was checked.

STOLE FROM A BARBER

The Thief Got Away With
 Some Tools.

A FEW DRUNKS IN COURT

They Were Given the Usual Dose Yesterday Afternoon and This Morning--Mayor
 Work.

Mayor Bough has disposed of a number of cases since yesterday afternoon. It is possible one of the men now in custody will be sent to the
 works for a six-months' term.

About noon yesterday the barber shop
 of Doc Howard in West Market street was robbed of a pair of clippers, scissors and a razor. The matter was promptly reported to
 the police and during the afternoon
 Chief Johnson arrested Neil Call and charged him with the theft. When searched the clippers were found on his person, and when questioned he admitted
 the taking of them from the shop. He
 was seen to go in the shop by an employe
 of the water works and that individual
 has given some valuable information to
 the authorities about the case. He will
 be heard this evening, and it is probable
 the case will go to court.

John Francis was arrested by Officer
 White in West Market street last night
 while attempting to get in a saloon after hours. He was very drunk at the time
 and the mayor thought it a good plan
 to let him sober before he was given a chance to plead guilty or not guilty.

Walter Brown has not lived with his
 wife for several months, and he met her
 in the Midway last night. This caused a quarrel and Walter was run in by Officer Mahony. He told the mayor he wanted to go to work this morning, and
 he pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $6.60 which he paid.

Fred Bloor, who was found sleeping
 in a stable in the rear of Second street,
 was released last night and all the
 mayor gave him was a severe lecture.
 He was told to carry himself straight or
 he would be given a railroad ride.

Francis Leech, the old soldier who
 was put in by Officer McCullough Tuesday night, was released last night. He paid $9.50.

PRONOUNCED SAFE.

The Steps In Front of the Property of Mr.
 Fisher Will Remain.

Messrs. Peach and Stewart last evening viewed the steps of F. L. Fisher,
 which caused such a heated discussion
 in council Tuesday evening. After a thorough examination the steps were pronounced safe for the time being and
 will be permitted to remain. Workmen will commence in the morning to set the
 curb in front of the property and an effort will be made to complete the sidewalk before the end of the week and then Mr. Fisher can erect permanent steps.

ALLIANCE RECRUITS

Were Sent to Washington This Afternoon.

Lieutenant George O. Anderson today at Alliance finished the work of mustering in the recruits needed to place Company K, Eighth O. V. I., on a war footing. The 37 men were placed in charge of Corporal Ballard, and left on the 3:20 train for Washington.

Lieutenant Anderson will go to Canton, and expects to return tomorrow evening and spend the remainder of the week in the city.

SHIPMENTS INCREASING.

Fourteen Cars of Ware Were Sent Out Yesterday.

Business was very good at the freight depot yesterday, and many more cars could have been handled had there been any available. During the day the rollers loaded and sent out 14 cars, and today they were as busy as yesterday.

The amount of freight now being received is large, and not less than two cars are received at the platform every day.

SNOWDEN IS BETTER.

He Has Recovered Consciousness and Is Improving.

G. O. Snowden, who was so badly hurt by a fall at the plant of the Potters' Mining and Milling company, is improving, and there is now a slight chance for recovery.

He has recovered consciousness, and the attending physician was much pleased with his condition today.

STAMPS FOR CHECKS

Are Causing Bankers to Think of Old Times.

Among the features of the new war tax is the stamp for bank checks, and bankers are wondering about the time the law goes into effect and thinking of the days when a similar law was in effect years ago.

The law provides that every check drawn must bear a stamp, and the man who pays his debts in that way will in future have a supply of them on hand. Otherwise the bank will be compelled to place the stamp on the check and deduct the amount of two cents when it is paid.

On the River.

The river is falling, and the marks at the wharf at noon today registered 6.8
 feet.

The Virginia passed up last night and will be down tomorrow. Its owners have decided to change the schedule of the boat in order that successful competition may be made with the Cummins line.

The Ben Hur and Urania will be down for Gallipolis tonight. If possible both the boats will go to Charleston, if the river is in such a condition as to permit navigation.

The Lorena will be up today with the Cummins.

The towboats are now coming up the river and making as much time as possible. The Jim Wood, Beaver, Mariner, Voyager and Pacific went up yesterday.

Home From Mt. Vernon.

Rev. O. S. Reed and D. J. Smith, who have been attending the Grand Army encampment at Mt. Vernon, returned home at noon today. The encampment will close this evening.

The gentlemen declare they enjoyed every hour of their stay.

Mr. Smith was elected delegate from this district to the national encampment at Cincinnati in September. Professor Reed was named as a candidate for department chaplain, and the action was so favorable that he will undoubtedly be elected next year.

Will Be Married This Evening.

The marriage of Mr. Charles McKee and Miss Nora Z. Smith will take place at the residence of the bride's parents,
 Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith, Calcutta road, this evening at 9 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. J. M. Huston, assisted by Reverend Cartwright, of New Brighton.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee will leave tomorrow morning for a tour of the lakes and will spend several weeks in the north. They will make their future home in this city.

Killed an Italian.

The train due in this city at 8:20 hit an Italian section hand at Fair Oaks, eight miles east of Rochester this morning.

The train was coming down a steep grade and the Italian was driving a spike when he was struck. The train was stopped and the remains were taken to Freedom where they were left in the care of his countrymen.

Will Combine.

The clerks' union at their next meeting will act upon the proposition to combine with the union of the grocery clerks. It is probable the proposition will be acted upon favorably, as an effort was made to have the grocery clerks join the retail clerks' union when they organized, but at that time they preferred a separate organization.

Miss Alice Goodwin's Guests.

Miss Martha Medill, Misses Lena and Georgia Dent, Miss Mary Graham, of Bridgeport; Miss Kate Kuhn, of Wheeling, and Miss Florence Watts, of Sewickley, are in the city the guests of Miss Mary Alice Goodwin. They will attend the dance to be given this evening by the Columbian club.

Making Progress.

Work on the Jethro bridge is progressing rapidly, and yesterday morning workmen started to lay the ties for the street car line, but several hours delay was caused by the fact that some of the iron work was out of plumb.

The street car line will cross the bridge on the south side.

THREE GOOD BOATS

Battered Caimanera Defenses to Pieces.

A LITTLE OVER AN HOUR

Was Required to Do Some Very Good Work--The Range Was Short, and the Execution Wonderful--Spanish Loss Is Heavy.

GUATANAMO BAY, June 16--[Special]--The defenses at Caimanera have been bombarded and knocked to pieces.

The vessels engaged were the Texas, Marblehead and Suwanee, and it seemed as though every shot took effect. The bombardment only lasted 95 minutes, but the destruction accomplished will rank with anything yet done by the fleet. The range was not long. It is believed that the loss to the Spanish in killed and wounded was large.

THEY KICK

Because Fifth Street is Still Blocked.

There is a great deal of complaint from the merchants of Fifth street because the Kelly homestead is not being moved faster, and one prominent man in speaking of the matter said:

"Some time ago council passed an ordinance prohibiting the moving of houses along the streets when a passage way was not left for one team, and also that no house should remain in one block over two days. I am not a kicker but I think the ordinance should be enforced if it is good, especially when houses are moved as slow as this one. At the rate it is going now it will block up the street for at least two weeks."

MORE MONEY.

John R. Martin's Bondsmen Have Been Asked to Pay.

John R. Martin's bondsmen have been notified that a deficiency of $1200 has been accumulated in old receipts that have turned up at the office of Treasurer Cameron, and a meeting will be held this evening at the office of F. L. Wells in Wellsville for the purpose of arranging the matter.

They have already paid a considerable amount. The bondsmen number sixteen.

DECORATED THE GRAVES.

Canton Rhodes Observed the Annual Ceremony.

Canton Rhodes, Patriarchs Militant, yesterday evening decorated the graves of its dead members. The departed ones are John West, J. J. Paul and J. T. King. The regular service of the order was used.

Owing to the fact that a number of the members were out of the city the Canton did not march to Riverview cemetery, but went there in conveyances.

THAT STREET FAIR.

Attractions Want to Come Here This Season.

The East Liverpool street fair which was never held, evidently was well advertised, as Attorney G. Y. Travis has already commenced to receive letters from attractions which want to come here this year during the fair.

It is suggested that all the attractions be given permission to show here on the same day, and in that way the city might secure a cheap fair.

GARBAGE FURNACE

It Was Discussed by a Toledo Man and Officials.

James Munson, of Toledo, was in the city yesterday, and while here talked garbage furnace to several members of council and the board of health.

NO LOCATION DECIDED

Labor Day Committee Reports Progress.

STILL LOOKING FOR GROUNDS

There Was a Large Attendance at the Meeting of Trades Council Last Night, and Only a Little Business Was Transacted.

There was a good attendance last evening at Trades council, but little business was transacted.

The session was called to order with Vice President McConnell in the chair, and after the minutes had been read and approved the Labor day committee reported progress. They are still negotiating for grounds and making other arrangements, and expect to make a partial report at the next meeting.

The organization committee reported that they had organized by electing J. J. Weisend, chairman, and John Litmer, secretary. To fill a vacancy on the label committee, John Davidson, of the jiggermen, was selected.

The subject of having a telephone placed in the room has been discussed at several meetings and the matter was again brought up and finally placed in the hands of a committee with instructions to report at the next meeting.

The receipts of the meeting as reported were $8, and the expenses $18.75.

CANTON CAN HAVE HIM.

An Old Man Was Returned There by the Trustees.

The township trustees this morning sent an old man named Hamilton to Canton.

The man came here two days ago from Canton, but was unable to do any work and applied for aid to the trustees. He wanted to return to Canton and rather than keep him here or send him to the infirmary the trustees decided to send him back to the place from where he started.

HOW TO BUY A BOND

Secretary Gage Sends Out Some Information.

SOLD AT PAR UNTIL JULY 14

Blank Forms Can Be Obtained at Any Money Order Postoffice and at Banks. The Subscription Draws Interest From the Time It Is Received.

The determination of the government to issue to $200,000,000 of 3 per cent bonds has awakened the interest of people who have money to invest, and in order that there be less mistakes Secretary Gage has sent out a circular letter containing a vast amount of information.

Subscriptions will be received at par until 3 o'clock on the afternoon of July 14, the bonds being issued in coupon and registered form, coupon bonds in the denominations of $20, $100, $500, $1,000, and registered $20, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000. The interest is payable annually. Those who come first will be first served, but individuals have the preference. All subscriptions of $500 or less will be allotted in full when received, but over that amount the subscriber must wait until after the subscription closes.

The method of subscription has been made as simple as possible. Blank forms may be obtained at every money order postoffice, and at most of the banks and express offices, and on these forms is clearly indicated all that it is necessary for the subscriber to fill out. The subscriber may himself mail to the treasury department at Washington the blank form filled out, together with his remittance covering the par value of the amount of bonds for which he wishes to subscribe. That remittance may be in whatever form best suits the subscriber's convenience—in currency, bank draft, check, postoffice money order, or express money order. The day the currency is received, or the day the proceeds are received from the checks, drafts, or money orders, the subscription will be entered and will immediately begin drawing interest. When the bonds are delivered, a check will accompany each delivery covering the interest at 3 per cent from the day the subscription is entered to the first of August, the date of the bonds, and from which date the bonds will carry their own interest.

DOCTOR EWING, OF INDIA,

Was Elected President of Wooster University.

The principal business was the election of a president, and the matter was carefully discussed all of Tuesday afternoon. Yesterday the vote was taken and Dr. J. C. Ewing, of Lahor, India, was elected. A committee was appointed to learn his desires in the matter.

Another important matter was the acceptance of a handsome gift from Captain Kaulk, a member of the board, who presented his home residence to the university. It is situated three squares from the main building and is valued at $25,000. The property will be used by the musical department.

Professor Rayman could not remain for commencement, but was made one of the judges in the junior oratorical contest.

A young woman from India won first place.

GOOD LITERATURE

Will Be Provided Soldiers if Plans Materialize.

Inquiries have been made recently at the state library in regard to what could be done in the way of sending literature to the Ohio soldiers now at the front. The library commission of Wisconsin has done something in this line, but not at the expense of the state. It is possible that the Ohio state library may send some of its traveling libraries to Ohio regiments. Transportation, however, will cost so much that this plan may not prove feasible.

William H. Brett, librarian of the Cleveland public library, has taken considerable interest in this matter. He and State Librarian Galbreath are at present in correspondence with Secretary Alger about certain plans aiming to this end.

It is a fact beyond dispute that we sell the best $11 and $12 men's spring suits of this season's make for $7.75.

THE DANGER OF BEAUTY.

I never read the papers without feeling so content That both my eyes are twisted and my nose is slightly bent. I'm glad my mouth is out of line and that my teeth are few, And if I had a "wealth of hair" I don't know what I'd do.

A "tiny foot" or "lily hand" would fill me with dismay, And if I had a slender waist I'd sicken in a day. For I have noticed from the first, as strange as it may seem, The girl who gets the worst of it is "lovely as a dream."

The papers never tell about a woman being shot, Or mangled by a trolley car, or married to a sot, Or forced at point of pistol her last fifty cents to lose, But that her eyes are "limpid" and her boots are number twos.

So I can live in sweet content, without the slightest fear That trouble or calamity will ever hover near, And when I see my misfit face it's some relief to know That I'll outlive the beauties by a hundred years or so!

MAKE THE MEN MARKET.

A Woman Writer's Bold Suggestion to Help Weary Wives.

There are few things that exhaust a woman more than a day's shopping. The average man looks upon a woman's "purchasing day" as one of pleasure, but when he accompanies her on one of these shopping expeditions he goes home, after his patience has been all exhausted, with a different belief. He learns, too, that a woman can endure vexations and disappointments with much more equanimity than he can, and he mentally vows never to do it again.

The number of miles traversed is really what tires one, and it is little wonder that the woman who does the shopping for herself and her entire family, as well as the marketing and the bargaining with the "butcher and baker and candlestick maker," should feel the need of rest for her tired nerves.

The man of the house should always do the marketing. In the old days, when the butler was not the stately personage he is now, women were never troubled with the worries of household purchasing, for the head of the house did the entire buying, and "James" carried the parcels and was not ashamed to do it.

No mother who has the care of little children should give the precious morning hours to anything else but the nursery, nor should she let butchers' and grocers' boys call for and deliver orders, because there is sure to be dissatisfaction if she does. Some wealthy families allow their chef to take charge of the household, and he collects a large percentage from the tradesmen, which, of course, is added to the monthly bill. Reputable storekeepers will not do this kind of business, however, and the chef "patronage" is controlled entirely by a few men. On the whole, it is much more satisfactory for the man of the house to do the marketing. He will get the best meat, have his orders promptly attended to and save about 25 per cent in the transaction, as well as the health of his wife.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Geological Deductions.

Geology was once defined by Lord Salisbury as "the science of the what might have been." Some American geologists prefer to regard it as the science of the what may be. Pictures have often been drawn of the destruction of Toronto and the devastation of southern Ontario and Quebec by a flood let loose when the great lakes are emptied owing to the continued recession of Niagara falls.

Professor G. K. Gilbert now tells us that long before this disaster is due Niagara will have been destroyed by other processes. Some slow changes of level are now taking place over the whole lake region. The eastern outlet will be closed and the lakes drained by discharging from the southern end of Lake Michigan into the basin of the Mississippi. The change in the river system will begin in about 1,000 years' time. The evidence adduced by Professor Gilbert in support of this prophecy is of great interest, although only his preliminary report has yet been published.—Spectator.

Tobogganing in 1765.

It is interesting to note in Smollett's "Travels Through France and Italy" that when the novelist was making an excursion in March, 1765, from Nice across the Maritime Alps to Turin he descended the Piedmontese slope of the Col di Tenda toward Cuneo on a toboggan.

"Having reached the top of the mountain," he tells us in letter 38, "we prepared for descending on the other side by the leze, which is an occasional sledge made of two pieces of wood, carried up by the coulants (local guides) for the purpose. I did not much relish this kind of carriage, especially as the mountain was very steep and covered with such a thick fog that we could hardly see two or three yards before us. Nevertheless our guides were so confident and my companion, who had passed the same way on other occasions, so secure that I ventured to place myself on this machine, one of the coulants standing behind me and the other sitting before me as the conductor, with his feet paddling in the snow, in order to moderate the velocity of its

This is simply tobogganing used as a practical means of transit for travelers in the Alps.—Chambers' Journal.

Given as a Medicine.

A rebuke emphasized by a kindness is apt to be remembered. One day an officer walked into the office of one of the well known business men of the west.

"What do you want here?" he said to the officer.

"I've come to attach the wages of one of your men for a debt."

"Who is the man?"

The officer named him, and he was at once summoned to his employer's office.

"How long have you been in debt?" was the first question asked.

"Been behindhand for 20 years. I can't seem to catch up," said the man.

"But you have a good salary."

"I know it, but I can't get out of debt."

"You must get out, or you must leave here. How much do you owe?"

The whole was not much less than $1,000, but the employer immediately wrote his check for the amount, and said, as he handed it to the man:

It was what the doctors call "heroic treatment," and it not only astonished the man, but "revolutionized" him. He settled with his creditors, and then, by carefulness, kept out of debt.

Better than a genius for making money is the habit of paying as you go.—Youth's Companion.

Sailing on Fresh Water.

A Pittsburger who at one time served an enlistment on the United States steamship Michigan, a vessel of the United States navy which is stationed on the great lakes, tells a story of Charles V. Gridley, captain of the flag-ship Olympia, which led the fighting at Manila.

Young Gridley, shortly after graduation at the Naval academy, was ordered to the Michigan for duty. A few days after he had reported the commander ordered the usual boat drill, and the crew went through the process of abandoning the ship. When the cutter of which Gridley was in command had gone a mile or two away from the vessel, the young officer, who had never before sailed on fresh water, inquired sharply for the water cask, which he discovered had not been placed in the boat.

"What do you fellows do for drinking water when you are called away from the ship?" he asked the cockswain with some asperity.

"Sure, sir," replied that worthy, "we generally dip over the side."

Gridley had nothing more to say, but the joke has been in circulation ever since.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Battleship and Cruiser.

The difference between a battleship and an armored cruiser is technical, and experts have stumbled over the matter. A battleship is supposed to have heavier guns and armor and to be better fitted to withstand hard knocks from an opposing force. But this does not always hold good, as may be seen in the case of the Maine as compared with the Brooklyn. The Maine was a battleship, but she was not so large nor so heavily armored as the armored cruiser Brooklyn. On one point there seems to be no dispute, and that is the fact that the cruisers are faster than the battleships, and it is conceded also that in most instances the battleships are better protected.—New York Tribune.

A Weak Brother.

Penn had a very strong aversion to tobacco. Once he came unexpectedly upon some of the Friends who were enjoying the fragrant weed, but out of respect for their great leader they hid their pipes, which, however, still continued to emit smoke. Perceiving this, the governor said pleasantly, "Well, friends, I am glad to see that you are at last ashamed of your old practice."

"Not entirely so," replied one of the brethren, "but we preferred laying down our pipes to the danger of offending a weaker brother."—London Tit-Bits.

A Change of Opinion.

"There's a good deal of human nature in a puppy," remarked the philosopher, calmly watching Fido tearing his best hat to pieces. "Almost as destructive as one of my little nephews."

Mrs. Bouncer—Why, professor, don't you see he's got your hat!

The Professor—Thunder, so he has! I thought it was one of the boarders' hats. Take that, you whelp!—Boston Transcript.

Facts in the Case.

"My son has accepted a position in Judge Hobbs' office."

"Yes. I met him when he was running his legs off getting indorsements on his application for the job."—Cleveland Leader.

In certain parts of Norway when a person is drowned a cock is put in a boat, which is rowed about the scene of the disaster, the belief being that the bird will crow when the boat passes over the body.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE. COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. Good only during months named in lower left hand corner and when properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union-made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeited, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

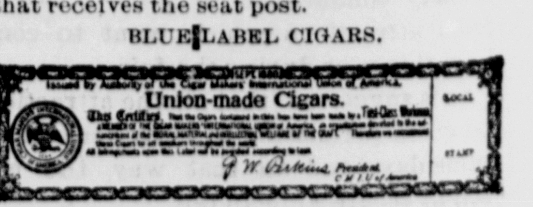

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of sea green, bordered by gold.

The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

TOBACCO LABEL.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size fac-simile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

GUYING THE RECRUITS

Soldiers at Camp Alger Receive Them In Form.

THE RELIC MAN FINDS VICTIMS

It's nice to be a bloody dub An' chained t' quarters here, Where tack an' slush is all the rub An' girls are scarce as beer. We like these things, of course, A little bit, bit, bit; But Dewey like this hardtack, Nixey, nit, nit, nit.

—A Camp Lay.

CAMP ALGER, June 15.—[Special].—The arrival of recruits for the Eighth gives the soldiers opportunities to test their lungs and detracts somewhat from the routine of camp life. No one could expect the boys who have seen service, in camp if not on the battlefield, to receive these well dressed young men who march so close together and seem to be looking everywhere but at the soldier in charge, without some appropriate ceremony. Now the camp is too big for one ceremony, so each company greets its own, and for several days there has been fun.

When the Akron boys came in they looked hungry and weary, but they were at once put to work. When supper time arrived each man was given a piece of that interesting portion of a fat pig commonly known as side meat, a spoonful of beans and one hard tack. Their looks betokened their surprise, but the cook informed them in all earnestness that it was considered a good meal. The hungry recruits attacked the lunch with vigor, and after it had disappeared and the boys had enjoyed their laugh they were given a square meal which brought forth many expressions of satisfaction. Crowds are out to meet each squad of recruits, and the air is filled with such encouraging remarks as "Your ma won't know you in a few days;" "Oh, but you'll be sorry soon;" "You had a good home and you left it." The recruits smile a weary smile, but take it like the men they all appear to be.

The fakir who sells relics is reaping a harvest, and some soldiers are being nicely taken in. Old bayonets, cannon balls and bombs, some of the latter unexploded and dangerous, command fancy prices. One of our boys purchased a rusty sword which the dealer declared had been worn by General Jubal Early, for $3. There was some suspicion at the time, and investigation showed it was a sword such as the Knights of Pythias wear and manufactured long after Jubal Early ceased to need a weapon of that kind. Another victim paid a fancy price for a chair rung warranted to have been a part of the chair on which General Lee sat the day he signed the papers of capitulation at Appomattox.

Almost every branch of business has appeared since we came here. The road leading to camp is lined with stands where the druggist, dentist, physician, tailor, photographer, baker, shoe dealer and refreshment man stands ready to take what little money the soldier happens to have.

Two of our boys have each been fined $3 and given three days' fatigue duty for being absent without leave. The Eighth always has its representatives at courtmartial, but the offenses are light and the punishment is usually made to fit the crime.

The health of the Eighth is good, but a little illness and that is the result of vaccination.

TRUMP.

GOLD FROM SEA WATER.

New York assay office officials were somewhat astonished recently by the receipt of 13 cones of bullion, 2 inches in diameter and 1½ high, from a concern on the coast of Maine, which were alleged to have been obtained by a new process from sea water.

In a letter from the president of the company it was stated that the cones contained gold and silver in the proportion of one-third gold and two-thirds silver, and it was asked that the assay office enter the cones for assay, returning the proceeds of the gold in cash and the silver in a brick by express. The cones contain 92 ounces.

Scientists have known for many years that sea water contained precious metals. Dr. Henry Wurtz of New York 30 years ago demonstrated the existence of gold and silver in the waters of the ocean and announced his discoveries to the American Association For the Advancement of Science.

Considerable was said recently about the formation of a company in New England, with a capital stock of $50,000, for the purpose of tapping the wealth of the deep by an alleged new and magical process, but the enterprise has been looked upon with a little suspicion. To guard against publicity the works of the company on the coast of Maine are carefully shut off from public view, and all that inquisitive persons are allowed to see are the brand new cones and bricks that are brought out from time to time to dazzle their eyes. —New York Herald.

CONDENSED MILK TRUST.

How One Was Broken Up In Circle City With a Rope.

Mrs. William Joy of Scranton, Pa., recently received a letter from her son, William C. Joy, who writes from Circle City.

"I wish that a few of the trust magnates would come here and see how we deal with gentlemen who try to get corners on food products.

"Three months ago I was visiting a new camp on the Stuart river. There were four places where provisions could be purchased at exorbitant prices. The camp was very small, and these traders had arranged with a few miners who were in the job to gather practically all the condensed milk. The boys did not get on to the scheme until their own supplies of condensed milk ran out. Then they found that all that was left in the camp was owned by one man, who had secured it by previous arrangement with the others and had raised the price 200 per cent.

"Well, they simply called a miners' meeting and sent a committee to the trust promoter, telling him that all the condensed milk was to be divided among the prospectors at the old price. He refused, of course, saying that he would take no bluff.

"The committee waited five minutes for the man to change his mind and then returned with a rope. That settled it, and the condensed milk was divided pro rata." —New York World.

Monster's Bones Found.

Men employed making an excavation for a cellar on the farm of William Ax, near Shreve, Wayne county, O., found a portion of an animal that in life must have been a monster. Though there were only a front leg and the better part of the jaw, the mass weighed 123 pounds. Several of the teeth were weighed and found to average from one to two pounds. The kneecap weighed four and a half pounds and was as large as a dinner plate. The part of the jaw was 28 inches in length and over 5 inches wide. The jaw must have been at least ten inches longer. The teeth were very solid. The bones have been examined by a number of scientists, but as yet no one has been able to tell as to what animal or age they belonged. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

BOYLE'S FLOUR GOLD.

HIS LEGS ABSORBED THE METAL FROM THE YUKON'S WATER.

Limbs Lost Their Power—By Mercurial Treatment and a Turkish Bath a Doctor Extracted Gold From Boyle's Body Worth $270—His Mind Was Affected.

Superintendent Woodson of Missouri State Lunatic asylum, No. 2, recently received into the institution for treatment a patient whose case is without precedent in medical annals.

Abe Boyle went to Alaska in the summer of 1896 and was one of the first to set out for the Klondike diggings. His claim was one of the few from which the nuggets and coarse gold had to a considerable extent been carried lower down the creek, while the washing from above left the gravel heavily impregnated with what is known as "flour gold." This is the finest form taken on by the yellow metal, which in that shape manifests its presence in the sands of all the Rocky mountain plateaus and even in the waters of the Pacific ocean, into which it is carried by the streams heading westward from the great continental divide. There is no known method of saving flour gold, which will escape over the quicksilver plates of a stamp mill in spite of all efforts to capture it.

Boyle, during the summer of 1897, was much of the time immersed to the waist in the waters of the Yukon. Being in the water constantly, his body seems to have accomplished what no invention of man has yet done, for through the pores of the skin there was absorbed an incredible quantity of flour gold.

He was seized with what he thought was rheumatism, but kept on with his work until his limbs became unmanageable. It was as if ossification, if not petrification, had set in. This condition gradually spread upward, and he lost his appetite and eventually became insane. There being no physician in the camp capable of handling the case, he was sent back to the United States in charge of a friend, who kept him for several months at his old home in Lander, Wy. His condition did not improve, and he was finally taken to Laramie, Wyo., where Dr. William H. Harris, one of the most noted practitioners in the west, thought he had located the source of his trouble and resolved upon an experiment to test the correctness of his theory.

In a Turkish bath house Boyle was submitted for a week to a treatment in which the medicine administered consisted largely of mercury. Then he was given a thorough Turkish bath. His chair in the sweating room was placed in a shallow basin of zinc, so that the perspiration that poured down from his body would all be retained. He was afterward rushed through the remaining features of the bath and put to bed. When he awoke, he was found to have entirely recovered from the hitherto unaccountable stiffness of his limbs, his flesh being soft and pliable as an infant's, though his mind was still affected. The next thing done was to examine the contents of the zinc basin in the sweating room. An assay of its contents showed that the mercury, administered in the form of pills, had passed off through the open pores of the skin, carrying with it the flour gold with which Boyle's body had been saturated. An assay by Superintendent M. A. Grant of the Keystone mine showed that the value of the flour gold drawn from Boyle's body by means of mercury approximated $270.

The effects of the treatment upon the mind were something the physicians did not care to experiment with, so Boyle was sent to the asylum in St. Joseph, Mo. He is now apparently in the best of health physically, and Superintendent Woodson believes he will soon regain his reason. —New York Journal.

Converted by a Handshake.

The bishop had gone to Beattyville, and the place was rough and desolate. A rough looking man came up to him.

"They tell me you're from Virginia," said the man.

"Yes."

"They tell me you fought with the rebels."

"Yes."

"Give me your hand, pard. My name's Bill Dolan, an I'm a blacksmith down here."

"Bill," said the bishop, "I'm proud to meet you."

That night Bill Dolan went to the service and heard the bishop preach, and he went afterward too.

Twelve years later the bishop went to Beattyville once more. It was sun set. He was met by the town's clergyman. "Bishop, Bill Dolan died yesterday, and before he died I baptized him," said the minister. "In his last words he told me to tell the bishop that he loved him."

"That," said the bishop, "was indeed a compensation!" —Louisville Courier-Journal.

TO THE ADVERTISERS.

The Evening News Review has the largest bonafide PAID daily circulation of any paper published in East Liverpool, and the largest circulation in Wellsville of any daily paper published in East Liverpool. Keen witted and wide awake business men and advertisers will make note of these facts.

HARRY PALMER,
Owner and Manager.

TO BUSINESS MEN.

The combination prices of the NEWS REVIEW, advertisement in paper and bills from said advertisement, are cheaper than any other daily paper in the city, while the workmanship, material and inks made use of are incomparably superior to those of would-be competitors. Test the matter. We will prove the truth of our assertion.

Printed envelopes, either 6 or 8 1/2 in size, at the NEWS REVIEW, from 95 cents per thousand up, according to quality. We defy competition in workmanship or material.
